Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 22. [To the Editor of The Times:] A right brand new Senator from North Carolina named Morrison jumped up before he had even been in the place long enough to talk over prices and deliveries for his Christmas stuff with the other Senators. They have an unwritten law there that a new member is not allowed to say anything when he first gets in, and another written law that whatever he says afterwards is not to amount to anything. Another Senator was denouncing a great friend of Morrison's from his own State, and Morrison defended him. He didn't know that denouncing was a Senator's life's work. He took it serious.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Census Shows 68,955,521 of Nation's Population Live in Towns

Increase Over Country Due Somewhat to Change in Classification

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—The Census Bureau today announced the urban population of the United States as 68,955,521 and rural population as 53,819,525.

The 1930 urban population represents 56.2 per cent of the total population, 122,775,046.

In 1920 the urban population formed but 51.4 per cent of the total.

The Census Bureau defined urban population as including all cities and other incorporated places having 2500 inhabitants or more.

The Census Bureau this year extended its definition of urban population to include besides cities of 2500 or more, townships and other incorporated places which have a total population of 10,000 or more

RIOT BREAKS IN MONACO

Prince Guarded by Troops

Populace Vents Spleen Due to Ruler's Gay Life Outside Realm

Sharp Drop in Gambling at Monte Carlo Cause of Tax Fears

MONTE CARLO (Monaco) Dec. 22. (AP)—Half of Monaco's 100 man-power army was camped tonight at the foot of the long, wide flight of steps leading to the castle of Prince Louis to prevent the recurrence of rioting and hostile manifestations which marked the arrival today of the reigning Prince in his principality.

The bayonets affixed to their rifles, stacked ready for use, proclaimed the population's state of mind had reached a point where the present troubles no longer could be treated as comic opera revolution.

MANY ARRESTED

Today's rioting was not particularly violent, but it was noisy and it yielded a big crop of prisoners, most of whom were released later. The prisoners still in jail tonight, however, warned the manifestation was intended to give notice to the Prince he must attend more closely to the business of his realm and spend less time in Paris and other points outside Monaco.

They said no bodily harm to the ruler was intended.

How many were arrested in the free-for-all at the Monte Carlo station when the Prince's train pulled in was not announced, but eyewitnesses saw at least twenty carried or dragged away during the clashes between the populace and the police.

DOZEN INJURED

The manifestation was carefully planned. Several hundred men gathered quietly in side streets close to the station, while the police, reinforced by a line of school children, protected the main thoroughfare. Then when the train came in the populace rushed from all directions, overwhelming the guards. A dozen fights were on. Those who didn't use their fists used their voices.

More than a dozen persons were injured. The police finally got the Prince to his palace and restored order.

The active manifestants were not more than 300, but everybody in the principality appeared to have known about the plans, because a crowd of 7000 spectators was on hand to see the show when the train pulled in. Eugene Marquet, former President of the National Council, recently deposed by Prince Louis until he cleared himself of charges growing out of the recent failure of a real estate firm, was nowhere in evidence, but police declared his supporters made up the majority of the manifestants.

GAMBLING DROPS

M. Marquet told correspondents tonight the manifestation was a "spontaneous expression of the population's dissatisfaction."

Trouble has been brewing in Monaco for months since the dissolution last summer of the two legislative councils. Many residents have charged the Prince has neglected the affairs of the country.

Wealthy gamblers are at a premium this year, since the world economic crisis has struck Monte Carlo and the little marble no longer jiggles around the roulette wheels. A bet of 40 cents appears to be both the maximum and minimum limit these days.

As a result the free and easy life to which the citizens of the principality were accustomed when money flowed freely from the casino's strong boxes into the coffers of the municipal council is ended, and the citizens are being threatened with having to pay taxes. This has never happened before, because the visitors always paid the bills.

BOY AND HIS TINY SISTER DIE IN FIRE

Children Burn as Blaze Caused by Lamp Blast Razes Their Home

SANTA PAULA, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—While their parents and neighbors rushed again and again toward the flaming structure, hoping to save them, two small children burned to death this evening in the frame dwelling that was their home.

The victims, Lala, 4 years of age, and Aurelia, 2, were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Medina of 1150 Harvard Boulevard.

Lala, the boy, managed to get out of bed when the sudden conflagration caused by an exploding oil lamp filled the structure with smoke and flame. But he didn't get very far, his body being found on the floor only a few feet away, with the head toward a window.

Aurelia died in her bed.

The two had been put to bed by their parents at 7:30 while Mr. and Mrs. Medina went to visit neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Andra Gonzales, living in a house in front of that of the Medinas. An oil lamp had been left in a room adjoining that occupied by the children, so they would not be frightened by the darkness. In some way this exploded, the firemen believe.

Oakland Girl Declares Employer Kidnaped and Forced Her to Wed

OAKLAND, Dec. 22. Miss Williams, who has been Benner's secretary for the past seven years, said:

"When I threatened to jump out he told me he would drive over a cliff and kill himself unless I went with him and married him. So I consented."

Benner refused comment and the bride's parents were reticent but said they will seek to annul the marriage.

LAW BOARD NOT TO ACT IN BOMBING

Plea for Inquiry Into Mooney Case Rejected by Wickersham Commission

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—The Law Enforcement Commission does not intend to investigate the case of Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings, serving life sentences in California on conviction in the San Francisco Preparedness Day parade bombing in 1916.

In a statement issued by the commission, Chairman Wickersham today said "It is beyond the province of this commission to investigate individual cases with a view to making recommendations as to their disposition, particularly in State courts, for the reason, among others, that the commission has no power to examine witnesses or redetermine facts."

The statement said, however, "at a meeting of the commission held November 24, 1930, some correspondence regarding the desire of certain people to have this commission consider and make some recommendations regarding the Mooney case was brought to the attention of the commission."

It was argued at commission headquarters if such cases were to be considered the commission would be flooded with other requests and it would have no means of properly weighing and evaluating evidence in them.

Oklahoma Blaze Snuffed Out After Master Gate Shuts Off Flow

WEWOKA (Okla.) Dec. 22. (AP) The burning No. 2 Douglas wild oil and gas well near here which for three days defied attempts to extinguish its flames, was completely conquered tonight when the flow of an estimated 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas and 1000 barrels of oil daily was shut in with a master gate. The blaze was snuffed out a few hours earlier with a forty-five-pound shot of nitro-gelatin.

The giant torch that had lighted the countryside for miles was shot out on the third attempt by M. W. Kinley and Harry Kinley, firefighters of Tulsa, with the charge of nitro-gelatin.

The heavy master gate was lowered to the casing late tonight and screwed down.

BEESEMYER ENTERS PLEA OF GUILTY TO THEFT

Embezzler Faces Term of Ten to 140 Years in Penitentiary; Sentencing to Be Friday

Gilbert H. Beesemyer, who plundered the Guaranty Building and Loan Association of more than $8,000,000 and wrecked the organization, late yesterday afternoon appeared before Superior Judge Wood and pleaded guilty to ten counts of grand theft. He will be sentenced Friday morning.

Standing before Judge Wood flanked by Le Compte Davis, his attorney, and a court bailiff, Beesemyer displayed no nervousness as he asked permission to withdraw a former plea of not guilty and announced that he wished to substitute one of guilty to all counts.

Then, leaning with one arm on the clerk's desk, Beesemyer intoned "guilty" as Dep. Dist.-Atty. Harold Jones read off each of the ten counts and through Attorney Davis asked to waive time and be sentenced at once. There were almost no spectators in the courtroom besides a score of newspaper men. Dist.-Atty. Fitts, Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon were interested observers.

SENTENCING DEFERRED

"This court must have the usual time between the plea and the sentence," announced Judge Wood when Davis requested sentence. "I am going to request the District Attorney to file with this court the information due in cases of this nature. The court will fix time for sentence next Friday at 10 a.m."

Then Beesemyer was led through the prisoner's waiting room back to his cell in the County Jail.

With the penalty fixed by law (one to fourteen years on each count,) Beesemyer, if all counts run consecutively, will face a minimum of ten years and a maximum of 140 years in the State prison. On the other hand, it was pointed out yesterday that it is within the power of the court to assign as many of the counts concurrently as the court desires.

Questioned in court regarding his sudden change of front, Beesemyer declined to answer any questions and pointed to Davis.

"He is my lawyer and will make all necessary announcements," declared the prisoner.

ACTION EXPLAINED

"We never intended to fight this case," declared Davis after court. "Beesemyer had only one thought in mind and that was to be of what assistance he could to the company he wrecked. It was the appointment by the Federal court of a receiver and a committee to look after the Guaranty Building and Loan Association affairs that decided my client to change his plea at this time. We believe that no better men in the community could have been selected for this difficult job. Now my client only wants to assist that committee and the receiver in every way possible."

After sentence Friday morning Beesemyer, through Davis, will ask for a stay of execution for five days, according to an announcement last night, and then will go to prison ready, according to Davis, to return to Los Angeles and assist the receiver if his services are desired.

"A stay of five days will enable Beesemyer to clear up his personal business," declared Davis, "and answer any questions necessary for the receiver. After that he wants to be taken north so that his sentence will begin to count, always ready to return to Los Angeles to be of any help possible."

FITTS TELLS PLANS

With the plea of guilty it is probable that no new counts will be filed against Beesemyer by the District Attorney or the grand jury, it became known in the Hall of Justice last night.

"We have ready 100 new felony counts against Beesemyer and had planned to present them to the grand jury tomorrow," declared Fitts after the brief court session. "At present, however, and in view of this plea of guilty they will probably not be presented. Under his plea Beesemyer now has a maxi-

Army Doctor Husband Weeps at Jury's Verdict That He Killed ex-Angeleno

Physician Retains Freedom on $25,000 Bail Until Sentencing Date

KANSAS CITY (Kan.) Dec. 22. (AP)—A Federal court jury today found Maj. Charles A. Shepard, 59-year-old army specialist in pulmonary diseases, guilty of the poison murder of his second wife, Zenana, and recommended life imprisonment.

The physician, whose love affair with Miss Grace Brandon, stenographer of Brooks Field, San Antonio, Tex., had been bared during the long trial and asserted as the motive for the crime charged, wept silently when he heard the verdict.

His composure regained, he said he was surprised at the verdict, adding: "I am absolutely innocent and this case will eventually be thrown out of court."

SEEK NEW TRIAL

C. L. Kagey of defense counsel said he would move for retrial listing thirty to forty citations of error. If a new trial is not ordered, he said, he will appeal the case.

"The verdict," said Kagey, "was apparently a compromise. If Maj. Shepard actually murdered his wife, he should be hanged for it." To this the major nodded assent.

The major, court officials said, will remain at liberty under his $25,000 bond until February 2, when he will be sentenced at Topeka, Kan., unless legal action intervenes. He planned to leave tomorrow for Denver to report for duty at Fitzsimmons General Army Hospital.

SLOW-ACTING POISON

In the trial of Maj. Shepard, which drew daily a jam of spectators, the government asserted the physician had planned carefully to remove his wife by a slow-acting poison which would make her illness appear natural. His purpose, it charged, was to gain his freedom so he might marry Miss Brandon, a prosecution witness.

It produced witnesses who said examination of the viscera of Mrs. Shepard, at an autopsy objected to by the major, had shown death was caused by mercury poisoning. It brought forth others to reveal the major had withdrawn large quantities of the drug from the dispensary at Fort Riley, Kan., where he was stationed when Mrs. Shepard died June 15, 1929.

WRIGLEY TO DIRECT HOTEL

Magnate Brings Foreclosure Action to Gain Control of Arizona Biltmore Properties

PHOENIX, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—A foreclosure suit involving $1,500,000, preliminary to the actual taking over and operation of the Arizona Biltmore Hotel here, was filed in Federal court today by William Wrigley, Jr.

The action names as defendants the John R. Gage Development Company, the Arizona Biltmore Hotel Corporation and six John Does. It seeks a repayment of debts, partly represented by mortgage on the hotel property, and a considerable acreage of land. The suit states that $500,000 has been advanced to the hotel project by Mr. Wrigley since last March.

Announcement that Mr. Wrigley will undertake direction of the hotel properties here and take an even more dominant position in development of the Pacific Southwest as the nation's winter playground, came from James A. Gibson, Jr., of the law firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, his counsel.

It was revealed through the foreclosure suit that Mr. Wrigley already has invested upward of $2,000,000 in the Arizona Biltmore and is now prepared to get behind the undertaking here in the same spirit that prompted him in the development of Catalina Island.

Mr. Wrigley has constructed on property near the hotel a residence costing in excess of $200,000. His son, Philip K., has also put up a residence near the hotel.

Discussing the Wrigley plan, Mr. Gibson said:

"The filing of the bill of foreclosure is the culmination of the efforts of William Wrigley, Jr., to complete the financing of the Arizona Biltmore project and to bring it to its present high state of beauty and efficiency as a winter resort hotel. Mr. Wrigley believes in the future of Phoenix, as is evidenced by the fact that he has put into the project upward of $2,000,000 in the past two years. When he was approached originally by the officers of the company, the company was without funds to complete or furnish the hotel building, which also was without an adequate water supply. It was a case of abandoning the project and turning it over to the first mortgage bondholders or securing from Mr. Wrigley the considerable amounts necessary to complete the project and operate it. His financing, which has included also the payment of interest and sinking fund on the first mortgage bonds in the hands of investors which the company has been unable to meet, is responsible for the present development.

"The bringing of the foreclosure suit has no relation to the $1,000,000 principal amount of the bonds which are outstanding against the property, but Mr. Wrigley's action has become legally necessary, on account of the inability and repeated failures of the company to pay principal maturing and interest on its obligations, to protect the large investment he has made in the project."

mum of 140 years and a minimum of ten to serve.

"This does not mean," Fitts declared, "that the investigation of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association failure will be halted. We are going to give every detail of the mess to the grand jury and testimony will probably continue for several days. It is the desire of this office to learn if anyone else was involved in this failure and if we find that others had a hand in looting the company or made a personal gain from the funds stolen from the depositors, action will follow."

SUDDEN DECISION

The decision by Beesemyer to change his plea came suddenly late yesterday afternoon. Davis, following a brief conference with Beesemyer, held a second one with Fitts and Stewart and then word went to Judge Wood that Beesemyer desired to appear in court. At just 4 p.m., Beesemyer, in the custody of a court bailiff, appeared in court and ten minutes later had entered his new plea.

As Beesemyer walked into court he had a smile on his face and greeted a number of newspaper men with a curt "hello." He posed for a number of pictures and then Judge Wood took the bench. Turning to his attorney after the plea, Beesemyer asked to have his wife taken to the County Jail today and then was taken back to his cell.

Beesemyer's plea of guilty, although sudden, came as no surprise last night, as he maintained from the day of his arrest that he did not intend to fight the case. Last Friday morning he entered a plea of not guilty to all counts, but at the time through his attorney indicated that he would withdraw it in favor of a guilty plea at a later date.

QUIZ WILL CONTINUE

Today, according to the present schedule of the grand jury, a dozen or so witnesses connected with the Beesemyer case will be called to give their versions of the collapse of the Guaranty Association.

C. C. Barnes, examiner for the State Building and Loan Commission, who had active charge of the examination of the wrecked company, will complete his testimony. He has already been on the witness stand for several hours.

State Building and Loan Commissioner Whitmore, according to Chief Deputy Stewart, also will testify and he probably will be followed by George Walker of San Francisco, former commissioner. Miss Mary Wilmer, former secretary of Beesemyer; Ethel Flanigan, head bookkeeper at the Guaranty Association and a number of others also will testify.

Earl N. Moore, vice-president and general manager of the Elmer Oil Company, a Beesemyer promotion with money embezzled from the building and loan association, also is scheduled to give his account of the oil company, which spent more than $2,000,000 of the money taken by Beesemyer. Moore probably will be questioned in the District Attorney's office before he is taken to the grand jury room.

BANK ORDERED LIQUIDATED

Receiver Put in Charge of Hollywood Institution After Plans for Reorganization Fail

State Superintendent of Banks Wood yesterday announced his decision to liquidate the Bank of Hollywood, which he took over on the 8th inst., and the appointment of M. M. Ewing, for the last year and one-half in charge of the liquidation of the Pan-American Bank, as liquidator.

The State official made his announcement after a busy day of conferences with officials of the bank relative to possible plans for the institution's reorganization, but, he said, no feasible plan for reorganization was presented.

Supt. Wood said he decided to put the bank in liquidation to protect the assets of the bank and only after he had exhausted every reasonable means to work out a reorganization.

"I am turning my attention now," he said, "to an attempt to make some of their funds available to the depositors at the earliest possible moment. I shall announce the result of my efforts along this line within the next week.

CONDITIONS SOUND

"My coming to Los Angeles," he continued, "was due to the need of passing finally on the question of reorganization. While I am here, however, I wish to say that the people of California have reason to be proud of their banking institutions. Banking conditions generally in California are as sound and wholesome as they have ever been.

"Now that recent developments in which the Bank of Hollywood was concerned have run their full course we realize that they constitute but a passing phase and can turn our thoughts and efforts to things constructive."

In announcing the naming of Ewing as liquidator, Wood took occasion to state that Ewing has made a remarkable record in the liquidation of the Pan-American Bank.

SLIGHT LOSSES

"I have no doubt," he said, "that he will be as successful in his handling of the Bank of Hollywood."

Supt. Wood declared that the depositors will lose little. This, he declared, is his very distinct impression.

An advertisement for claimants to present their claims to the liquidator will be published as soon as possible, Wood said. He pointed out that no dividend on the claims can be paid for a period of three months after the printing of such advertisements.

"I would have liked to work out a plan that would enable us to give cheerful news by Christmas time," said Wood.

Wood said that the immediate task before the banking department is to find some one to buy the assets of the bank.

STOCK PLEDGED

During the morning Wood met with G. R. Dexter, president of the bank; Samuel Kress, vice-president and director, and Harlan G. Palmer. Following the conference, Wood said that the plans for reorganization of the bank were indefinite. He said at that time that one of the obstacles to quick action was the fact that Gilbert H. Beesemyer, chairman of the board of the bank and head of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association, had pledged bank stock, of which he owned a controlling interest, for loans to various parties.

Beesemyer subsequently assigned his equity in the stock to the Guaranty concern. Wood said that an assignment would be necessary from the Guaranty receiver.

Wood left last night for San Francisco to prepare for his retirement from office on January 6.

Porto Rico Dry Ruling Reversed

SAN JUAN (Porto Rico) Dec. 22. (AP)—Porto Rican insular authorities may not prosecute for violation of the Volstead Act, the Supreme Court decided by a 3-to-2 decision today, thus leaving the burden of prohibition enforcement to Federal authorities.

The decision reverses one handed down by the Supreme Court some time ago, upholding the law placing Porto Rican magistrates and courts on an equal basis with United States Federal courts in trying cases involving violation of the prohibition act.

BENJAMIN LINKED TO G.O.P. POST

Californian's Name Goes on National Headquarters Door at Washington

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—Ray Benjamin's name was placed on an office door at Republican national headquarters today, but there was still no official explanation of the status the well-known California lawyer, a close friend of President Hoover, will occupy in Republican national politics.

Senator Fess, chairman of the committee, indicated there has been no decision as to what title Mr. Benjamin will hold, if any. In other quarters it was said that the Californian will operate without title as sort of liaison officer between the national committee and the White House.

But at any rate Benjamin has joined the forces of the national committee and it is expected here he will assume a constantly growing part in the campaign for the renomination and re-election of President Hoover. Benjamin has established a Washington residence and it is understood he will move his law business here.

Reports that he is destined eventually to succeed Senator Fess as chairman of the Republican National Committee were denied again at the White House today. It was stated informally that there is no intention of Mr. Benjamin having a permanent post with the committee.

KEMP SELECTS LAWYER AIDES

O'Melveny, Tuller & Myers Concern Chosen

Confirmation of Court May Be Given Today

Salvage of Beesemyer Wreck to Be Prime Object

Henry W. O'Melveny, Louis W. Myers, formerly Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court, and Walter K. Tuller of O'Melveny, Tuller & Myers, yesterday entered the group of leading Angelenos which is to salvage what it can for depositors out of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association, wrecked by the admitted defalcations of Gilbert H. Beesemyer.

United States District Judge Cosgrave, who on Saturday announced that he will appoint A. N. Kemp, formerly executive vice-president of the California Bank, as equity receiver for the plundered association, conferred with Kemp, Myers and Tuller yesterday, and in the end the two attorneys were charged with preparing the receivership order. It is to be signed by the judge today; the receiver will file bond, understood to be about $250,000, and will request confirmation of his selection of attorneys to advise him.

PREFERENCE SHOWN

Yesterday's conferences indicated that O'Melveny, Tuller and Myers are the attorneys desired by Kemp, who later admitted that today he will request the court to confirm them in that capacity. The judge's charging of them yesterday to prepare the order for signing today was taken to forecast confirmation.

"I wish in this matter," Kemp said, "to be advised by attorneys outstanding in the community as men of the highest character and ability. The men of this firm are recognised as such and their very names carry confidence."

State Building and Loan Commissioner Whitmore, who closed the association when Beesemyer admitted looting it of about $8,000,000, already has indicated that he and Examiner Shaw, whom he placed in charge of the institution, will turn over the association to Kemp.

APPROVAL TO BE SOUGHT

It is understood that the Federal group, in which are also nine prominent citizens named Saturday by Judge Cosgrave to act as citizen advisers to Kemp, will request approval, or some sort of expression, from officers of the wrecked institution concerning their attitude toward the plan of procedure.

Formal taking charge of the association by the Federal group will occur, it is understood, immediately after Superior Judge Doran of the State court acts on Whitmore's petition for approval of his taking over the institution. The petition was filed last week to confirm his action. Judge Doran is scheduled to act on the petition this morning. Action may come in the form of dismissal of the case, now that the situation has passed from State to Federal control.

PROGRESS IN PEACE CITED BY KELLOGG

Nobel Prize Winner Back From Europe With Faith in War's Decline

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State, World Court justice, coauthor of the pact of Paris and Nobel prize winner, has faith this Christmas time that the world will continue its progress peacefully.

"No one is going to say there never will be another war," Mr. Kellogg said today, as he returned from The Hague with Mrs. Kellogg on the liner Bremen. "But I will say this. There never has been a time when the statesmen of the world have taken so many steps to settle their differences without war as at the present time.

"I don't think the present conditions in Europe indicate war at all, the responsible states of Europe are not talking about settling their problems by war."

One of the important problems confronting the world, Mr. Kellogg said, is land disarmament.

He said he did not think the Russian situation and the rumors of a great Red army in process of formation were militating against disarmament.

Vandegrift said the district was allowed $76,330 in the last budget, compared with $79,465 for the coming period plus about $14,000 for repairs and $145,000 for permanent improvements and special items. The district conducts the Los Angeles County Fair.

NEW POWER COMMISSION TAKES HOLD

Three of Five Appointees in First Meeting Assume Office and Tell Policy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Three of the five members of the reorganized Federal Power Commission were sworn in today and immediately assumed their offices as a quorum of the new commission, which replaces the one composed of the Secretaries of War, Interior and Agriculture.

Claude L. Draper of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Marcel Garsaud of New Orleans were sworn in with Dr. George Otis Smith, the chairman. Frank R. McNinch, Charlotte, N. C., and Ralph B. Williamson, of Yakima, Wash., were absent.

Harmony within its own ranks and in dealing with all State utility commissions will be one of the primary aims of the commission in its future policy, Dr. Smith said.

As for the controversial question of State or Federal water power control, he repeated his statement before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, that he favored Federal regulation of interstate traffic in power.

The States should rule within their borders where there are effective State regulatory commissions, he said.

'AFTER THE BALL' COMPOSER DIES

Charles K. Harris Passes at 65 Years of Age

Wrote Amazing Number of Popular Ballads

Famed Waltz Song Still Among Favorites

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (Exclusive) Charles K. Harris, the popular song writer whose tunes first set a nation humming and jigging in the '90's when he wrote "After the Ball," died tonight at his home, where he had been ill for three weeks. He was 65 years of age.

In late years Mr. Harris wrote no songs that caught the fancy as did his earlier ones. He was known as a music publisher. But even if he had never fashioned a tune after that evening in the early '90's, when he produced the graceful rhythm of "After the Ball," he would have been famous. He was not yet 30 years of age then, but he never wrote another song as popular as that one. In 1926 it was still selling at 5000 copies a year and persons who hardly knew its history counted it as a favorite.

Mr. Harris could neither read nor write music. But he had a good ear and boundless energy. His first song was published almost by accident, but its success was the spark to his amibtion and he worked hard for many years. His productiveness was amazing.

INVENTS KEY CHANGER

He picked out his tunes on an old piano, entirely by ear, while a friend transcribed and arranged the notes. For a long time he played only on the black keys, because he "got better music out of them." But after awhile he noticed the limitations of this method, so he devised a lever that he shifted to change his key.

Mr. Harris was born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on May 1, 1865, of Hebrew parentage. While he was still a boy he moved with his family to Saginaw, Mich. Here he used to sit on the fence between his father's tailor shop and the village hotel and watch variety entertainers rehearsing their acts. Here he caught the germ of the theater that never was out of his blood again. He sat on the fence with a banjo he made from an oyster can, a broom handle and some wires, and strummed. One of the actors he watched and worshiped saw the instrument one day and marveled at it. The next day he brought the boy an old banjo, a real one, and taught him the chords.

HANGS OUT SHINGLE

Charles practiced incessantly, knowing not a note of music but relying wholly on his ear, until he had learned a few tunes. When his family moved to Milwaukee, he began to capitalize his accomplishment. He hung out a shingle: "Prof. Charles K. Harris, teacher of banjo." He admitted afterward that he knew nothing about the banjo, but he had put his finger on the ambition of almost every boy "to make music" and his venture prospered.

HIS BALLADS SET WORLD SINGING

Charles K. Harris

When he was 16 his first love affair inspired his first song. The girl moved away and was married. Charles healed his disappointment by writing "Can Hearts So Soon Forget?" It was not published, however, until years later.

That same year he wrote "Thou Art Ever In My Thoughts." A publisher accepted it and the song appeared in sheet form. Young Harris started writing songs by the dozen. For five or six years he wrote rapidly. All of his pieces were of the ballad type which he favored, many of them with ten or fifteen verses.

"AFTER THE BALL"

At a ball in Chicago he saw a quarrel between two young people which was the inspiration of a lifetime. He went home and wrote "After the Ball."

After the ball is over
After the break of dawn,
After the dancers leaving
After the stars are gone;
Many a heart is aching,
If you could read them all;
Many the hopes that have vanished
After the ball.

He tried to sell it to various actors, but they all refused it because it had "too much story." Finally James Aldrich Libby consented to sing it at the Bijou Theater in Chicago. It was an instant success. Orders came in so fast that Mr. Harris had to borrow money to have it printed.

That ball in Chicago was indeed an important night in his life. There he met Miss Cora Lehrberg, whom he married in 1893. She survives with two daughters, Mrs. Richard Weil and Mildred Harris.

Mr. Harris thought jazz music was only a passing fad and pinned his faith in the ballad. Jazz, he said, was very well in its place; he liked to dance to it, but it had no melody and, therefore, could not live. It is true that hundreds of jazz songs came and went during the lifetime of "After the Ball" and "Just Break the News to Mother."

"Jazz is doomed," he said once. "Since the days of the troubadours it is the ballads, the songs which are pre-eminently melodious, that have come down to us through the ages, not the musical fad of the moment."

WRITES PHOTOPLAYS

Mr. Harris approved of Irving Berlin's ballads. He remembered when Mr. Berlin used to come to his office with lyrics and would be thrown out.

"Another chap I used to throw out of my office quite frequently was Jimmy Walker," Mr. Harris said once. "He kept hanging around."

At the suggestion of David Belasco, he wrote a photoplay of "After the Ball" which was refused by half a dozen studios because it had a scene picturing a den of crooks. The W. D. Steiner Photoplay Company finally took it and thereafter Mr. Harris wrote several photoplays at a fixed price of $5000 and several plays including "The Barker" and "The Heart of a Man."

Of his songs "Just Break the News to Mother," "Mid the Green Fields of Virginia," "I've a Longing in My Heart, Louise," "The Old Homestead," "Only a Tangle of Golden Curls," "Cast Aside," and "Fallen by the Wayside" were famous. He wrote the songs of "Sinbad the Sailor" and the well-known "Hello, Central, Hello," sung in vaudeville by Charles Horowitz.

INMATE KIDNAPS PRISON WARDEN

Arizona Convict Captured Later in Hold-up

Penitentiary Head Stranded Miles From Town

Knife Drawn on Officer in Second Escape Effort

FLORENCE (Ariz.) Dec. 22. (AP) The prison tailor, Raymond Stickler, 23 years of age, escaped today by kidnaping Warden Lorenzo Wright and his 4-year-old son, stranding them unhurt fifty miles from the penitentiary and driving away in the warden's automobile.

Before the warden was able to sound the alarm, Stickler had nearly an hour's start in the eight-cylinder car with a full tank of gasoline. Stickler took the warden's gun and money.

CAPTURED IN PHOENIX

The fugitive was captured in Phoenix tonight after attempting to rob a cafe, followed by an unsuccessful dash for freedom. The dash for freedom came after he drew a knife on policemen taking him to jail and started a fight that resulted in the driver of the patrol wagon losing control of the machine and crashing into a telephone pole.

No one was injured seriously in any of the melees, although one officer received a slashed hand, and Stickler was gashed about the head. Officers overtook him as he ran away from the wrecked patrol wagon and took him to jail in irons.

RUSE CAREFULLY PLANNED

The ruse which brought the warden into the convict's power had been carefully planned, Stickler revealed to Wright as he forced him to follow instructions at the point of the warden's own gun.

Stickler was given orders to make a coat for the warden, but complained he did not have material for the lining. Twice he endeavored to obtain permission to go to Florence from the penitentiary to get the lining, but was refused, the warden said.

Today the warden wanted the coat, but it was not finished, so he decided to drive downtown after the cloth. Stickler asked permission to go along. As they left the prison walls, Stickler drew a knife and pressed it against Wright's side.

WARDEN SOUNDS ALARM

The convict took the warden's gun and told him to drive on. Near Chandler Heights he told the warden to get out and take the child. The warden walked several miles to a telephone and spread the alarm over all Southern Arizona.

Stickler, who had served three years of a ten-year-to-life sentence for robbery in Pima county, told the warden just before he sped away, "I am going to Tucson to kill my old man."

Warden Wright said the convict's father, a railroad engineer, had declined to go to his defense during his trial.

CAR FOLLOWS THEM

The warden said he saw another car following them shortly after Stickler drew the knife, and believed the convict's friends were aware of the plot and had come to assist him.

Two Maricopa county highway patrol officers saw the warden drive toward Chandler at sixty miles an hour, but did not know he was being kidnaped. No one at the prison was aware of the warden's plight until he had telephoned from Chandler.

Strauss Report Sums Up Unemployment Aid

Funds of $375,000,000 for Improvement Created

Los Angeles Among Cities in Drive for Relief

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Persons who voted for any bond issue at the November elections did much to relieve unemployment and give business everywhere a boost, S. W. Strauss & Co. said today. Three hundred seventy-five million dollars for new highways, prisons, bridges, etc., was voted. The result gave impetus to building programs, the Strauss report said.

Four and a half billion dollars' worth of public improvements are needed in the United States at present, the company announced, but of this about $1,200,000,000 in construction is under way while the remainder is held up for various reasons.

Chambers of Commerce from 236 cities co-operated in gathering material for the report.

It is hoped, the report says, that co-operation between Federal, State, county and city governments will continue as during the past few weeks in order "to have a tremendously helpful effect upon business and employment conditions as a whole."

Baltimore, Boston, Louisville, Ky., New Orleans, Pittsburgh, Washington and many other principal cities failed to respond with figures on their needs plans already launched, and those held up.

Figures on a few responding, follow:

"CZAR" FOR OIL FIELD PROPOSED

General Managership for North Dome Operations Outlined at Meeting

HANFORD, Dec. 22. (AP)—Plans for a general manager answerable only to a board of eleven members, to be selected on the basis of acreage, to determine the sharing of profits in the North Dome field of the Kettleman Hills and to determine what wells shall be drilled to determine the actual limits of the field, were revealed at a meeting of oil-land owners and operators held here today.

The meeting was sponsored by the Kettleman Hills Independent Landowners' League at the request of the North Dome operators' committee. Henry Hawson of the Elsinore Oil Company presided.

The meeting was one designed as a step toward bringing owners of North Dome lands into the agreement for the unit plan of operation in the field requested by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

Phases of the plan were outlined by L. L. and B. F. Brundred and Robert C. Patterson, the latter of the United States Geological Survey.

The speakers told the forty oil men present that the Kettleman Hills field, in the light of present development, takes rank as the most valuable oil field in the United States, with an estimated recovery of from 2,000,000,000 to 4,000,000,000 barrels of oil possible.

Under the unit plan of operation, five years' time would be granted to determine the actual limits of the North Dome field.

Dry Agent Not to Face Trial

NAPA, Dec. 22. (AP)—Dist.-Atty. Rutherford of Napa county today announced no charges will be filed against Michael J. Buckley, Federal prohibition agent, who shot and killed Ugolino Prasso, suspected bootlegger.

Rutherford said he was convinced Buckley "acted as any other officer would act under the circumstances." At the inquest into Prasso's death, another Federal prohibition agent, August W. Morgue, testified Buckley was intoxicated the night of the shooting. Rutherford said his investigation convinced him Buckley was not drunk.

PUBLIC FOE DEFINITION TO BE ASKED

Chicago Prepares Bill to Facilitate Riddance of Crime Scourge

CHICAGO, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—Chicago anticrime campaigners will carry their cause to the Legislature when it meets two weeks hence at Springfield. This was ascertained today.

The law-enforcement agencies will present their petition for help in the form of an emergency bill, drawn up by a Chicago attorney, sponsored by a Chicago member of the House of Representatives and expected to have the indorsement of the Cook county judiciary and bar.

The author of the bill is Attorney James G. Condon, once an assistant State's Attorney but of late years exclusively a corporation lawyer. He was until recently a member of the Chicago Crime Commission.

The act, now being drafted by Attorney Condon with the assistance of several Chicago jurists and crime experts, is designed to provide a definite niche in the Criminal Code for the class of gangsters originally stigmatized as public foes in a manifesto issued by the crime commission last April.

The intent of the act, Mr. Condon explained, is to define legally the term "public enemy" and, without infringing on constitutional guarantees of the Bill of Rights, to declare the offense a felony punishable by imprisonment.

The Smith and Wharton girls had told their stories in the public hearings.

Six witnesses were called to testify in connection with perjury charges against Patrolman John J. Stiglin, who is also on departmental trial with three other former members of the police vice squad. Stiglin was complainant against Marjorie Wharton and Winifred Grayson, convicted on vice charges in March, 1929.

Tax Payments Give Treasury Fund Surplus

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Collection of $73,637,257 in income tax last Friday shifted the condition of the Treasury from a deficit of $16,740,646 on the preceding day to a surplus of $47,719,552.

While the surplus is likely to fade away again after the first of the year, the deficit which has held sway since last September was wiped out by collection of the last quarter's payment of tax on 1929 incomes, the quarterly financing of the Treasury, which brought $425,000,000 from sale of certificates and war-debt payments by foreign countries.

CHINA BELIEVES STATUS BETTER

Foreign Minister Warns Against Killing Aliens

Powers Changing Attitude on Territoriality

Treaties Effected During Past Year Cited

NANKING (China) Dec. 22. (AP) Addressing the Cabinet of the Nationalist government, Foreign Minister C. T. Wang today said the year 1930 has been characterized by an increasing response by foreign powers toward China's national sentiments and aspirations.

The Foreign Minister said China must reciprocate for the good will, and accord adequate protection to foreign life and property in China if the Nationalist government expects to retain its present favorable position in the eyes of other governments.

Wang told the Cabinet success in diplomacy is possible only with peace and order in the country and expressed hope the Nationalist government will be able to keep the nation free of major hostilities.

TREATIES REVIEWED

Completion of treaties with eleven countries in 1928 gave China nominal tariff autonomy, he said, but this did not become an actuality until this year, with the conclusion of the Sino-Japanese tariff agreement last May and the exchange of ratifications with Holland last month.

Wang stated an exchange of notes with Great Britain concerning the rendition of the British concession at Amoy had been effected in September; Wehaiwei formally restored to China by Great Britain in October and a treaty regarding the return of the Belgian concession at Tien-tsin had been ratified and would be made effective upon an exchange of ratifications between the two nations.

The Foreign Minister said China had requested the rendition of the French and Japanese concessions at Hankow and the French leased territory of Kwangchow Wan, Kwangtung Province.

NINE POWERS AMENABLE

Regarding extraterritoriality, Wang said the year-end found nine treaty powers amenable to Chinese jurisdiction, namely, Australia, Germany, Russia, Mexico, Persia, Greece, Finland, Bolivia and Czecho-Slovakia. Conclusion of a treaty with Poland, he said, would bring the number to ten.

Of Chinese relations with the Russian government, Wang said the Chinese delegate seeking settlement of the Chinese Eastern Railway dispute had attended Moscow last May, but that no conference had been held until October.

As a result of this, Wang concluded the Russians apparently had intended to promote discord between the Chinese and Manchurian regimes, but the soviet government had failed. Consequently, he said, a meeting between Chinese and Russian delegates had been arranged in Moscow on the 4th inst. at which three committees were named to consider the railway problem, Sino-Russian trade and a resumption of diplomatic relations. These committees now are engaged in preliminary considerations.

NEGOTIATIONS PROCEEDING

Wang said negotiations are proceeding with Sweden, Peru and Japan regarding extraterritoriality and seeking treaties to serve for those which have expired.

The Foreign Minister also stated conversations seeking abolition of English and American extraterritorality rights are proceeding. He expressed confidence definite decisions concerning the whole subject of extraterritoriality would be reached by next spring.

During the year, Wang said, the Foreign Office negotiated and consummated five treaties and three others had been signed and awaited ratification. These included the American treaty of arbitration, he said.

DEATH ENDS LONG CAREER OF BRATIANU

Ex-Premier of Rumania Bitterly Opposed Return of Carol to Throne

BUCHAREST, Dec. 22. (AP)—Vintila Bratianu, prominent Liberal politician, died this afternoon of apoplexy on his estate at Mihaeti.

For years Vintila Bratianu held high power in Rumania as leader of the once-powerful Liberal party and as Premier, but his sway weakened in 1928 when the Peasants' party came into power and Dr. Juliu Maniu became Premier.

Bratianu bitterly opposed all plans of King Carol, then an exile in France, to return to the throne of his father. After Carol captured the throne last summer by an airplane coup d'etat Bratianu's was the only voice in the National Assembly which balked at proclaiming the former Crown Prince as King Carol II.

Later he appeared to swing to the other side.

ARMY DOCTOR HELD POISONER OF WIFE

Maj. Charles A. Shepard

MAJ. SHEPARD FOUND GUILTY

the attachment for Miss Brandon, with its exchange of love letters and gifts, had flowered before the illness of Mrs. Shepard and the major had wanted a divorce.

To this evidence were added letters written by Mrs. Shepard to relatives and the statement, made by a witness who had nursed the major's wife, Mrs. Shepard had said her husband was poisoning her.

In opposition to this the defense painted a picture of Maj. Shepard and his activities which, it insisted, was far more plausible. It painted him, with the testimony of other witnesses, as a long-suffering husband with a wife who was both an alcoholic and a drug addict. It attempted to show his wife had no love for him and that, craving sympathy, he had fallen easily for the interest shown him by an "army post flapper."

EXPLAINED POISON

It introduced testimony to indicate his interest in Miss Brandon did not turn to love until after the death of a wife for whom he obtained all possible medical care. It attempted to show natural illness, alcoholism, mercury absorbed from a mouth wash, mercury pilfered from Dr. Shepard's medicine case by mistake or mercury taken with suicidal intent might have explained the death.

Testimony was introduced to show that, in objecting to the autopsy, Maj. Shepard was carrying out the wishes of a wife who had insisted no knife should touch her after death. In drawing out quantities of mercury from the dispensary, he was arming himself to fight an epidemic of measles at the army post, others testified. In its arguments the defense characterized the major as a loving servant of humanity whom government investigators were attempting to "crucify" because he accidentally fell in love.

SECOND VERDICT

With these conflicting pictures in its mind, a jury of twelve citizens of Kansas, each a family man, took the case at 2:58 p.m. Saturday and argued it Saturday night, Sunday and today. At 1:57 today W. A. Payne, the foreman, announced Maj. Shepard had been found guilty as charged. Of three possible verdicts, guilty with the death penalty, guilty with life imprisonment and not guilty, it had reached the second.

CHINESE REDS DIE IN DROVES

Slaying of 4000 Reported by Nationalist Forces

Communists' Headquarters at Ningtu Destroyed

Chiang at Head of Campaign to Check Brigandage

SHANGHAI, Dec. 22. (AP)—Government troops have slain 2000 bandit Communists at Ningtu, Kiangsi Province, and 2000 other Reds at Tsingshih, Hunan Province, in a determined campaign to end brigandage and massacre, according to Chinese press dispatches today.

President Chiang Kai-shek has taken personal direction of the campaign by troops which, he said recently, would number 300,000 if necessary to exterminate outlawry.

Nationalist soldiers, the dispatches said, stormed Communist headquarters at Ningtu, killing 2000 Reds, releasing 500 hostage captives and destroying the seat of Communist government. Ningtu, which had been held by Reds for two years, was the scene recently of a bloody engagement between soldiers and Communists, the former being defeated.

OTHER SUCCESSES

Government dispatches say the Nationalists claim other successes in the Ningtu area and forced the outlaws to retreat toward mountains on the Fukien Province border.

Recounting government achievements in Hunan Province, the dispatches assert soldiers recaptured the cities of Tsingshih and Lichow, which fell into Red hands a fortnight ago.

The troops swarmed over the walls of Tsingshih, forced its gates and slew 2000 Communists as the marauders fought in the streets, attempting to escape by the opposite gates.

The messages say the Reds took a ghastly toll of the populace of Tsingshih and Lichow during their brief occupation, wreaking vengeance for the people's opposition to the Red siege.

WOMEN USED AS SPIES

Changsha reports say Communists in that area of Hunan Province are active and employing women spies. Four were caught and executed.

From Nanchang come reports that Reds in Northern Kiangsi Province are concentrating about the large Poyang Lake, plundering and burning many small towns.

Word from numerous places along the Yangtse River indicates the outlaws' campaign against shipping continues. Between Hankow and Shasi Reds fired on virtually every passing steamer, sharply battering many vessels with hidden shore guns.

ICE SKIDDING COSTS LIVES OF AUTOISTS

Thrill Turns to Tragedy as Car Sinks Into Water During Joy Ride

ESCANABA (Mich.) Dec. 22. (AP)—Automobile "ice skidding," a new sport on the northern lakes, cost the lives yesterday of a mother and two children. A man, who was driving the automobile in which they were passengers, was seriously injured.

Mrs. Elmer Klassell, 32 years of age, and her children, Eugene, 13, and Betty Jane, 4, were drowned in the icy waters of Little Bay de Nocquette as the automobile of Telesphore Thompson, 26, a boarder in the Klassel home, went through the ice.

Thompson had invited the others to take a ride and was driving over the ice, applying his brakes for the thrill of a skid. He drove out on a smooth stretch of thin ice despite, police said, the warning cry of a skater who knew it was thin. The rear wheels of the car sank first and Thompson managed to crawl out of the window. The others went down in the car.

and a population density of 1000 per square mile.

Due to this change, and to some alterations in the New England States, 1930 figures are not strictly comparable with 1920.

Had the classification been made in 1930 exactly as in 1920, urban population would have been 68,670,813 and the urban percentage would have been 55.9 instead of 56.2.

The Census Bureau, however, said its new classification "represents more adequately the population living, respectively, under urban conditions and under rural conditions."

ITALY FREES EX-AMERICAN

Widow of Poet Cleared of Anti-Fascist Plot but Three Men Get Prison Terms

ROME, Dec. 22. (AP)—Mrs. H. J. De Bosis, American-born widow of an Italian poet, was acquitted today of charges she had engaged in anti-Fascist activities, but three men indicted on similar charges were given prison sentences.

Renzo Rendi, occasional correspondent for American newspapers, was sentenced by the special tribune for defense of state to fifteen years in jail; Mario Vinciguerra received a like sentence, and Gelmetti, another defendant, was ordered to prison for three years.

Three other defendants, Augusto Benedetti Olga Benedetti and a third named Marchi were acquitted.

Mrs. De Bosis, born Lillian Vernon of St. Louis, Mo., who told the court she is 65 years of age, expressed regret she had taken part in recent anti-Fascist propaganda, which consisted of the printing and distribution of circulars.

Rendia testified Mrs. De Bosis had nothing to do with writing the circulars, but only with their mechanical preparation. He told in a calm, collected manner of preparing the wax stencils for the circulars and taking them to Mrs. De Bosis to be run off a small press owned by her.

Mrs. De Bosis's age and retraction and the fact she invoked the memory of her late husband undoubtedly militated in her favor before the court, and her acquittal was regarded as a foregone conclusion.

Renzo Rendi, the newspaper correspondent, was the only defendant who maintained to the end of the trial an attempt had been made to overthrow the government. Mrs. De Bosis's recantation was followed by that of each of the others.

FLEET WILL PLAY SANTA TO CHILDREN

Uncle Sam's Sailors to Give Christmas Parties on Board Warships

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Hundreds of happy children shouting from the decks of Uncle Sam's warships will greet a seagoing Santa Claus as he climbs aboard with his bag of gifts on Christmas morning.

Approximately 83,000 officers and men will spend Christmas this year aboard naval vessels. Far from home and their own children, the personnel of battleships and aircraft carriers will soften that homesick feeling by giving Christmas parties to the needy children of the ports of anchorage.

Naval officials today said the custom, inagurated by Capt. Hugh Rodman of the battleship New York in 1916, will be continued this year. It was estimated more than 2000 needy children will be entertained on Christmas Day by the Navy afloat.

A big navy amphibian plane swoops down from the sky to anchor alongside and a Santa Claus gob climbs aboard with his bag of joy. Before the party begins the children are taken in hand by the crew for a nine-course dinner below decks. As a navy officer today described it—"it's some dinner."

WORK CRISIS AID SOUGHT OF FARMER

Hoover Committee Asks Needed Construction Jobs Be Created Now

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—The co-operation of 6,000,000 organized farm owners and operators in providing employment was sought today, in a statement by Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of President Hoover's emergency committee for employment. While fully appreciating the fact that in certain areas the farmers themselves have been seriously affected by adverse conditions, Col. Woods appealed to them to undertake such construction and repair work this winter as they find possible. He said reports indicate that farmers in many sections already are doing all they can along this line to relieve local unemployment.

At the same time Col. Woods issued another emphatic warning to unemployed men to stay in the home communities and not wander west or south aimlessly seeking work. He was moved to repeat this advice by reports showing the impossible problems that transient unemployed are creating in a number of States, notably California, Arizona and Florida. There has been an especially heavy trek of idle men to those three sunny States.

Dartmouth Head Voices Protest on Prohibition

HANOVER (N. H.) Dec. 22. (AP)—Dr. Ernest Martin Hopkins, president of Dartmouth College, in his first public statement on the prohibition question, today declared his opposition to the Eighteenth Amendment.

He outlined his attitude in a letter to the National Temperance Council, composed of the principal officers of national temperance organizations, in reply to a request from the council for a statement of his views. In it, he said: "I do not see how eindividuals or organizations whose solicitude is for building up a spirit of temperance can continue either to believe in or to support the theory or the practice of the Eighteenth Amendment as defined in current legislation."

Barbara Bramwell Flees by Leap From Window

'High Hat' Relatives Blamed for Marriage Scandal

Absent Bridegroom Denies He Claimed British Title

WORCESTER (Mass.) Dec. 22. (AP)—Barbara Buffum Bramwell, who was committed to the Worcester State Hospital Friday following her wedding Monday to "Sir" Wilton Bramwell, who turned out to be a steward's clerk on the S.S. Mauretania, escaped from the hospital today. She jumped eighteen feet from the window of her private room.

The marriage of the daughter of a Webster bank cashier to Bramwell, who, friends had been told, was a member of British nobility and a naval commander, was a social event at Oxford, her home town, which led to a number of surprising revelations.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES

The first was: Bramwell was not listed among the British peerage nor in the British naval registry, despite the belief of the bride's family he was not only a knight but a royal naval commander.

The second was: Bramwell's "best friend" had been retained only two days previous to act the part by Miss Buffum.

HUSBANDLESS HONEYMOON

Later, the bride, discovered in a Boston Hotel on a husbandless honeymoon, asserted her "high hat" relatives were to blame for the pretentious wedding announcements. Afterward it became known she was an inmate of the Worcester State Hospital out on a so-called "visitor's" leave and she was recommitted to the institution.

Bramwell, who was forced to sail with his ship a day or so after the wedding, knew nothing beforehand of the plan to bestow a title upon him, as far as could be learned.

BRIDEGROOM DENIES HE POSED AS TITLED BRITISHER

PLYMOUTH (Eng.) Dec. 22. (AP)—William Wilton Bramwell, steward's clerk on the Mauretania, arriving here today from New York, denied he had posed as a knight in his marriage to Miss Barbara Buffum at Oxford, Mass.

Bramwell insisted his identity was known to his bride. He said he was leaving the Mauretania today and will rejoin Mrs. Bramwell in America.

(AP)—A new unofficial world's record for looping a glider was established at a local commercial airport Sunday by Lyman Voelpel of Los Angeles, when he looped his motorless craft twenty-two consecutive times. Voelpel held the former record of seventeen loops at one venture. In addition Voelpel thrilled a crowd of more than 6000 persons by flying his glider upside down for two minutes. He also said to be an innovation in glider flying.

MOTHER INDIA WANTS OFFICE

Reserved Seats for Women in Politics Asked

Feminine Leaders Fear Men Will Get All Votes

Tradition Expected to Defeat Franchise

LONDON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Mother India not only wants to vote but to run for office as well with no mere men competing. The Begum Shah Nawaz and Mrs. Subbarayan, the two women delegates to the round-table conference of India, told the conference today.

They objected to the western system whereby women run for office and get beaten by men and petitioned for a certain number of seats in India's future Legislature definitely marked "reserved for women."

WANT EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

Equal voting power with men does not give women equal opportunity in the political arena, the two women delegates declared in a memorandum. They said western countries, like Great Britain, the United States, Canada and Australia, offer poor examples to Indian women who object to getting the right to run for office and then because of convention and habit have no one to vote for them.

The memorandum points out even in England where women have long taken an important part in public life only fifteen women have been elected to Parliament in the last twelve years. Therefore as a temporary measure it urges some special arrangement allotting a small proportion of seats to women.

"We believe," the memorandum concludes, "that after a time when the public is no longer startled by the conception of women in public life and has learned to appreciate their presence there, such a provision would no longer be necessary and women would be able to enter the political arena on the basis of 'a fair field and no favor.'"

CONFERENCE ADDRESSED

Both delegates addressed the conference today.

The women of India will bear their full share of responsibility in building the new state, Mrs. Subbarayan asserted, and she asked the principle that sex should be no disqualification for serving the country be embodied in the new constitution.

Women are supposed to have equal franchise with men, she said, but because of property qualification there is no real equality as few Indian women possess property. The Begum Shah Nawaz declared for universal suffrage but admitted the necessity of a transitional period.

She suggested the extension of suffrage to 25 per cent of the adult population instead of 10 per cent as suggested in the Simon Commission report.

Dr. Bhim Ambedkar, a leader in uplift for India's millions of "untouchables," also told the franchise subcommittee of the conference equal adult suffrage must be given India.

AUTHOR TO SEEK MUSE IN ARIZONA

John Galsworthy to Try Hand at Writing There; Hollywood Forsworn

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—John Galsworthy, with the figment of a new fiction family in his brain, is going West.

As far, that is, as Arizona. If he ventures to Hollywood it will be to guard some mind-child against talking picture directors.

The British author said he did not intend a play or novel of his should be done into talkies, excepting under two stipulations—that there be no alteration of structure or spirit and no dialogue added without his permission.

"I find it difficult to adapt myself to the mechanical quality of the spoken parts on the screen," the writer averred. "Perhaps that accounts for my distaste for the sound films."

He isn't going to satirize Americans, any more than he did after his first stay in Arizona two years ago.

"I'll leave that to American authors. I have been charged with some satire, but we generally reserve that privilege for our own people."

In a chat aboard the Leviathan, which brought him to town today, he said he was delighted to see Sinclair Lewis get the Nobel literature prize, chuckled about George Bernard Shaw's comment that Americans do not like complimentary things said about them and declared he was through with dramas, having done twenty-one large plays and six short ones.

"I think that's enough," said Galsworthy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Four Pacific Coast cities ranked in the nation's first twenty-five building centers for November, Los Angeles and Seattle making notable advances while Portland ranked twenty-first after not having achieved the select group in October.

San Francisco was the other member of the first twenty-five, holding fifteenth place. Los Angeles placed second, after having been fourth in October, and Seattle took fourth rank after being seventeenth in October. The rankings were issued today by S. W. Straus & Co.

California again stood in second place with building totaling $10,545,583. New York was at the top with $48,683,299. Washington got into tenth position with $3,758,615.

BORAH URGES EXTRA SESSION

Idahoan Seeks Meeting of Congress in Spring

Bus, Power and Rail Laws Declared Needed

Administration Leaders Say Plan Without Merit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Another advocate of a special session of the new Congress in the spring spoke a few words for it today while administration leaders were counting the reefs ahead of the appropriation bills they must pilot to port to avoid one.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, said that, aside from the World Court, the bills to regulate motor busses, power rates, to revise railroad regulatory laws and the Shipstead anti-injunction bill and the export debenture plan furnish legitimate reasons for a special session.

The suggestion of several Senators that a continuing motion on last year's appropriation bills be resorted to if a filibuster should be made against the supply bills to force a special session is not looked upon with favor at the White House. It was said today President Hoover has no intention of asking Congress for such action.

Some Republican leaders in the Senate believe an assurance from the White House that no special session of the Senate will be called for the World Court will prevent the necessity for a continuing motion and that the legislative dam will be broken.

Chairman Snell of the House Rules Committee said a special session will be unnecessary.

INFRA-RED RAYS YIELD NEW FIND

Scientist Announces Result of Benzine Tests

Heat Absorption of Vapor and Liquor Differ

Discovery Held Important in Chemical Field

EUGENE (Or.) Dec. 22. (AP)—Experiments with invisible infra-red rays reveal that vaporized benzine absorbs a different and more energetic type of heat than liquid benzine.

This finding was announced at the University of Oregon today. It is the result of a year of difficult work by H. J. Unger of the department of physics.

The discovery is another of the scientific facts for which practical engineers find unexpected uses. One possible field is in chemistry.

The finding is rated as highly important by Dr. W. P. Boynton, head of the department of physics, since it leads to further knowledge of the difference between the vapor and the liquid states. It proves something that long has been suspected.

Unger found with a spectroscope that benzine vapor absorbs slightly shorter wave lengths of heat than does the liquid. Short waves are more penetrating and energetic than the long ones. His great obstacle was to detect and identify the invisible radiation, and he overcame this by use of an apparatus made by Dr. E. M. McAlister, now of the Smithsonian Institution, who was professor of physics here last year.

UNWILLING BATH GIVEN VENTURAN

Bernie Isensee Accuses Two Men of Forcing Him In

Victim Says Pair Pushed Him Off Pierpont Bay Pier

One Asserted Assailant Says It Was Only Joke

VENTURA, Dec. 22. — Bernie Isensee, local photographer and formerly a deputy sheriff, was at the County Hospital today suffering from exposure, nervous shock, bruises and possibly a broken ankle, caused Saturday night when he assertedly was forced off the end of the pier at Pierpont Bay by two men and made to swim for his life, according to his report to police.

He was left on the beach for an hour and a half without his clothing before he could summon help.

Isensee told officers that the pair who forced him into the water were E. W. Paine, recently in court on liquor charges, and B. F. Johnson.

According to the story Isensee told the deputies from the Sheriff's office, he dropped in to Paine's place of business which had recently been raided by the officers. Paine accused him of tipping off the Sheriff, and he in turn accused Johnson, who also was present.

Johnson and Paine decided to give him a bath, he declared, and put him in a car, driving down to Pierpont Bay.

He argued with them when they attempted to push him off the pier and finally agreed to jump. As he went over the edge his hands grasped the boards and Johnson stepped on the fingers until they loosened their hold, according to Isensee. They had ordered him to remove his clothes before this and Johnson was holding them when he went over the side.

He was scratched and bruised when he reached shore. He hailed a passing car with a boy and girl, but they refused to stop, he said. He was badly chilled and in a serious condition when relief finally arrived.

Up to noon today, the men had not been arrested for their part in the episode, but following a second conference with Isensee, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Don Holt said this afternoon that battery charges would be filed against both Paine and Johnson.

Johnson told Sheriff Robert Clark that the matter started as a practical joke. He admitted taking the man to the pier but said that Isensee agreed to jump off.

Isensee today was still suffering from nervous shock and will not be over it for several days, according to word from the County Hospital.

Paine's place of business was raided by officers from the Sheriff's office and Paine was charged with possession of liquor Saturday morning. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $300, with $200 suspended. It was that evening that Isensee walked into the place and was accused of tipping off the officers.

Mrs. Ousterhout, Aged Pioneer of Redlands, Dies

REDLANDS, Dec. 22.—Mrs. Eliza Singelton Ousterhout, 91 years of age, and for seventy-one years a resident of this valley, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alberta Grover, on West Colton avenue, after an illness of several weeks, and funeral services were conducted today with burial in Pioneer Cemetery.

Mrs. Ousterhout was born in Manchester, Eng., but came to this country when she was just 6. The family pioneered through the Middle West, settling for a time in Ohio, and then coming out to Salt Lake City, where they lived for several years and where she was married to the late Jeremiah Drake Ousterhout, who died in 1905.

Mrs. Ousterhout often related to her family and friends how she walked all the distance between Ohio and Utah, having an aversion to riding in covered wagons. After the marriage, however, she drove a team and wagon across the plains to San Bernardino during the early Mormon trek into Southern California.

She leaves five daughters, Mrs. Rebecca Moore of Central Point, Or.; Mrs. Louise Weiser of Rialto, Mrs. Belle Williams of Oakland, Mrs. Alberta Grover of Redlands and Mrs. Techla Tyler of San Bernardino, seventy-seven grandchildren, twenty-four great-grandchildren and eight great-great-grandchildren.

Picking of Navel Crop Under Way

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 22.—Gathering of the season's crop of navel oranges has started in the San Fernando Valley district with all sections of the area reporting good quality, according to packing-house managers.

The orange crop in this section and in the western end of the valley, one of the best money-producing harvests, will be moving into eastern markets within the next few weeks. Already the Southern Pacific has started to concentrate cars for shipments.

While the start of the orange pack means employment for scores of persons, packing-houses state they will not hire additional helpers, as all plants have their regular crews who are mainly local persons and who have worked at the plants for several years. They make it plain that outsiders will not be employed in preference to local workers.

From the present outlook of the crop in various parts of the valley, hundreds of carloads are to be shipped both to eastern and Midwest markets before the season ends.

An elaborate musical program was rendered at the banquet, including numbers by the President Moncado orchestra of the federation from Los Angeles, vocal solos by Miss J. Gasser, a violin solo by Q. Large numbers of members of the San Fernando branch are planning to attend sessions of the national convention, which opens tomorrow night with a program by the Filipino Lex Association of Southern California at Music Art Hall in Los Angeles, to be open to the public. Thousand-Dollar Bill Creates Furor in Jail

SANTA ANA, Dec. 22.—One-thousand dollar bills are considered the rara avis by newspaper reporters who sometimes seek items for their newspapers from the County Jail, and consequently when one of them noticed a prisoner had just passed a $1000 bill into the temporary custody of Assistant Jailer Leo Porter, a general investigation began of whom the owner was and why he was in jail, etc.

The owner of the big bill was learned to be Ralph Bascom, 31 years of age, who told State Highway Patrolmen Leo Kelley and Ray Bradfield that he was a theater owner of Los Angeles. The officers said they arrested him for reckless driving when they noticed that his expensive and high-powered car was meandering over the State highway near Katella in a manner not approved by law.

A beautiful young woman to whom Bascom was said to have handed $5 with which to buy dinner when he was detained at the jail, was very nervous while Bascom was in jail and kept pacing back and forth in the corridor. She was of no assistance to newspaper reporters in learning why Bascom carried such a large sum on his person.

"Why, we were just hurrying to a bank," she scoffed. "Why do you fellows get so excited over a $1000 bill? You ought to be glad somebody has one." She smoked cigarettes and refused to tell her name.

The reporters were inclined to agree with her last statement, but they couldn't figure out the name of any bank that would be open Saturday afternoon.

Bascom posted $250 bond for his appearance before Justice of the Peace Kuchel of Anaheim. The girl went away with him and so did the $1000 bill.

As far as the news men could remember it war the biggest piece of change ever to pass over the desk at the jail in one piece.

SYNDICATE TO TAKE EL CABALLERO CLUB

TARZANA, Dec. 22.—Control of El Caballero Country Club at Tarzana is reported today to have passed into the hands of a syndicate which will operate the organization as a private club, issuing to selected old members a nonparticipating, nonliable membership, and taking in new members. The country club buildings and the extensive grounds are among the most attractively situated of the sort in Southern California. T. C. Brady is chairman of the bondholders' committee. He announces the syndicate's plans. El Caballero Country Club was operated for a number of years as a private club with a large membership, but about two years ago was thrown open to the public. With the completion of the syndicate's plans the institution will revert to its old form of operation. The present beautiful estate with its extensive acreage was once the country home of the late Gen. Harrison Gray Otis.

MAGNOLIA TO BE YULE TREE

Eighty-Foot Giant on Seaver Estate at Pomona Brilliantly Illuminated During Holidays

POMONA, Dec. 22.—Yuletide visitors, in ever-increasing numbers, in past years, have stopped and gazed in awe at a magnificent magnolia tree, in the estate of the Carlton Seaver home at 143 East Holt avenue, this city, brilliantly lighted in artistic disarray from Christmas Eve until New Year's night, but unfortunately this wonderful spectacle has completely escaped newspaper comment until this time when news of the plans of Mrs. Seaver for this year, were conveyed to the press by a friend.

Following a family custom of the past fifteen years, Mrs. Seaver, widow of the late Carlton Seaver, pioneer resident of this city, will place at each window in the palatial two-story residence from three to six candles, according to the size of the window, on Christmas Eve only. In addition, an eighty-foot magnolia tree, said to be the largest in the State, will present a gorgeous sight, with 100 varicolored lights set in profusion in its mammoth branches. The tree, thought to be nearly fifty years old, covers a large corner of the Seaver estate.

In commenting on the decorative scheme of the tree, Mrs. Seaver said, "The lights will be hung in artistic disarray, this decorative scheme, to my mind, being far more satisfactory than if the lights were hung symmetrically.

"The candles will be lit in every window of the house at dusk on Christmas Eve, and the tree will be lighted an hour later.

"The candles will burn only on Christmas Eve, but the tree will be lighted every night up to, and including New Year's Night, and it is our hope that all those who can will try to see this wonderful spectacle.

"If our little contribution in any way pleases and helps others to catch the true Christmas spirit, we feel well repaid for our efforts in creating this scene of beauty."

BURGLARS IN POSTOFFICE GET PARCELS

Bell Postmaster Checking Up Theft to Ascertain Amount of Losses

BELL, Dec. 22.—When the parcel-post room of the local postal department was opened today at 6 a.m. discovery was made that the place had been entered some time during the night by burglars breaking open the rear door. A number of parcel-post packages were stolen, but just how many, Postmaster Charles McGonegal is unable to report, until a check of the burglary has been completed.

One of the packages was found in a gutter on Seville street in Huntington Park this morning by police of that city, and was addressed to a resident of Bell.

Two other robberies occurred here during the night, one at the North & Lory Hardware Store, where a revolver and radio set were stolen, and the other being at the filling station known as "Scotty's" Place, at Atlantic and Florence avenues, where $30 was taken.

Blame Placed on Beesemyer Does No Good

VAN NUYS, Dec. 22.—The plea of Charles Tisch of Burbank, who was tried here in the Municipal Court, was a unique one, but it did no good. According to evidence, Tisch had been found drunk in an automobile on one of the Van Nuys roads.

In pleading before Judge Clifford Thompson, Tisch explained that he had suffered seriously in the Gilbert Beesemyer defalcations and that it had so unnerved him he resorted to moonshine whisky to forget his troubles. Judge Thompson was impressed by the story and admitted the existence of extenuating circumstances but sentenced Tisch to serve thirty days in the City Jail.

"I can see the justice of your plea as an individual," Judge Thompson said to Tisch.

"But as an official from the bench, I think that after tanking up you should have locked yourself up in your bedroom."

Aged Cobbler Heeds Summons

VENTURA, Dec. 22.—Charles A. Borgstrom died yesterday at his home here at the age of 81 years. He leaves two sons, Ole, of this city, and Charles of Los Angeles, and a daughter, Mrs. Nina Baldwin of this city, and the widow, Addie Borgstrom.

CHURCHES OBSERVE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 22. Churches throughout the city observed the coming Christmas Day by giving Christmas programs yesterday, the pastors delivering Christmas sermons in the morning, while the choirs of the churches rendered specially arranged Christmas programs of music for the evening services. Most of the Sunday-school Christmas celebrations will be held tomorrow night and Christmas Eve, with several cantatas for the programs. Early Wednesday morning the Elks will begin their distributions of Christmas baskets to the needy families throughout the district, and the Community Christmas organization also will begin its work of distribution on that day. Local theaters have assisted greatly in securing donations for Christmas gifts among the poor, by each giving a morning matinee when the price of admission was a can of some article of food. In this manner, hundreds of cans of food were collected. The local firemen have also been busy during the past three weeks repairing and repainting broken or discarded toys which have been brought to the local fire station, the fire fighters arranging a Santa Claus repair shop on the roof of the fire building. All these canned goods and toys, together with many other articles of food, clothing and cash donations given into the Chamber of Commerce offices, have been turned over to the Community organization, and these great numbers of gifts will find their way into the needy homes here before Christmas Eve.

Walnut growers from Ventura, Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties will be in attendance. The next intercounty walnut growers' field day will be held September 12, next, in San Fernando Valley, Wahlberg said. The location will be determined by a Los Angeles county committee.

VALLEY LETTUCE CROP HAD 1250-CAR TOTAL

RESEDA, Dec. 22.—The fall lettuce harvest in San Fernando Valley is completed, with a total of about 1250 cars shipped into Los Angeles, eastern and midwest markets. This does not include the several hundred truckloads that have been hauled in to Los Angeles dealers within the last two or three weeks. The crop was gathered from 3200 acres planted in all parts of the valley area. The average price received by growers was around $1 a crate, giving growers a total around $400,000. When the harvest first began the returns were estimated at little more than this, but since then there has been a change in weather and general harvest conditions and some damage and consequent loss were suffered. With the large baby lima crop, the two lettuce crops in San Fernando Valley each year constitute the leading agricultural industries in this section.

RETIRING SHERIFF HEADS RIDING CLUB

Sam Jernigan

FULLERTON, Dec. 22. — Although Sheriff Sam Jernigan of Orange county retires from office January 5 in favor of Sheriff-elect Logan Jackson, he has just had new honors thrust upon him through his election as president of El Rodeo Riding Club, one of the best-known riding organizations in the West. Jernigan succeeds Dr. E. J. Steen of Fullerton.

Louis Jacobsen, Placentia, was elected vice-president; Ed Gaines, Carbon Canyon, treasurer; Alexander Anderson, Fullerton, secretary; Dan Williams, Buena Park; Leo Douglass, Orange, and Howard Timmons, Tustin, directors.

Retiring officers are Dr. E. J. Steen, Fullerton, president; Jack Waltz, Fullerton, vice-president; John E. Wagner, Placentia, treasurer; Harold Curtis, Fullerton, secretary, and Luther Lindaeur, La Habra; A. D. Moody, Fullerton, and Ole Hanson, San Clemente, directors.

The club's chief objective for 1931 is to build a quarter-mile track. Headquarters are on North Valencia avenue, this city.

Gold-Toothed Fiend Sought

PASADENA, Dec. 22.—Police are without clews today to the identity of a gold-toothed fiend who late yesterday attempted to attack a 10-year-old girl after luring her from her home in the eastern part of this city to a deserted barn on Duarte Road, located in the county.

The child told detectives that she was playing near her home when a young man in a green Ford car succeeded in inducing her to enter the machine after telling her he knew where she could get free Christmas presents.

After mistreating the girl, the man gave her some candy and 15 cents, on her promise not to tell her mother.

The victim reported that her assailant had one gold tooth, a hooked nose, and was attired in a brown suit and cap, black shoes and blue tie.

BANKS GIVE BONUSES AND ALSO INSURANCE

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 22. The banks of the local Clearing-house Association are presenting their employees with annual Christmas gifts, the City National Bank giving each employee an extra week's salary. The Security-First National Bank is giving insurance policies and also bonuses, the amounts being dependent upon the length of service. The Bank of America, Pacific and Clarendon-avenue branch, is giving a 5 per cent bonus of yearly salaries, while the Bank of America's Pacific and Zoe-avenue branch also has a salary bonus proposition for its employees as a present. The Walnut Park National Bank has mailed checks as bonuses, the amounts being based on legth of employment with the bank.

BELATED CENSUS RECEIVED

Towns in San Fernando Valley Annex Finally Are Given Segregated Count of Their Populations

PACOIMA, Dec. 22.—For the first time since the issuance of the figures of the last national census, San Fernando Valley towns have learned the total of their different populations. The figures have been unobtainable heretofore because these towns are really not towns in themselves, but integral parts of the entire Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Guy E. Marion, head of the research department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, with the official consent of the Bureau of Census at Washington, today released the figures.

Some of the Valley communities are divided into two or three sections.

ALL TOWNS OVERLAP

In arriving at the figures, each town is given a set of four boundary lines and the population count made within these boundaries. This is pertinently necessary for certain communities in the Valley have overgrown into each other, both sides claiming the existing population. Nobody knows where Pacoima or San Fernando begins or ends; Owensmouth and Chatsworth are rubbing elbows; Sepulveda people don't know whether they live in Sepulveda or Van Nuys, and the boundary lines between Van Nuys and North Hollywood overlap to such an extent that subsequent population squabbles have even caused the usually friendly Kiwanis and Rotary Club members to scowl at one another when they pass in automobiles on the roads.

Marion's figures, now to be generally accepted by all communities, are as follows:

Pacoima community, 4270; Sylmar, 2741; Chatsworth, 961; Granada, 682; Sunland, 1391; North Los Angeles, 906; Sepulveda, 1563; Roscoe, 1820; Tuna Canyon Annex, 624; Owensmouth, 1827; Reseda, 1805; Van Nuys, 11,266; North Hollywood, 9630; Girard, 517; Tarzana, 842; Encino, 935, and Cahuenga Park, 1855.

GREAT RIVALRY EXISTS

The national census gave the San Fernando Valley Annex to the city of Los Angeles a population of 50,250. The above figures total 50,445.

North Hollywood is expected to let out a yip when it sees it is rated lower than the population of Van Nuys, both towns being extreme civic rivals. The true figures are probably twice as much.

Within recent years North Hollywood has grown not only into the Van Nuys district, but also to the foot of Cahuenga Pass, and in an easterly direction into the Burbank area. It is impossible to estimate the real population outside of an arbitrary boundary line to which North Hollywood citizens will be the very last to agree to.

DREDGING BIDS SOUGHT

Army District Engineer Will Advertise Today for Figures on Deepening San Diego Turning Basin

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 22.—Maj. W. H. Lanagan of Los Angeles army district engineer, tomorrow will advertise for bids for the $320,000 dredging project to create a turning basin off the piers at the foot of Broadway here for the airplane carriers Lexington and Saratoga, according to Joseph Brennan, San Diego port director.

The starting of the dredging project means that San Diego must advance an additional $21,000 for dredging in connection with the turning-basin area, Brennan said. Of the amount, $6000 is needed for dredging a small corner of Area F, while approximately $150,000 will be used in dredging the slips adjoining the piers, he said. At present, Brennan said, the depth of the water alongside the piers is thirty-three feet, whereas a thirty-five-foot depth is required under an agreement with the government. The agreement specifies that the government shall dredge to a depth of thirty-five feet in the turning-basin area up to the piers, and that the city shall dredge to that depth alongside the piers, Brennan said.

Level of Water in Santa Clara Valley Dropping

SANTA PAULA, Dec. 22.—That the water level in the Santa Clara Valley and other county areas is steadily dropping and that if it is to be prevented from becoming a serious menace to future development, some definite steps toward conservation must be taken, is emphasized from facts contained in the State report on the investigation of Ventura county water resources being conducted by the Division of Water Resources of the State Department of Public Works.

R. H. Jamison of this city is the engineer in charge and the report just received is for the third year of progress, for the period from August 1, 1929, to July 31, 1930.

While the investigation was originally to be concluded in a period of three years, this has been impossible, due principally to subnormal years, there having been no real wet seasons during that time. The current report shows that 1929-30 precipitation was 73 per cent of normal.

Recently the County Supervisors agreed to match an appropriation of $75,000 by the State to continue the investigation for the fourth year. It is hoped that some definite conclusions as to the best method of utilizing the water of the county and preventing any wastage can be made at the end of the fourth year. Any money remaining out of the sum appropriated will be rebated on a pro rata basis. The State and county have expended a total of $45,000 for the three-year investigation.

Crowell Likely to Get Civic Auditorium Job

PASADENA, Dec. 22.—William C. Crowell, local building contractor, probably will be awarded the general contract for erection of the Civic Auditorium on his low bid of $752,000. Crowell has constructed the majority of the buildings erected on the California Institute of Technology campus during the last two years.

More than 100 bidders on general and subcontracts filled the City Hall Council chamber late today when bids were opened, read and filed for action of the Board of City Directors. Ninety-six bids, in all, were received.

If, as anticipated, the Crowell bid is accepted, the cost of the building, including the electrical, plumbing and other extras, including chairs, will total $975,000. When miscellaneous equipment is taken into consideration, the total cost, not counting the site, will amount to $1,100,000.

Ground will be broken, as soon as the contracts have been signed, on property reserved for the purpose at the end of Garfield avenue, just south of Green street.

The building will comprise two major units, a great flat-floor hall for conventions and flower shows, and a concert auditorium equipped with a permanent stage for theatrical performances.

The entire structure must be completed by New Year's Day, 1932.

Teague Speaks at Santa Paula

SANTA PAULA, Dec. 22.—C. C. Teague of this city, a member of the Federal Farm Board, will have a vitally interesting message to give local people at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce here on Tuesday evening, the 30th inst., it was announced today by the committees in charge of arrangements. Teague recently completed a tour of Florida and other Southern States and delivered a series of lectures.

In addition to the speaker, music will be provided for the program. Tickets are now on sale.

SAILOR AND HIS WIFE HURT IN AUTO CRASH

LA HABRA, Dec. 22.—Z. C. Merryfield, a sailor attached to the U.S.S. Holland, now at San Pedro, and his wife, were seriously injured late Saturday evening when the automobile in which they were riding failed to take a turn a short distance west of here, crashing into a telephone pole. The pole was sheared completely off. The injured were removed to the office of a local physician, where they were given first-aid treatment, and from there were taken to the Whittier Memorial Hospital. Merryfield suffered a skull fracture and a broken leg. Mrs. Merryfield was pronounced suffering internal injuries and lacerations about the face and head. Frank Drewery, another sailor, who was riding with the Merryfields, suffered minor injuries.

POSTMASTER RENAMED

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 22.—Charles Niblack, former commander of the American Legion post here, who has served as North Hollywood postmaster since 1926, has been reappointed for another four years. The announcement came today from Congressman W. E. Evans, of Glendale, now in Washington.

Fire Wardens and Foresters Will Convene

SANTA ANA, Dec. 22. — Orange county's invitation to the Southern California Association of Foresters and Fire Wardens to hold its next meeting in this city on January 7, next, has been accepted. The group is made up of foresters, fire wardens and co-operating agencies, from San Luis Obispo county to San Diego county.

A public demonstration of pumping and fire-fighting equipment will be given just west of Irving Park. Every effort will be made to make the demonstration as realistic as possible.

The program for the day will conclude with a banquet in Santa Ana.

Joe Sherman, county forester, and John Osterman of this city are largely responsible for bringing the conference here. Members of the Orange County Forest Protective Association are assisting Sherman and Osterman in making arrangements.

Squab-Breeding Event Planned

ONTARIO, Dec. 22.—Directed by H. O. Keesling of Pasadena, prominent Southern California pigeon fancier, a campaign is being carried on to make the annual Chaffey squab-breeding contest a national event.

The squab-breeding event in the past has been largely a Southern California affair at Chaffey Union High School, but Ray R. Delhauer has met with such success in the work that Keesling is striving to have it made national in scope.

He has invited pigeon fanciers in all parts of the nation to enter their prize birds in the Chaffey contest.

Delhauer was in charge of the pigeon department of the United States Army during the World War.

STANFORD MAN HAS TWO GOOD BREAKS

ONTARIO, Dec. 22.—Gerald Trautman, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Trautman of 222 East H street, came home to his parents for the Christmas holidays from Stanford University knowing he had broken two things within the past week. The first event was to break the school tradition of a freshman defeating an upper classman in a contest. This he did in winning the all-university golf tournament from Warner Edmonds of the varsity golfing team. Trautman started on the freshman team, and climbed to the top of the heap of college golfers in winning the tourney. No sooner had he tucked this victory under his belt, than he went out to play football with the freshman team. He broke his right ankle in three places.

"I have been denying it, as have several other of your friends, but we wish to have it straight from you."

In response to this inquiry, Lawrence Richey, secretary to the President, replied:

NORRIS STRIKES BACK AT LUCAS

Fund Used to Fight Nebraska Senator Bank Loan

G.O.P. National Committee Linked to Transaction

Recent Attack Over Loyalty to Party Draws Fire

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Records showing money borrowed by Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican National Committee, to help finance a publicity campaign against Senator Norris, Republican Nebraska, was backed up by funds of the national committee were placed before the Senate Campaign Funds Committee today.

While the committee was tracing the source of the anti-Norris campaign financing, Senator Norris issued a statement welcoming Lucas's challenge of a contest on party regularity, but asking that "my enemies fight in the open and not, like cringing cowards, hide behind anonymous names or use methods which are disreputable and too dishonorable for anyone to father."

Lucas promptly issued a reply to Norris, denying "My opposition to Senator Norris was anything but proper." He said the conduct of Norris "has given rise to a condition which amounts to a growing cancer in the vitals of the Republican party and it must be cut out it the party is to survive."

Senator Cutting, New Mexico, another of the western Republican independents, demanded repudiation of Lucas's attack on Norris's Republicanism "by those higher up."

HOOVER WATCHES

President Hoover and Republican leaders silently watched developments. The demand by Lucas that "men like Norris" be eradicated from the party stood tonight without either support or disapproval of the Republican high command.

Senator Norris refused to demand that Lucas be ousted but some of his friends in the Senate have.

Wade H. Cooper, president of the Commercial National Bank here, informed the Campaign Funds Committee that when Lucas obtained his $4000 loan at his bank he presented a letter signed "Republican National Committee, by Robert H. Lucas," and placing a $40,000 special account to the committee behind it.

The committee immediately decided to summon Joseph R. Nutt of Cleveland, treasurer of the national committee, for questioning after the holidays as to the reasons for opening up the $40,000 account October 23 last, when another account of the national committee already was in existence with the same bank.

SAYS HE BORROWED

Lucas previously told the committee he borrowed $4000 on his own account to finance the campaign against Norris and some Democratic Senators. He said he regarded Norris as a Democrat and came to the assistance of the regular Republican organization in Nebraska when they asked for aid to fight Norris.

Cooper said he had a letter from Lucas today inclosing a personal check for $520 to be applied against the note and asking an extension of from thirty to sixty days. The letter added Lucas was leaving for Louisville, his home, tonight and probably will not return until after January 2, next, when the note is due.

"Who gave Mr. Lucas the authority to say who was a good Republican or a bad Republican," Norris demanded in his statement. "Who appointed him to a position where he should be the judge of other men's motives?"

"If the rule which Mr. Lucas attempted to apply to me were made general, even the great party leader in the White House would have to retire and pursue the calling of a humble engineer. His own conduct shows that he has violated the very rule which he would apply to others."

ASSAILS FIGHT METHODS

Lucas's statement of last night, the Nebraskan added, was "an adroit attempt to detract attention from his own ridiculous and indefensible position."

"I have never objected and I do not now object to his opposition," Norris continued. "I distinctly made that clear in my address in the Senate. He has a perfect right to oppose me and to contribute money to bring about my defeat. But his sin is that he made his attack in the dark. He concealed his identity. He was too cowardly to fight in the open. The weapons he used were indefensible."

Norris said "no one believes that this man who had no personal interest in the Nebraska campaign would borrow and make the contributions he made."

"Everyone who heard his testimony must believe that he was using somebody else's money and that he is now concealing some one higher up," he said.

CUTTING'S STATEMENT

Cutting said Lucas was "merely an employee of the National Republican Committee," and the responsibility for his actions "lies higher up—considerably higher up."

"The trouble with the gentlemen whom Mr. Lucas represents," the New Mexico Senator added, "is that they fail to remember that the Republican party does not belong to the President of the United States, the national chairman, and a few dozen members of the national committee. It belongs to the Republican voters. It is not a part of Mr. Lucas's official functions to determine whether the Republican voters are right or wrong. The Republicans of Nebraska decided in the primaries that Senator Norris was a good enough Republican for them."

Cutting said the framers of the Constitution intended Congress should be the policy-making branch of the government.

"The executive branch," he said "was created in order to carry out the laws passed by Congress. Yet the gentlemen who dictated the statement which Mr. Lucas signed are serving notice on Republican Senators who dare to hold views of their own that when they come up for re-election the Republican National Committee will support and lend financial aid to their Democratic opponents.

"This constitutes political thuggery. The decent element in the Republican party believed that this sort of thing ended with the Harding regime. No party organization can survive on such a basis."

In his reply to Norris, Lucas said the literature he paid for was sent to the anti-Norris organization in Lincoln, Neb., by express and there was no secret about the transaction.

"The Republicans of this country have never been satisfied with Senator Norris's methods in politics," he said. "He seems to take great pride in his treason and treachery to the Republican party."

He added that although Nebraska Republicans favored Herbert Hoover for President and gave him 147,000 majority, Norris had spoken and voted for Alfred E. Smith and had since "viciously and relentlessly opposed the President's administration."

G.O.P. TREASURER DENIES KNOWING OF LOAN

CLEVELAND, Dec. 22. (AP)—Joseph R. Nutt, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, tonight said he has no knowledge of a $4000 loan made by a Washington bank to Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the committee, into whose activities in the Nebraska campaign against Senator Norris, Republican independent, the Senate Campaign Investigation Committee is inquiring.

Nutt said the committee kept a special account at the bank with a deposit of $40,000.

"It consisted of certain monies which have always been properly accounted for," he added.

The national treasurer, who is expected to testify before the campaign committee after the holidays, said he not only has no knowledge of the $4000 loan, but knows nothing of a letter from the national committee concerning the matter.

YULETIDE MAIL SWAMPS TOWN OF SANTA CLAUS

SANTA CLAUS (Ind.) Dec. 22. (AP)—The postoffice in this little hamlet of sixty persons is swamped with letters and parcels from all over the world, destined to be sent out again with the coveted "Santa Claus" postmark.

James F. Martin, who has run the postoffice in his general store twenty-eight years, said today more than 50,000 pieces of Christmas mail had come in.

"There's several times more mail coming in this year than ever before," Martin said. "I'm fairly snowed under. Last year my office remailed 20,000 pieces of mail, but it looks as if that won't be a caution to what we'll have to handle this time.

"I guess my name ought to be Santa Claus, because I have to pay out of my own pocket for handling all this mail. I've hired six clerks to help out and I reckon it's going to cost me close to $200. But it advertises the town and besides, lots of folks from all around come to my store to see us sending out the mail."

SOUTHWEST FORMOSA SHAKEN BY TEMBLOR

No fatalities were reported but twelve persons were injured, seventy-two houses demolished and about 5000 buildings damaged.

Are you approaching your "Turning Point in Health?"

HEALTH is best, in average life, between the ages of 20 and 40. The "turning point" begins at 40, the age when strenuous living begins to take its toll.

One of the most prevalent after 40 ailments is kidney breakdown. Over half of men and women are affected. Many unknowingly, for there are no warning signals.

75% of poisonous waste from the system is excreted by kidneys, much in too concentrated form. Overburdened, delicate kidney cells break down. Congestion occurs, throwing these poisons back into the system—the forerunner of many serious ills.

How to Protect Health Between 20 and 40

Doctors advise this daily health precaution: Drink 6 glasses of Puritas water. Puritas dilutes poisonous waste, dissolves and washes it away, thus lightening the load of kidneys. Mineral-free, it leaves no congestion forming deposits. Thus Puritas constantly protects the normal functioning of kidneys.

Puritas, scientifically distilled and aerated, is mineral free, impurity free, drinking water in its purest state.

Although its taste seems different at first, each drink becomes increasingly enjoyable.

Phone WEstmore 0181 today for Puritas delivery to your home. An iceless cooler furnished free.

Three Hundred Alabama Convicts Leave Prisons on Fifteen-Day Furloughs

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) Dec. 22. (AP)—Gates of Alabama's State prison opened today to more than 300 convicts who are going home for Christmas.

From every State prison fifteen-day paroles freed men who in some instances have served more than twenty-five years but whose conduct has been especially meritorious.

This is the third year during the administration of Gov. Graves that long-time convicts have been rewarded with Christmas paroles. So far only six have failed to return. One of these six was killed while en route home last year.

There will be no check on them from the time they leave the prisons until the day their parole expires, January 5.

Hamp Draper, head of the convict department, said approximately 10 per cent of the list are serving for murder. A good many more are serving long sentences for second-degree murder and burglary.

MOVEMENT OF ORANGES RUNS HEAVY

Record Year Sighted in Shipments From North and Central Areas

Shipments of Central and Northern California navel oranges are considerably larger than earlier estimates indicated and for the current season 1930-31 will exceed the movement of any previous year, Dana C. King, orange sales manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, announced yesterday.

The total shipments from these districts for the season will approximate 7500 cars, compared with 4500 cars last year and 6500 cars in the big crop year of 1928-29.

"Exchange sales up to the 10th inst. from these districts have been exceeded in only one year, that of 1928-29," Mr. King said. "This year, however, general business conditions have not been as favorable for forcing the fruit rapidly on the markets as two years ago."

"There has been a marked improvement in the size of navels, with average sizes now running approximately 224 to the box, showing extremely rapid growth during the past six weeks since shipments started. The eating quality has proved satisfactory and small sizes have given retailers an opportunity to feature navels at very moderate prices," he added.

"During the past month combined shipments of California and Florida oranges and grapefruit to United States and Canadian markets have been the heaviest on record, and citrus supplies in the markets are the greatest that have ever been available at this season of the year."

Apple and Pear Export Volume of State Gains

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Increasing exports of apples and pears from San Francisco to foreign countries were sufficient in the first ten months of this year to lift the fresh-fruit record above that of last year, the Commerce Bureau here showed today.

The gain was 22 per cent, the fruit being valued at $2,235,000 this year and $1,812,000 last year.

Apple exports were 533,019 boxes this year, valued at $1,013,834, compared with 344,244 boxes last year, valued at $655,386. Pears exported amounted to 7,998,510 pounds, worth $407,635, against 821,324 pounds, bringing $65,397 last year.

Exports of oranges, lemons and grapefruit were reduced, but the latter brought better prices.

Dried fruit exports in the ten months were valued at $13,644,478, against $17,106,288 last year. October shipments this year were higher than last year by a wide margin, however, the tonnage more than doubling to reach 102,259,581. The value of October dried fruits exports was $5,8.0,016, compared with $4,460,751 last year.

Canned and prepared fruit exports dropped from 162,663,079 pounds, worth $17,830,186, in 1929, to 130,903,255 pounds, worth $13,-732,119, this year.

Federal Water Utility Reports

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Federal Water Service Corporation and subsidiaries reported today consolidated net profits for the year closed October 31 of $3,099,241, after all charges, including subsidiary dividend, equal after preferred dividends and under participating provisions of the shares to $2.90 a share on 560,143 Class A shares outstanding at the end of the period.

This compares with $3,239,971, or $3.24 a share on 524,422 Class A shares a year ago. If applied directly to the Class A stock the earnings after preferred dividends are equal to $3.77 a share, against $4.42 a share in the preceding year. All the Class B stock is owned by Tri-Utilities Corporation.

WESSON-SNOWDRIFT PROFITS INCREASE

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 22.—Wesson Oil and Snowdrift Company and subsidiaries for the quarter ended November 30, last, today reported net profits of $707,313 after depreciation, Federal taxes, etc., equal after dividend requirements on $4 convertible preferred stock to 57 cents a share on 600,000 common shares, as against $758,177, or 59 cents a common share in the 1929 quarter.

LOW-PRICED OILS GROOMED

Bolsa Chica Takes Place Alongside Universal as Possible Leader of Upturn; New Well Watched

BY EARLE E. CROWE

After casting about for most of this year, the speculators in the aimless Los Angeles market have been forced to turn to the old favorite, the oil business, for stocks possessing possibilities for leadership in the low-priced speculative list.

Until Universal Consolidated's well in the Lost Hills district developed water in the production test, this stock was backed heavily to lead a new upturn in this market. These hopes are temporarily eclipsed, at least, and now the speculators are tentatively grooming Bolsa Chica as the successor to Universal's hopes.

NEW FIELD LOOMS

Bolsa Chica's claims to the leadership of the speculative list rest on about the same set of conditions that lifted Universal into the running. At Coal Oil Point, about two miles southwest of the famous Elwood field, Bolsa Chica is drilling a tideland permit 1000 feet from shore. The initial well is below 4000 feet and indications are reputed to point to the discovery of a new light-oil field.

Stock market traders are closely watching Bolsa Chica's progress, as the current strength of quotations around 16 indicates. A production test is due in a few days and if the well is successfully completed as a high-gravity producer the Los Angeles market may discover in Bolsa Chica the long-awaited favorite.

The alert interest in Universal and Bolsa Chica by the stock market traders apparently disregards the unfavorable status of the oil industry. The industry is concerned now with another drive to further limit production, yet stock quotations readily respond to the possibilities of bringing in new light-oil fields.

RECALL OTHER DAYS

Probably the Rio Grande recollections are still fresh enough in the minds of traders to overshadow any such bearish influences as a surplus of crude oil. Many fortunes were made here out of Rio Grande's spectacular rise, and there is always the urge to repeat at the same game.

Technically, both Universal Consolidated and Bolsa Chica are well suited to rapid stock-market action. Only 48 per cent of Universal Consolidated's small capitalization is outstanding in the hands of the public, while Bolsa Chica has only 241,367 shares of Class A and 52,148 shares of Class B stock outstanding, both of $10 par value.

At Coal Oil Point, where the company is drilling its well at the end of a 1000-foot pier offshore, Bolsa Chica holds three tideland permits, totaling 276 acres. The initial well is located on a permit covering 191 acres.

Saunders Chain Reorganization Plan Approved

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Dec. 22. (AP) A plan for reorganization of the Clarence Saunders Stores, Inc., southern grocery chain now in receivership, was approved by Federal Judge Harry B. Anderson at a meeting of creditors today. Its promoters announced they hoped to launch the project early in February.

The chain of more than 150 stores went into receivership last July.

The reorganization plan would provide creditors for debts of approximately $1,500,000 pool their claims and receive preferred and common stock. Stockholders of the old concern, including Clarence Saunders, would be invited to purchase debentures and would be allowed a bonus of common stock.

Net of Copeland Products Sags

DETROIT, Dec. 22.—Copeland Products, Inc., today reported for the fiscal year ended October 31, last, net profits of $107,039 after all charges including depreciation and Federal taxes. Stock outstanding consists of 101,991 shares of Class A and 234,980 shares of Class B stock. The company's fiscal year previously coincided with the calendar year and for the twelve months ended December 31, 1929, net profits were $209,006 after taxes.

"All engineering and development expenses in connection with bringing out the 1931 line of refrigerators were charged off against current operations as were the expenses incurred when the factory was moved from Detroit to Mt. Clemens, Mich., during the early part of the fiscal year," said William Robert Wilson, chairman. "No charges were made to surplus account," he said.

PRINTING INK UNIT PASSES UP DIVIDEND

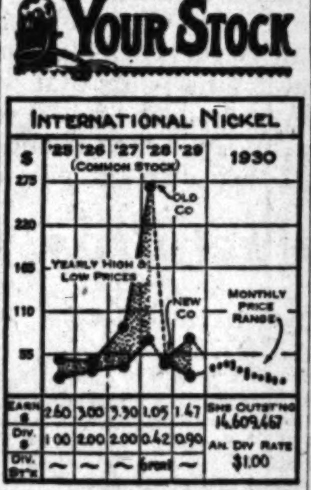
NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—International Printing Ink Company omitted today the quarterly dividend of 62½ cents a share due on the common stock at this time and declared the regular quarterly payment of $1.50 on the preferred. Earnings have been adversely affected by the continued drop in certain foreign exchanges, it was stated. Current assets November 30 were $8,522,537 and current liabilities $1,016,643, a ratio of 8½ to 1. Of current assets $2,015,383 were in cash and government securities.

Bankers Plan Mexican Loan

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22. (AP)—Banking circles here understand the government soon will announce a credit of several million dollars extended by an American bank for stabilization of the silver exchange.

On the strength of these reports the silver peso has recovered rapidly in the last few days, increasing in value from 21 per cent less than the gold peso to only 10 per cent less.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



INTERNATIONAL NICKEL OF CANADA

After acquiring the Mond Nickel Company early in 1929, this company attained a practical monopoly of the world's production of nickel, accounting for about 90 per cent of the total supply. Monel metal, an alloy of nickel and copper, is also an exclusive product of the company. Development of the Frood mine, rich in copper as well as nickel, has made the organization one of the most important factors in the copper producing industry. Total ore reserves are placed at something over 200,000,000 tons.

The very depressed conditions in the copper markets of the world and a curtailed demand for nickel have been reflected in the company's nine months' earnings report. Per share results for the 1930 period at 58 cents are down 41 per cent from the $1.11 return in 1929. Although inventories have shown about a 25 per cent increase since 1929, an excellent financial position has been maintained throughout a poor business year, with current assets more than five times current liabilities.

Silver Value Sharply Up on London Mart

LONDON, Dec. 22. (AP)—The silver market rallied sharply today, sharing in the upward movement shown by tin and copper, and to a lesser extent by lead and spelter.

Both India and China were buyers of silver and as the offerings were small the cash quotation jumped by 7-16 of a penny to 15 1-16 pence per ounce. Silver for future delivery increased by 5-16 of a penny to 15 pence per ounce.

Tin jumpd sharply upward to £114 3-16 per ton.

Edgar M. Phillips of M. H. Lewis & Co., has been elected second vice-president, the office formerly held by Mr. Donnell. Edwin L. Harbach of William Cavalier & Co., has been elected treasurer succeeding Mr. Wolcott.

American States Utility Net Up

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—American States Public Service Company and subsidiaries for the twelve months ended November 30, last, showed gross revenues of $1,770,076 as against $1,716,624 in the previous year, an increase of 3.10 per cent, according to a report issued today. Profits available for interest charges and reserves amounted to $934,901 as against $872,302 in the preceding twelve months, an increase of 7.20 per cent.

November profits available for interest charges and reserves were $78,349 as compared with $72,886 the same month of 1929, making the nineteenth consecutive month in which profits on this basis exceeded the similar period of the previous year.

OHIO LEATHER PAYS PREFERRED ARREARS

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 22.—Ohio Leather Company today declared a dividend of $5 on its second preferred stock on account of accumulated dividends and the regular quarterly dividends of $2 on the first preferred and $1.75 on the second preferred, all payable January 2 to stock of record the 22nd inst. After payment of the $9 dividend, accumulations on the second preferred will amount to about $20.

PACIFIC MUTUAL INCREASES RATE

Quarterly Dividend Boosted From 50 to 60 Cents

Annual Offering of Stock on New Basis

Price of Additional Shares Reduced to $25

Increase in the dividend rate from 50 cents to 60 cents quarterly on the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company stock was announced yesterday by George I. Cochran in a letter to stockholders, which also submitted the proposal to reduce the annual offering of stock from $50 a share for each ten shares held to $25 a share for each twenty shares held.

The stock increase will be submitted to the stockholders for their approval at the annual meeting February 2, next, while the first dividend under the new scale will be paid January 1, next.

PART OF PROGRAM

The annual stock offering is part of a ten-year program begun two years ago during which time the capital of the company has been increased 21 per cent and the stock has been sold to the stockholders at $50 a share, which was considerably under the market value.

The amount of stock to be issued each year and the price at which it is to be sold was and is to be determined yearly by the directors and stockholders, the letter stated.

"Owing to the present disturbed state of the stock market and the feeling of depression, it is thought advisable to make the next issue one in twenty, instead of one in ten, and to fix the price at $25 a share, instead of $50 a share." Mr. Cochran explained in his letter.

"I announced some time ago that the company would work out some plan which would be to the advantage of the stockholders, and the foregoing plan meets this promise, together with an increase of the dividend on the stock, for the coming year, at least, of 20 per cent, namely, 60 cents per share per quarter, instead of 50 cents per quarter."

LOSSES SMALL

Mr. Cochran also revealed yesterday that the company has only three items of delinquent interest on $170,000,000 or more of assets, and that this interest, totaling $1850.39, may be collected by the end of the year.

Based on yesterday's closing bid of $54 a share on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, the theoretical value of the rights of the proposed offering is $1.38.

Smelters Boost Price Schedule for Red Metal

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—The supply of copper available in the market at 10 cents a pound ran out today and customs smelters raised their price to 10 1-4 cents. Producers seemed to have the edge on consumers in the price contest which has developed in recent weeks.

Prices had been jacked up to 12 cents a pound, after touching a thirty-four-year low at 9½ cents, but domestic consumers refused to pay that price, and the metal subsequently got down to 10 cents. Large producers then withdrew from the market.

Substantial amounts of the metal have recently been sold for export on the basis of a domestic price of 10 cents. Foreign buyers on Saturday took 5,000,000 pounds, and some 3,000,000 more this morning.

Fuel Oil Cut by Standard Unit

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has made a reduction of 10 cents a barrel in Diesel fuel oil at Gulf Coast points, including Bayton, Ingleside, Baton Rouge, New Orleans and Westwego. The new price is $1.60 a barrel and is effective the 23rd inst.

Standard Oil Company of New York has made a general reduction in gasoline prices throughout its territory, embracing New York and New England. In New York City the cut is 1 cent a gallon, making tank wagon price 11.3 cents, including State tax of 2 cents. In Boston the cut is also 1 cent, while in some sections the reduction is 2 cents and a few places 3 cents a gallon.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Trading in cotton was very quiet today and after an opening demand promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables had been supplied, prices dropped back to about Saturday's closing quotations, with later fluctuations narrow and irregular. The midafternoon market was fairly steady, with March ruling around 10.02, and with the general list about net unchanged to 3 points higher.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—Barring momentary firmness in old December, the cottonseed oil market was easier today, although only a small business was done on the decline. Scattered selling was prompted by the sharp break in lard, especially December, weakness in grains, easiness in cottonseed and reported sales of extra tallow at 4½c. ⅛c lower, and a new low record. The market closed easy, with prices 6 to 15 points lower. Sales were 2700 barrels, all in new contracts. RELIEF FUND BOON TO IDLE

Public Works Appropriation Voted by Congress Cheering News for Christmas Week

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—How much unemployment will be relieved by the Federal appropriation of $116,000,000 for emergency construction work? It's hard to estimate, though road construction work gets far the largest part of it.

Bear in mind, this large sum must go into seven definite channels as follows:

Federal aid highway system to States	$ 80,000,000
Rivers and harbors	22,500,000
Flood control of the Mississippi and tributaries	3,000,000
Highways in national forests	3,000,000
Roads and trails in national forests	3,000,000
Roads in unreserved public lands	3,000,000
Roads and trails in national parks	1,500,000
Total—	$116,000,000

Both Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, and Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, deprecated the sum as being altogether too small to meet the distress.

Senator Couzens of Michigan objected on the ground that the legislation, as passed, did not provide that "local labor should be used on Federal building contracts." He also wanted to insist that contractors must maintain a high standard of wages, and not be allowed to lower wages because of the present situation.

Henry Ford is usually given credit for originating the high-wage theory, which has made his name famous throughout the world. But Senator Couzens's friends say that while the Senator was general manager of the Ford Motor Company he inaugurated the wage system, and convinced Mr. Ford of its soundness.

"If it is necessary for conditions to get worse before they get better, I am willing to make those conditions as bad as possible, if that is necessary, to impress on contractors and employers the necessity of maintaining a high-wage standard," said Senator Couzens, Saturday.

But the House of Representatives, in this fight, was complete master of the situation. It forced the Senate to recede from every Senate amendment. The House bill, without amendment, was passed and signed by the President.

However, no Christmas week news could be better for the thousands out of work than the passage of this bill, and we need more music of the same kind.

V. Molotoff, soviet Russia's new Premier, is just 40 years of age. He bears a striking resemblance to the late Theodore Roosevelt, with his pince-nez, heavy drooping black mustache, broad forehead, abundant head of hair, and strong masculine jaw.

While he is the understudy and right-hand man of Joseph Stalin, the iron dictator of Russia, he has led the life of the political agitator and outcast since he was 22. At 25, he was arrested by the Czar's troops and spent two years in prison for revolutionary activities. After release from prison, he helped to start two radical newspapers in Petrograd, now Leningrad. Twice again—in 1912 and in 1915—he got into the clutches of the Russian law and was sent to Siberia. Both times he escaped, and when the Bolsheviks came into power fourteen years ago, he was ready to join in advancing a Communistic state.

Today he is a member of the Polithuro (Communist Political Bureau) and the inner circle of the central executive committee of the soviet government.

Alexei Rykoff, level-headed peasant who has been Premier of Russia for a decade, disagreed with Dictator Stalin. He was removed from office.

Russia is a land of ideas. But there is only one who is boss in both business and politics—and that is Stalin. Nobody is strong enough to oppose him. Trotsky tried it and he was banished. Rykoff, top man, tried it with no better success. Stalin, son of a Georgian peasant, is more powerful today than any Czar—or Lenin either—ever was.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Price movement in the bond market became decidedly two sided today, after steadily forging ahead three days. Second grade issues that staged the strongest comeback last week showed a reversal of form, succumbing to the influence of a weak share market. Prime bonds, however, were steady to firm, showing small fractional changes principally on the upside.

Railroad convertibles showed good resistance to selling pressure, and most of the active group held their recent gains. Liberty bonds were steady and quiet. There was a large turnover in Treasury 4¼s and 4s, at 2-32nds under Saturday's closing price.

In bond circles considerable interest was shown in the report the Federal Reserve will follow a policy in 1931, of making banking funds even more plentiful than they have been this year, which should prove stimulating to bonds.

It is understood many corporations, notably utilities, have planned bond issues to finance their normal expansions or to purchase supplies, but have found market conditions unsatisfactory for several months.

Railroad bonds that led the advance last week showed the largest losses today.

Foreign dollar bonds were irregularly higher.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Stocks Ease Fractionally Lower With Light Sales Volume on Local Market

Security prices indicated a tendency to drift to lower levels as trading opened the holiday week yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The movement, however, did not unleash any substantial liquidation and recessions were held to fractions for the most part on a light volume of sales.

Southern California Edison, Standard Oil of California and Security-First National Bank were the only issues to record more than a fractional decrease. Bolsa Chica Oil featured the market with a turnover of 2700 shares and an advance of 1½ points to a new high of 16½. The stock closed at 16.

Edison fell off 1 1-4 points to a low and close for the session at 42¾ and Standard Oil of California yielded a similar amount to 44 3-4. Security-First National lost 1 5-8 to 83 3-8. Transamerica, with sales of 6000 shares, dropped from a high at 13 3-8 to close at 12 3-4 for a net loss of 3-4. Citizens National dipped ½ to a new low at 82. Pacific Mutual Life, with a closing bid at 54, was not traded. Pacific Finance eased 1-4 to 13 7-8. Union Bank held to 325.

Union Oil issues continued to trade rapidly. Stock of the operating company dipped 3-4 to 22 and the Associates lost 7-8 to 20 7-8. Richfield, which also sold briskly, fell to 4 7-8 and recovered to end at 5 1-8, off 1-8 net. The preferred stock sold down 7-8 to a new bottom at 7 1-8. Rio Grande held to 6.

Douglas Aircraft, on light sales, sold off 1-4 to establish a new low at 11 3-4. Claude Neon yielded ⅛ to 15¼.

Sales totaled 23,961 shares valued at $402,064; previous day, 9527 shares valued at $216,232.

SEASONAL LULL ON METAL MART

Light Trade Accentuated by Holiday Dullness

Copper Price Settles Back to 10-Cent Level

Zinc Quiet and Lower; Lead Weak, Unchanged

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor, The Mining Journal, Phoenix

The extreme quietness of the metal market is a natural condition at this time in the year except that this year it is accentuated by a normally dull period. There is little desire on the part of the buyers to add to inventories, particularly when it is evident that they can buy just as cheaply after the holiday season.

Silver continues to make new low prices, having four times in one week recorded the lowest price in its history and standing, at the end of the week, at 31 1-4 cents. The question of silver still remains one of oversupply and underdemand, with China selling rather than buying.

FIRM BUT UNINTERESTING

There is very little interest in the zinc market. The price has gradually dropped to 4.00 f.o.b. St. Louis. The tactics of the purchasers are the calling for quotations with no intention of buying. It is felt that there will be very little interest in the zinc market until after the holidays but, as the consumers are not bought ahead, there should be good interest after the new year.

The zinc market has remained firm due to the fact that the producers have the market well in hand and there is no longer any doubt that a serious attempt is being made to strike a balance between production and consumption.

London lead has continued to weaken, although up to the present time there has been a wide margin of parity between the domestic and foreign price. This parity has been reduced so that now the domestic price of 5.10 f.o.b. New York is just about on the level with the London market. Although the domestic situation in lead has indicated a price advance, it has been held up by foreign weakness and is not now justified.

The London and domestic markets are so close together that it offers no incentive to the buyer as they desire to wait and see what is going to happen. The buying has been unusually light and here, too, no material change is expected until after the break of the new year although continued London weakness may force the domestic price down to meet the foreign quotations.

COPPER NOW 10 CENTS

Continued slow buying has been gradually reducing the custom smelter copper price so that now it stands at 10 cents with the prospect of going lower if present tactics are maintained. Copper advanced on the crest of a buying wave from 9½ cents to 12 in a few days, but could not remain there as the custom plants required buying levels and were forced to continue to cut prices until levels were found at which a market could be obtained. The custom plant cuts were followed by a reduction in the producers' quotations for export only, as most producers are entirely out of the domestic market.

It is not unnatural that considerable price cutting should be necessary to get a buying level as the consumers do not have to purchase any copper for a long while. The domestic fabricators are covered for at least five months and foreign users for at least two months. Thus there is nothing but a slow, low-price market to be expected for several months and no material change can be expected until the surplus stocks begin to approach normal figures.

The price trend of copper depends almost entirely upon the general business conditions. The present rate of production meets the requirements of the situation in so far as matching production and present consumption but it provides no leeway toward the getting rid of surplus stocks. Only an improvement in business conditions and the consequent greater demand for copper products will do that.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—Daily Steel today says: Some of the uncertainty clouding the eastern plate market has been cleared away by the action of one leading seller in naming $1.75 Coatesville for first tonnage. Other makers are expected to take similar action momentarily. Little buying pressure is noted, but it is expected that future contracting will develop more rapidly from now on, with the real market test coming next month. If the first quarter of next year does not show a bulge in business it will be an exception to the general rule.

Grain Futures Turn Lower on Bearish Market

CHICAGO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Jolted by an immense reported wheat surplus in Argentina and prospective huge enlargement of wheat seeding in Russia, most grains tumbled sharply today. Increased visible supplies of corn gave additional unsteadiness to the corn market. Practically no rallying power in prices developed, and the Liverpool wheat market fell to the bottom-most point reached since 1895, with corn in Chicago the lowest yet this season.

Wheat closed irregular, from the same as Saturday to a setback of 2⅛ cents. Corn closed heavy, 2⅛@2⅞ cents down. Oats, ⅝@1 cent off, and provisions unchanged to 77 cents drop.

Except for prices on old crop domestic wheat, that has virtually been "cornered" by Farm Board allies, all grains plunged downward from the start. A bearish circumstance was news the Winnipeg wheat market had fallen to practically 50 cents a bushel. There was confirmation Argentine government crop estimates pointed to a 1930 exportable wheat surplus of 200,000,000 bushels, 120,000,000 bushels more than last season.

Corn suffered worst after notice corn visible supply showed more than 3,000,000 bushels increase the last week. Oats weakened owing to sympathy with wheat and corn.

Buying support for provisions gave out, despite firmness of the hog market.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The week opened with a plentiful supply of cattle and the weaker trend of late last week was reflected in the steady to 25c lower market. The better grade steers and dairy type cows suffered the most decline. Nevada, intermountain sections and Montana furnished majority of desirable killing stock, with a few loads of California and Arizona cattle suitable for killers. Trade was moderately active at the decline with majority of killing classes sold by the noon hour. Stocker and feeder cattle were not as numerous as last week and very few sales were made during the morning.

A load of 892-pound well finished steers brought 9.50 with six loads of 1197 to 1300-pound steers at 9.35. One load of 941-pound steers made 9.25 with several loads of medium to low good steers averaging 939 to 1200 pounds selling at 8.75@9.15. A couple of loads under 1000 pounds brought 8.50 with a load of 880-pound Arizonas at 8.35 and odd lots at 7.25@8.25, including a load of 890-pound Arizona Mexican steers at 7.90. One load of yearling steers went to a feeder at 7.50.

No outstanding heifers were offered, only a few head being good enough to reach 7.85. Two loads of weighty heifers sold at 7.25@7.50 with some at 6.85@7.00. A few heiferish cows sold at 6.75 and 6.85 with a load and a few small lots going at 6.50. Bulk of common to top medium cows brought 4.75@6.00 with low cutters and cutters largely 3.00@4.50, thin shelly cows selling down to 2.50. Around a load of light southwestern bulls went to killers at 6.65@6.75 with good weighty kinds at 5.75@6.50 and common to medium kinds on down to 4.00 and below.

CALVES—Although receipts were plentiful, trade was active and steady to 25c higher. Odd head of native milk vealers brought 10.00@13.50 with some of various weights around 9.50. A load of 252-pound southwestern calves scored 9.40 with several loads at 8.25@9.25. Common heavies sold down to 6.00 and under. About a load of stock calves cashed at 7.25@7.75.

HOGS—Trade was very slow on the light receipts, owing largely to higher asking prices, and a clearance was not made until after noon. Trade finally materialized on a steady to 15c higher basis. A load of 198-pound eastern butchers with freight benefit went to an outsider at 9.70 with practical top standing at 9.35, paid for a load of 161-pound weights. Three loads of easterns averaging up to 204 pounds cashed at 9.25 and a load of 212-pound weights brought 9.15. Some packing sows were sorted off loads at 7.50@8.00.

SHEEP—Early arrivals sold fully steady, quality and weight considered, but four decks that arrived late were unsold after 1 o'clock. About four decks of good 84-pound Utah lambs brought 7.40 sorted 10 per cent at 6.00 and two decks of plainer 86-pound Californias brought 6.50 with 10 per cent out at 5.50. Good to choice light lambs are quoted around 8.00 and medium to choice ewes at 3.00@4.00 or possibly a little higher.

Aid to Stripper Oil Field Pends

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Standard Oil Company of Indiana is willing to join with other purchasers of crude oil in aiding the independent owners of stripper oil wells in Kansas who will lose a market for their oil when Prairie Oil and Gas Company ceases buying on January 1, Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard company, announced following a telegraphic appeal from Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas.

Mr. Seubert pointed out that his company was in no way responsible for the situation. Representatives of the company, he added, will go to Kansas to meet with the producers in an effort to work out a method whereby part of the output of the stripper wells can be sold to the Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing Company.

We threw away $2,100!

WHEN THE BUILDING AND LOAN COMMISSIONER . . had the striking idea . . of demanding ONE outside audit . . we threw away $2,100 . . to have a notable LOS ANGELES auditing firm give us the ONE demanded audit . . to check up our own CONTINUOUS, INDEPENDENT AUDITOR.

Get this clear. For years, annually, the stockholders of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA have hired an independent auditor, working by the HOUR, to carry on a CONTINUOUS, DAY-BY-DAY, INDEPENDENT, UNBOSSED AUDIT. Well, sir, that auditor, Harry H. Denny, carries HIS savings in the Mutual, now. No officer can fire or boss him.

WHY, WE DIDN'T THINK ENOUGH OF ONE AUDIT . . to advertise it . . though it cost us $2,100 . . because we have the old-fashioned, small-town idea . . that it takes a CONTINUOUS, INDEPENDENT AUDIT . . just to catch HONEST mistakes . . and a clever crook won't WORK under the gun of a continuous audit . . there being safer ways to make dishonest money . . are we right?

Bless you, we have published that audit monthly for years. But, we HAVE the daily audit primarily for our own PERSONAL protection against the unlimited liability back of $3,400,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve. If WE are safe under that unlimited liability, we KNOW that YOUR guaranteed 6% account is also safe.

For years we've been telling YOU things in these ads. We've been cussed, discussed and criticized for them in HIGH official places. It doesn't take ONE audit for us to know, after 38 years in the building and loan business, that it takes ABSOLUTE ECONOMY AND CONSERVATISM to make a profit in this business. We're on the 10th floor, in Los Angeles.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont — "Fast and Loose." Youth, romance and thrills are presented to good effect. With Carole Lombard.

California, Main and Eighth—"Toda Una Vida." Senora Carmen Larrabeiti's emotional acting marks this Spanish version of "Sarah and Son."

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Min and Bill." A drama of the water front which runs from slapstick to tragedy. Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery.

Chinese, 6933 Hollywood — "Morocco." Von Sternberg's drama, styled to repression and realism, is a definite contribution to the screen. Gary Cooper and Marlene Dietrich.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Paid." A dramatic piece of theatricalism with an exceptional performance by Joan Crawford.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Road to Paradise" and "The Fourth Alarm."

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Princess and the Plumber." Light but entertaining romance between Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Fast and Loose."

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Remote Control." Radio and mystery served up by Billy Haines.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Follow the Leader." Ed Wynn in a funny screen version of his stage play, "Manhattan Mary."

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Renegades." Foreign Legion adventures and Myrna Loy.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Captain Thunder." Victor Varconi proves a good-hearted bandit chief and Charles Judels is very amusing in a character role.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Ex-Flame." Supposedly a new version of "East Lynne," but you will not notice any resemblance.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Dubarry, Woman of Passion." The notorious figure of history is ably portrayed by Norma Talmadge.

Uptown, Western at Tenth — "Big Money."

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Lincoln." The masterly art of a great director and the acting ability of a reputable star make of this biographical impression a fine picture worth seeing.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"River's End." Charles Bickford plays a dual role in this rather satisfying outdoor feature.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"River's End."

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard — "Tom Sawyer." Mark Twain's classic of youth is enacted by some clever youngsters.

STAGE

El Capitan, Holly'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Elmer the Great." Joe E. Brown's monkeyshines in this Ring Lardner farce score a decided hit.

Music Box, Hollywood near Gower—"Peter Pan." Scenically sumptuous revival of Never-Never Land fantasy with Marion Clayton a gay Peter Pan. Sure to delight youngsters, especially.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

"BIG BILL'S" HONOR HELD SMIRCHED

Lottery Plan Expose by Col. Randolph Basis of $1,000,000 Slander Suit

CHICAGO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, was named defendant in a $1,000,000 slander suit filed today by Mayor Thompson in Superior Court. The suit is based on a letter Col. Randolph wrote to the Federal Radio Commission calling attention to Thompson's "prosperity" plan and indicating it was a lottery and therefore illegal.

The declaration charges that Mayor Thompson was "falsely heralded throughout the United States and foreign countries as a corrupt and dishonest person and public official and the promoter of a huge lottery in violation of the law of the United States and the State of Illinois."

"Aside from injury to his reputation Mayor Thompson has been "greatly obstructed and handicapped in carrying out his aforesaid prosperity plan."

Col. Randolph said:

"The letter to which Mayor Thompson objects is based on facts and I stand by it."

Mueren Rebaños de Comunistas Chinos

SHANGHAI, Diciembre 22.—Las tropas del gobierno han matado 2000 bandidos comunistas en Ningtú, provincia de Kiangsi, y otros dos mil en Tsingshih, provincia de Hunán, en el curso de una resuelta campaña enderezada a poner fin al bandidaje y la carnicería, según notician hoy los mensajes de prensa.

El presidente Chiang Kai-shek ha tomado la dirección personal de esa campaña, que será llevada a cabo por tropas, que, de ser necesario para exterminar el bandolerismo, pueden hacerse subir hasta 300,000 hombres

Decían esos despachos que los soldados nacionalistas tomaron por asalto el cuartel general comunista en Ningtú matando a 2000 rojos. Pusieron en libertad a 500 cautivos que tenían allí como rehenes y destruyeron la capital del gobierno comunista. Ningtú, que llevaba dos años en poder de los rojos, fue no ha mucho teatro de un sangriento encuentro entre soldados y comunistas, que terminó con la derrota de los primeros.

Los Angeles es la Segunda Ciudad en Punto a Edificación

SAN FRANCISCO, Diciembre 22. Cuatro ciudades de la costa del Pacífico figuran, en el mes de Noviembre, entre los primeros veinticinco centros de edificación. Los Angeles y Seattle realizaron notables progresos, al paso que Portland se colocó en vigésimo primer lugar, después de haberse quedado en Octubre fuera del grupo selecto.

San Francisco es otra de las veinticinco ciudades aludidas, y se clasificó en quinceno lugar. Los Angeles se puso en segundo, tras haber sido cuarta en Octubre; y Seattle se colocó en cuarto lugar, después de haber tenido el decimoséptimo en Octubre. La clasificación de referencia fue publicada hoy por S. W. Straus y Compañía.

California volvió a ocupar el segundo lugar, con una construcción de edificios valorada en $10,545,583. Nueva York está en la cúspide con $48,683,399, y Washington pasó a décimo lugar con $3,758,815.

Por Patinar en Auto sobre Hielo Perecen Ahogados

ESCANABA (Michigan) Diciembre 22.—El nuevo deporte del patinaje sobre hielo en automóvil ha cobrado hoy en los lagos septentrionales la vida de una madre y dos niños. El hombre que guiaba el auto en que aquellos iban resultó gravemente lesionado.

La señora Elmer Klassell, de 32 años de edad, y sus hijos, Eugenio, de trece y Betty Jane, de cuatro, perecieron ahogados en las heladas aguas de Little Bay de Nocquette, pues el auto que ocupaban, perteneciente a Telesphore Thompson, pupilo de la señora Klassell, rompió el hielo y se hundió.

Thomson los había invitado a dar un paseo sobre el hielo, y frenaba de cuando en cuando su coche para sentir la emoción de patinar. Dirigió su vehículo hacia un lugar donde estaba el hielo muy delgado, no obstante que un patinador le previno del peligro, según dice la policía. Hundiéronse primero las ruedas traseras del coche, y Thompson se dio maña para salir por la ventanilla. Los demás se fueron a pique con el automóvil.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

"¿De dónde cogiste eso, Clara?", le preguntó su madre con severidad al ver la patata. ("Where did you get that, Clara?", asked her mother sternly when she saw the potato).

"Me l'acabo de hallar en el suelo . . . . y como tengo tanta hambre", gimoteó Clara. Pero su madre le dijo que la patata no le pertenecía aunque se la hubiera hallado, y que tenía que bajarla y ponerla de nuevo en la calle ("I des' founded it on the ground—an I'se so hungry", cried Clara. But her mother told her that the potato did not belong to her, even though she had found it, and that she must carry it down and put it in the street again).

Aunque no la dejaban ir a la escuela, Clara aprendió a leer en su casa "El Avance del Peregrino" y "El Vicario de Wakefield". Aprendió a deletrear mientras su madre le cepillaba el cabello (Although she was not allowed to go to school Clara learned to read "The Pilgrim's Progress" and "The Vicar of Wakefield" at home. She learned to spell while her mother was brushing her hair).

Three Liquor Boats Seized

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Seizure yesterday of three rum-running vessels with crews of eight men and liquor worth $130,000 was announced by the Coast Guard today. One of the captured craft sank after 400 cases had been transferred to a Coast Guard boat.

TEN IN ALMSHOUSE KILLED BY FUMES

JITSCHIN (Czecho-Slovakia) Dec. 22. (AP)—Forty inmates of an almshouse here were overcome today by fumes of a fumigating poison. Ten died and thirteen are not expected to live.

It is Best To Wait For a While

When the need comes to select a funeral service, here is the easiest and wisest thing to do—call upon a good funeral director to take complete charge, then wait until the family has grown a little calmer before deciding on the type of service to be used.

We encourage people to do this, because it eliminates mistakes or disappointments. Our families call us at the first need and make our lovely mortuary their second home, with a private room provided for them. Then, when they are able, a quiet selection is made of just the right service for their purse and station in life.

It is always understood that, whatever service is selected, the complete facilities of this newest and finest mortuary are at the disposal of every family.

Complete funeral services, of the most beautiful kind, are provided for as little as [illegible]

BETROTHAL OF AVIATRIX ANNOUNCED

Marjorie Crawford Will Wed Director of Aerial Pictures "Some Day"

Culminating a romance which began at her birthday party last September, Marjorie Crawford, 22 years of age, aviatrix, yesterday announced her engagement to William Wellman, Hollywood motion-picture director. Wellman gained a wide reputation in the film colony for his direction of air pictures.

WILLIAM WELLMAN

Miss Crawford is well known in Southern California. Recently she escaped serious injury in a plane crash only to be "grounded" by an automobile accident shortly afterward which kept her in a hospital with a broken ankle and hip for four months and prevented her participation in the recent Chicago National Air Races.

The aviatrix and the director were introduced to each other at her birthday party. They have not made plans for their wedding, inasmuch as both are awaiting final divorce decrees. Wellman was divorced in August by Mrs. Margery E. Wellman, former Follies beauty, while Miss Crawford recently obtained an interlocutory decree.

Wellman directed the air picture "Wings," and is himself an air enthusiast.

Baking Company Pays Bonuses at Holiday Party

Approximately $10,000 in bonus checks was distributed to all employees of the Weber Baking Company during the annual Christmas party and dance held Saturday night in the Central Manufacturing District, it was announced yesterday.

Dale Weber, vice-president, pointed out that notwithstanding general business conditions the company has enjoyed another year of splendid growth. During the year the company purchased forty-two new delivery trucks in addition to thirty-five new bodies for trucks already in operation. With an increase of 5 per cent in its employees the company not only made no wage reductions, but actually increased some wages.

FLOOD-CONTROL PLANS CHECKED

Use of $25,000,000 Bond Fund Halted

Chairman Wright Declines to Validate Issue

Diversion of Money Illegal, Declares Supervisor

Refusal of Henry W. Wright, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, to sign $5,000,000 worth of the unused balance of the $25,000,000 bond issue voted for a high dam in San Gabriel Canyon yesterday started the wheels moving for a test suit which will be filed immediately in Supreme Court to determine whether the money can be used for other flood control projects, providing the original purpose is carried out.

Action to settle once and for all by court decision whether the $21,000,000 balance of the bond issue, voted in 1924, can be used in San Gabriel Canyon, following the abandonment of the high dam project, followed the appearance of E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the flood control district, before the board with a new plan for flood control in the area.

NEW PLAN ADVANCED

The engineer pointed out that if the unused balance of the issue can be used three dams, check dams and a spreading ground can be built in San Gabriel Canyon which will carry out the original purpose for which the $25,000,000 was voted. He declared the amount left of the issue is sufficient to carry out the new plan.

Under cross-examination of Attorney Vincent Morgan, special counsel for the flood control district, Eaton declared that the county has been prohibited by an order of the State Engineer from proceeding with the high dam project because of earth faults discovered at the Forks site and the project abandoned. He advised the building of three small dams and numerous check dams, also a spreading ground at the mouth of the canyon. He said there are twenty square miles of watershed in the area suitable for check dams. He was not prepared to state, however, how many check dams he plans to build.

The engineer also pointed out the change of conditions in the canyon since the bond issue of $25,000,000 was voted six years ago.

FIRE ALTERS CONDITIONS

"In August, 1924, more than 50,000 acres of watershed was burned over," the engineer said. "This caused a movement of earth and dirt to the stream bed."

He also pointed out that during the last six years there has been a general lowering of the water in underground reservoirs, which makes the problem of conservation more simplified, to be met with the smaller dams.

Following the presentation of the flood control engineer's plan a resolution was offered by Supervisor Thatcher providing that because of changed conditions in the canyon the unused balance of the bond issue be used for the building of three new dams, check dams and a spreading ground. Also that the chairman of the board be authorized to sign $5,000,000 of the unused balance of the San Gabriel bonds to be sold for the purpose of paying for the first unit of the new project. The resolution was adopted by a four-fifths vote, Chairman Wright voting against it.

In voting no Supervisor Wright handed the clerk of the board a communication to read as follows:

WRIGHT'S EXPLANATION

"By your resolution you have directed the issuance and sale of additional bonds of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District in order that funds may be available for the acquisition of spreading grounds and the construction of dams and appurtenant works to control and conserve the flood waters of the San Gabriel River in San Gabriel Canyon.

"The necessity for eliminating the danger of devastating floods on the one hand and increasing our water supply by preventing the flow from wasting into the ocean on the other, is universally recognized and I am heartily in favor of any plan that will accomplish these results. Nevertheless, the proposals made by the chief flood-control engineer and approved by your resolution entail the expenditure of vast sums of public money. For the assurance of the property owners who must pay

ORCHARDISTS SMOKE UP

General Firing of Smudge Pots Beats Off New Threat of Frost to Nip Fruit

Smudge pots in many sections of the Southern California citrus belt went into operation again last night against a frost threat that hovered over the orchards and groves. In other regions, however, the danger was minimized by breezes blowing in the valleys.

F. D. Young, chief of the government frost experts with headquarters at Pomona, predicted "general firing" of the pots while he estimated that the mercury in some localities would drop to 20 or 21 deg.

The warnings for last night were duplicated from the previous night, when the Frost King nipped at the citrus crops but in the main, according to observers, was thwarted by timely operation of smudges, preventing any appreciable damage.

At 11 p.m. last night Young reported temperatures ranging between 25 and 29 deg., in districts embracing Pomona, San Bernardino, Ontario, Azusa, Riverside, High Grove, Bloomington, Upland and North Whittier Heights. He said that a breeze was blowing at that hour in the Colton-Rialto district supporting the mercury.

About 10:30 p.m., E. S. Ellison reported a breeze blowing over Santa Clara Valley, and the temperature standing at 52 deg., at Santa Paula, the location of the observer's station. That temperature was expected to prevail generally over the valley, including Piru, Fillmore, Ventura and the northern section of San Fernando Valley.

In the Ojai Valley, however, the temperature began falling from 44 deg., at nightfall, and it was expected to register a much lower figure early this morning there and also in Ventura Canyon, Santa Barbara and the southwest portion of San Fernando Valley.

Leland Johnson, the frost observer at Corona, at 11 p.m., reported a wind blowing at his station and the temperature standing near 40 deg., and also in the western section of Arlington.

In the 11 p.m. report, Harry N. Weirauch, stationed at Redlands, said that the temperature was as low as 26 deg., in some localities

PLANE CRASH MAIL SAVED

Part of Postal Cargo in Giant W.A.E. Craft That Struck House Will Be Salvaged

At least 40 per cent of the 1445-pound Christmas mail cargo aboard the trimotored Western Air Express cabin monoplane westbound from Salt Lake City, Utah, which crashed in making a forced landing a quarter of a mile south of the company's Alhambra landing port early yesterday morning, will be salvaged, it was announced last night by W. D. Edmonds, chief mail clerk at Los Angeles Postoffice.

Six pouches of registered mail were included in the heavy shipment, but reports that a large amount of cash was destroyed, growing out of the discovery of some loose coins and bills found near the wrecked and burned plane, were denied by Edmonds.

The only man injured in the spectacular crash and fire, Al Osterhout, Wyoming rancher, was recovering last night from burns on his hands and face at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harrison Guio, bra. Osterhout was the only passenger on the plane.

COUPLE IN HOUSE UNHURT

Neither Pilot Howard B. Cox nor Copilot George Sherwood was injured. They escaped through the top of the pilot compartment a few seconds after their giant airliner had torn through a string of telephone wires and struck the small bungalow occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Toner, 412 East Hellman avenue, Monterey Park.

The couple were not hurt, but their home was practically destroyed by the flames which spread from the blazing plane in their front yard.

From statements made by those in the ship and ground observers, it was indicated the crash was due to a combination of poor visibility and motor failure. A heavy blanket of smoke, caused by smudging in nearby orange groves, lay over the port when the huge red ship glided in for a landing at about 1:45 a.m.

Pilot Cox told Capt. Claude Morgan, head of the Sheriff's aviation division, that he overshot the field.

"I opened the throttle then to pick up speed and altitude and in-

ROAD FUND TO RETAIN CITY JOBS

County Votes $362,280 for Highway Work Which Will Keep 180 Men Busy

A total of 180 men were assured continued employment yesterday when the Board of Supervisors voted to allocate to the city of Los Angeles $362,280 from the county good road and gasoline-tax fund for maintaining highways within the city limits.

The money was appropriated on motion of Supervisor Shaw following the appearance before the board of W. J. Sanborn, president of the City Council; Councilman Davis, Hugh McGuire, president, and Arthur Eldridge, member, of the Board of Public Works of the city of Los Angeles.

Eldridge stated the money will be used in connection with approximately $405,000 of the city's funds, between January 1 next and July 1, to maintain city roadways that connect with important county highways. He said the allocation will keep at least 180 men on the city pay roll who otherwise would be discharged.

Out of the appropriation made by the county, $108,000 will come from the county's good-road fund for the purchase of materials and $254,280 from its State gasoline-tax money.

CITY SUED IN VICTORY PARK ISSUE

Injunction Plea Sets Up Illegality of Ordinance in Federal Court Action

Asserting that the Los Angeles city ordinance creating an assessment district for a park in Victory Park, No. 2, is unconstitutional and contrary to the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, H. L. Averill and Helen C. McNamara filed suit yesterday in United States District Court against the City of Los Angeles, the City Council, the Board of Public Works and others, seeking a temporary injunction.

The action, filed by Attorney John J. Beck, seeks a temporary injunction to prevent the various city boards and officials from enforcing the ordinance, which, it is asserted, will cost the property owners about $800,000.

A temporary injunction is sought pending hearing on an order to show cause regarding a permanent injunction. A date for a hearing is to be set today by United States District Judge James.

SALVATION ARMY TO GIVE 1500 FAMILIES DINNERS

The boon of a good dinner on Christmas is assured 1500 poor families, and the probability is every unfortunate in the city will be provided for, the Salvation Army yesterday announced through Brig. James C. Bell.

"The Salvation Army promises to leave no needy family without help," he said.

The basket dinners for the 1500 will be distributed from twenty-two centers in the city on Wednesday. Joseph B. Dabney, Los Angeles philanthropist, will be chairman in charge of distribution at the central auditorium of the army, 832 West Ninth street.

But the Salvation Army is also making elaborate plans for what it terms "a return visit by Santa Claus" at the Polytechnic High School on the evening of Saturday, the 27th inst.

This will be a party for poor children, and 3000 are expected. A special Santa, built of wood and towering twelve feet into the air, will be present. Candy and other gifts will be handed out. The Citadel Silver Band of the Salvation Army will provide music.

PARKER ROUTE WINS APPROVAL

Engineering Board Submits Its Recommendations

Choice by Water District Directors Anticipated

Analysis of Aqueduct Line Report Due Today

Selection of the Parker route as the best one to bring water to Southern California cities from the Colorado River was made virtually certain yesterday when the engineering board of review made such recommendation to the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District.

The report was accepted by the directors and will be their engineering guide when the final determination is made as to what route to follow for the great aqueduct. Following the presentation of the report by Thaddeus Merriman, chairman of the board of review, several hours of discussion were devoted to questions from directors on many phases of the report. The other two members of the board of review are A. J. Wiley of Boise City and Richard Lyman of Salt Lake City.

ANALYSIS TODAY

More formal and complete exposition of the report, together with discussion, will be had at a meeting of officials and representatives of the district to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Culbertson Hall, California Institute of Technology, Pasadena.

The Merriman report confirms the selection of the Parker route by Frank E. Weymouth, chief engineer of the district. Weymouth and his staff were given praise for their work in preparing their own report. The statistical material and engineering and geological data in this report were used by the engineers on the Merriman board. Other than personal inspection of vital points, no independent engineering surveys were made by the Merriman board. As Merriman explained, however, he and his associates used their own experience and judgment in arriving at conclusions based upon engineering data compiled by Weymouth and his associates, and upon the studies made by the geologists.

SEES SILT MENACE

Probably the only conclusion drawn by the Merriman board in variance with the Weymouth report and recommendation made accordingly was that the proposed diversion dam at Parker be not constructed for some years after the completion of Boulder Dam and the aqueduct, but that the water be drawn from the river directly by pumps.

The reason given for this method was that by omitting the dam for some years considerable silt that will be picked up by the water between Boulder Dam and the Parker intake, will thus be carried beyond the Parker site. With the dam at Parker built immediately the reservoir capacity behind it will be filled up by this silt. In other words, omitting the Parker dam for some years will permit the river below Boulder Dam to clean out the silt now in the channel to a large extent.

In reply to a question from John G. Bullock, director, Merriman stated that the water coming over the top of Boulder Dam will be practically clear. A certain amount of silt will be picked up below Boulder Dam.

CAN'T USE CANAL HERE

Owing to the desire to the district to co-operate if at all possible with the agricultural group of the State in the Imperial and Coachella valleys, the board made a special study of the proposal to utilize the All-American Canal route as part of the aqueduct route. The board found this to be not at all as desirable as the Parker route for several reasons, such as the proximity of the All-American route to the notorious San Andreas fault; the additional pumping cost; danger from cloudbursts; possible contamination of the water through irrigation uses, and the fact that the district would be, in the terms of irrigation users' parlance, "the last one on the ditch."

Bullock and Director Hutton, of San Monica, questioned Merriman closely and at length on this point, and then announced that though they regretted it, they were satisfied the All-American Canal route could not be utilized.

LAST HONORS PAID BOVARD

Prominent Citizens Crowd Chapel at Educator's Burial to Eulogize His Character

Announcement that funeral services would be private did not prevent scores of friends from attending the funeral rites for Warren B. Bovard, conducted yesterday at Bresee Brothers' mortuary, with Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid officiating. The little chapel was filled with prominent men and women, including Governor-elect Rolph, Mayor Porter and many outstanding leaders in the realms of religion and education.

Hundreds of wreaths and bouquets from friends in various parts of the State lined the walls of the chapel, covered the stairway leading to the second floor of the building and surrounded the casket, which was draped with the national colors.

Although on the verge of a nervous breakdown, due to the tragedy of last Wednesday, Mrs. Hazel J. Bovard, the widow, attended the services.

Following a hymn by Mrs. Roy Arnold and invocation by Dr. E. E. Helms, Dr. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, recited briefly the story of the life of Mr. Bovard, telling how he had risen from the position of treasurer of the university in 1903 to that of controller in 1920 and of vice-president in 1927.

Mentioning the services of Mr. Bovard as a member of the Native Sons, Los Angeles Park Commission, trustee of University Methodist Church, and in other capacities, Dr. Von KleinSmid declared that in his passing Los Angeles has lost one of its noblest citizens.

"A man of high ideals and warm friendship, Warren Bovard's influence will last throughout the years," said Dr. Von KleinSmid. "Honesty was the bone and sinew of his character. To know that he would undertake a commission was to know that the work undertaken would be carried out according to specifications. To him, loyalty and devotion to truth meant godliness.

"Possessing the graciousness and tenderness of his mother and the strength and decisiveness of his father, he brought to the work at the university the character of a true man. When, last Wednesday,

THERE really isn't much use in playing off this New Year's football game. I can tell you right now exactly how it will come out. You can absolutely bank on this.

We played the game off last night on this indoor football thing under the spirit guidance of Houdini, Gyp the Blood and Steve Brodie.

We southern gentlemen from Alabam' won, 12 to 11. But we-all suhtainly had ha'd luck. We-all got the ball three times on the one-yahd line—only to suffah the painful disappointment of being penalized a couple of miles, due to the misfo'tune of ouh fists being for the moment in some othah fellow's eye.

The Washington gentlemen kicked a field goal, which distu'bed us somewhat, but we made a thirty-nine-yard gain through a tackle buck, which tended to restoh ouh mental equilibrium.

IS HOLLYWOOD STUPID?

Mr. Charles Bickford, the screen star, is pretty tough on poor old Hollywood. He says the movies are O.K. except for the stupidity of the producers, the inexpertness of the directors and the general punkness of the authors.

STAGE PRODUCERS

The truth is that the stage producers are worse but have an easier problem.

If every play tried out in New York were forced to continue for a year's run, whether or not the public liked it, the theater world would collapse in a year. That's the difficulty with movie production. Once a picture is launched, it is like a bad smell; it can't be put back into the mistaken egg.

HOLLYWOOD MARRIAGES

These marriages of Hollywood divorcees are beginning to be hilarious. They ought to wear war chevrons, one for each previous divorce.

But no kidding—the preachers ought not to complicate the marriage service with what they pretty well know is perjury—leave out those words "until death do us part."

They might substitute "until one of us buys a ticket to Reno."

SCANDALOUS

Incidentally, it would appear that among the other New Year's resolutions the State of Nevada might turn respectable. Reno is a nation-wide scandal.

WHEAT WILL BE KING

The first wheat ship that sails for China—taking our surplus to the starving coolies—will literally tip the world over. It will send Europe sagging to the underneath and bring the Orient to the top.

It is only a question of time until the nations bordering on the Pacific dominate the world. Europe is through. England is sadly bowing herself off the stage. Germany's interests face her future toward Russia and the East. Italy and France spend all their time shivering at the ghost noises of worn-out old hatreds.

SHOOT TO KILL

There is one California town that the gangsters will circle around on tiptoes. A force of vigilantes—with 150 rifles and 300 shotguns—can assemble in ten minutes; and they come shooting.

This boy from the gasoline station who shot up a gang of bank robbers has started something.

Officer Slain and Merchant Wounded in Gun Fight With Youthful Bandit Pa

BATTLE WAGED AFTER HOLD-UP

Deputy Marshal Stabbed to Death From Behind

Fatal Knife Blow Struck as He Aids Store Owner

Victim of Robbery Shot in Back and May Die

One man was stabbed to death and another shot, probably fatally, early last night in a spectacular three-cornered struggle on the sidewalk a moment after an attempted holdup of the injured man's store at 876 South Vermont avenue.

Perman Calderwood, 30 years of age, of 832 South New Hampshire street, a deputy marshal of the county courts, was killed. The injured man is Henry Krause, 28, proprietor of the Bear Malt Supply Company at the Vermont-avenue address. He is in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with a serious bullet wound in the back, from which his recovery is doubtful, according to police surgeons.

BANDITS CHASED

The battle took place about 6:30 p.m. Krause was alone in his store when two youthful bandits entered. While one covered him with a gun the other rifled the cash register of $35. The two then fled.

Grabbing his own revolver, Krause pursued the robbers. At Vermont avenue and Ninth street, about seventy-five feet from the shop, he overtook one, the other having outdistanced his companion.

"Throw up your hands," Krause shouted to the bandit. "I've got you covered!"

The bandit stopped in his tracks and whirled about.

ROBBER USES RUSE

"I know it, brother," he said, meekly. "But put down your gun. I ain't gonna try to get away."

Krause returned his gun to his pocket and took a firm hold on the bandit, pending arrival of help. Instead of submitting to arrest, the bandit tried to wrench himself free. The two men struggled all over the sidewalk.

At this point, Calderwood, on the way to his home around the corner, came up on the run and took a hand in the battle, trying desperately to separate the two. A moment later the other bandit returned, fired a shot into Krause's back and again disappeared. Then his companion, released from Krause's hold, drew out a knife and stabbed Calderwood, leaving the blade imbedded in his back. He then followed his companion in the direction of Westmoreland avenue.

BROTHER AT SCENE

A dramatic touch was lent the tragedy when William Calderwood, brother of the slain officer, happened along and joined the crowd about the victim and the injured man. Elbowing his way to the center he at last obtained a glimpse of the dead man, recognizing the body as that of his brother.

Belief that the bandits shortly before had perpetrated another robbery was expressed by police when they found an envelope containing a quantity of silver coins about a block from the scene of the battle.

Five to Share Mother's Will

Mrs. Stella Hatch will receive a nest egg worth several thousand dollars as the result of the will of her mother, Hulda Franciska Schmidt, also mother of Superior Judge Schmidt, it appears from the decedent's will on file yesterday.

The will bequeathes personal belongings to two daughters, Mrs. Hatch and Mrs. Harriet Sparks, and the residue is to be divided among the two daughters, one son, Judge Schmidt, and the families of two deceased sons, Valdemar and Helm Schmidt.

EX-TEACHER NAMED IN DIVORCE ACTION

Mrs. Zella Kime of 616 W. Buckthorne street, Inglewood, yesterday sued her husband, Elmer E. Kime, irrigation official, for divorce, naming Helen Wadsworth, former school-teacher, as corespondent. Mrs. Kime, who was married in 1910, asks custody of her two children, Jack, 16, and Blanche, 11. She asserts in her complaint, which was filed by Attorney Aubrey Miller, that Kime drank too much and associated with the corespondent.

tended to circle again for a landing," Cox reported.

"The left outboard engine did not take hold, but we gained fifty feet altitude before it started again. Then the right engine cut out, we were skidding and all we could do was to straighten out and cut off all the motors for a forced landing."

The ship, going southward from the airport, got under a line of wires on the north side of Hellman avenue, but the landing gear caught on a heavy lead cable filled with telephone wires on the south side.

This cable, it was pointed out by Chief Young and Officers Branahan and Burns of the Monterey Park Police Department, acted as a brake and took up most of the shock before the plane struck the ground. Eleven telephone poles supporting the cable were snapped off by the impact.

LOSS SET AT $50,000

There was not time to drag any of the mail from the ship before the flames enveloped it. Osterhout, sitting in the main passenger cabin, was stunned for an instant and was burned about the face and hands as he leaped through the cabin door to safety.

Cox and Sherwood forced open the door of the Toner residence and guided the couple outdoors before the fire reached their bedroom. They were asleep when the ship struck.

The trimotored Fokker cost $67,500 new, but W.A.E. officials estimated the entire damage to the ship and Toner's house at $50,000. Insurance covered all loss, the company reported.

In order to remove the wreckage from Toner's front yard, W.A.E. was forced to go to court yesterday afternoon and sue Toner for possession of it. The company posted $4000 bond—twice the amount the airline estimated the wreckage was worth—and required the Sheriff to seize it.

Toner declared he refused mechanics permission to remove the skeleton and motors in protection of his own interests. He said planes have been skimming over trees and wires near his house every day.

MAIL LIST BURNED

Failure of the motors to pick up probably was due, airmen pointed out, to their being cut off during the time the ship was losing altitude for a landing and were too cold to function properly when their throttles were opened suddenly.

The plane had taken off from Salt Lake City, about six hours previous to the crash with Osterhout as the only passenger.

Its mail cargo consisted of letters and packages from New York, Chicago and way points throughout the East and Middle West, a check of the salvaged pouches revealed.

"Everything on which we can make out an address will be forwarded Tuesday," Edmonds stated.

"The registered mail list was burned and we will not be able to check this until we receive a duplicate from Salt Lake City. We expect this Tuesday."

Although no official statement was forthcoming from the airline, it was pointed out that the miraculous escape of pilots and passenger from the crash kept the W.A.E. record clear of never having caused a fatality to a passenger.

Los Feliz Plea to Enlarge Oil Station Denied

After a second hearing the City Council's Planning Committee yesterday denied the application of J. H. Lashbrook to enlarge and extend his present gasoline service station at Los Feliz Boulevard and Nella Vista Drive. Numerous residents of the vicinity appeared in protest.

The Council has been guarding the residential character of Los Feliz Boulevard with a good deal of care since last Monday, when, by the narrow margin of 8 to 7, it refused to grant Ben L. Frank a spot zone to erect a market building at Los Feliz Boulevard and Lowry Road.

The Council has even voted down, upon first reading, three applications for the temporary continuance of real-estate offices on the boulevard. Two of these come up today for second reading and another Friday morning.

Bird Exhibition Opens Saturday

Birds from every country and clime will be exhibited by California breeders at the first annual foreign and type bird show to be held Saturday and Sunday in Parlor A at the Alexandria by the California Agriculture Society.

More than 300 birds, including African gray parrots and their eggs, and rare finches and parrakeets, will be entered in the exhibit, according to officials of the agriculture society. Judge J. Burrows of Culver City is to judge the entries and to make ribbon and cup awards. W. J. Coward of Vancouver is the show manager.

BOVARD GIVEN FINAL HONORS

reason and the thread of life were broken at the same moment, there passed from us a man whose life will continue to be an inspiration to those who knew and loved him."

A prayer by Dr. Bruce Baxter, chaplain of the University of Southern California, was followed by a eulogy of Mr. Bovard voiced by E. A. Healy, dean of the university, who said in part:

"Warren Bovard was born neither to wealth nor poverty. Endowed with a rich personality, he was, by nature and training, a gentleman, with respect for all that is worthy and with reverence for things divine.

"His nerves were finely strung but his thoughts and feelings always were directed toward the good, the beautiful and the true. There came a time when his emotions were overstressed to the point at which the fine balance of his noble personality was whirled from its center, and so, today, he is with God." Benediction was pronounced by Dr. William Hodgson, pastor of University M. E. Church.

Because of a request from the Bovard family the casket was not opened at the chapel. Following the services, interment took place in Hollywood Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Asa V. Call, Arthur Baker, Louis McWirter, Henry V. Bruce, Frank Hadlock, Gwynn Wilson and Ralph La Porte. Honorary pallbearers included a score of notable educators and ministers.

MOTOR CAR ACCIDENTS' TOLL HIGH

Coroner's Report Reveals Seventy-nine Lost Lives in November Traffic

Next to natural causes which accounted for 197 deaths, motor-vehicle accidents were responsible for the greatest number of the 427 deaths requiring Coroner's attention which occurred in Los Angeles county during November, according to the monthly report of Coroner Nance, issued yesterday. Seventy-nine lives, the report shows, were sacrificed in traffic mishaps. Of the victims, forty-two were pedestrians. Collisions between automobiles caused thirteen fatalities.

Suicide ranks third in the report, having been the cause of fifty-four deaths, while alcoholism takes fourth place with twenty victims. There were fifteen industrial fatalities and thirteen homicides. Falls caused nine deaths and burns the same number.

During the month the Coroner's office performed 345 autopsies, conducted 102 inquests and carried on eighty-two investigations.

Supervisors Put Over Decision on Acreage Leasing

Following talks made for and against the leasing of the Royal Palms Acreage at White's Point for recreational purposes, the Board of Supervisors yesterday decided to lay the matter over for another week.

Postponement of action was on motion of Supervisor Mahaffey, who declared that as most of the details of the transaction had come up before his installation into office, he desires time to look into the proposition and learn just what the county is getting for its money, if the lease is purchased.

John Steven, assistant secretary of the Los Angeles Municipal League, was the principal speaker yesterday to oppose the lease. Councilman Henning and R. H. Beaton of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, urged the county to proceed with the deal.

Whole Council to Hear Fight on Zone Change

Decision was reached yesterday to conduct a public hearing before the whole City Council at 11 a.m. the 31st inst., upon an application to change to industrial zoning the corner of Council street and Westmoreland avenue, in order to establish a wholesale dry-cleaning plant.

This application was the subject of a hearing before the City Planning Committee several weeks ago, when it was attacked by neighbors of the proposed establishment as detrimental to the region.

Councilman Webster, chairman of the committee, has signed a report favoring the application, but has been unable to obtain the signature of any of his colleagues upon the committee.

CARESS KIDNAP GUNMEN HUNTED

Long Beach Policeman Shot in Battle May Die

Checks For $50,000 Found on Friend of Gambler

Suspect Captured in Fight Later Identified

A gang of kidnapers and extortionists was sought throughout Southern California and in Mexico last night following the abduction of E. L. (Zeke) Caress, a Spring-street gambler, which resulted in the possible fatal wounding of a Long Beach police officer in a spirited gun battle while the gangsters were on their way to collect a $50,000 ransom.

Caress told Long Beach police he and his wife, Mrs. Ella Caress, and an oriental houseboy were kidnaped near his garage late Saturday night and taken to what he believed was the vicinity of Alhambra. He said that under threats of death to all three masked men forced him to sign checks aggregating $50,000.

GUN BATTLE AT BEACH

Apparently the kidnapers intended to cash the checks on one of the gambling boats offshore from Long Beach, for it was while they were waiting near the P. & O. docks, a point of embarkation, that the gun battle occurred.

Following his kidnaping at his home, 2230 Holly Ridge Drive, Caress said that he and his wife and the boy were blindfolded and the fold over their eyes sealed by adhesive tape, and the captors demanded $100,000. He said they compromised on $50,000 ransom, and then were confronted with obtaining the money without being caught.

AGREED TO CHECKS

They agreed to take checks for the money—two checks for $10,000 each and two for $15,000 each—and ordered that Caress direct George (Les) Bruneman, a friend, to accompany them to Long Beach where they could embark for a gambling ship aboard which the validity of the Caress checks were to be vouched for by Bruneman.

Bruneman met the kidnapers at Sixth and Spring streets at the direction of Caress, who remained a captive of the gang. They drove to Long Beach Sunday night and were parked near the P. & O. docks when Policemen William H. Waggoner and C. A. Jenks accosted them.

FIRED AT POLICEMAN

When Jenks went to inquire after the occupants of the car he said he was told by Bruneman that they were gamblers and were awaiting transportation to one of the ships of chance. While the parley was on one of the gangsters in the rear seat picked up a gun and began firing at Jenks.

The officer stumbled and fell backward as Waggoner came to his aid. Others, except Bruneman, in the car joined the volley. Waggoner ran forward into the line of fire and fell with a slug in his side. Jenks kept up the battle.

ONE MAN CAPTURED

Policeman W. E. Slaughter, patrolling the beat, heard the firing and hastened to the fray. He engaged one of the men in an exchange of bullets and captured him. The arrested man gave his name as James J. Sherman, a gambler living at a local hotel. Other than that, he refused to talk.

During the shooting in which about fifty shots were fired, the third man in the car jumped out and fled with Slaughter in pursuit, each firing at the other. The fugitive gunman escaped in the darkness.

SUSPECT IDENTIFIED

When the fight was over Bruneman was found attending the injured Waggoner. The officers said apparently he elected not to fight for his gun was found thrown outside the car. Yesterday Bruneman identified Sherman as one of those shooting at the officers.

Shortly after the battle at Long Beach, Caress and his wife and the boy were released. He hastened to Hollywood police station, where he made a brief report to Captain of Detectives Carmen. Later he went to Long Beach.

In his statement to beach police Caress said he did not know any of those who kidnaped him, neither did he know why they chose him as their victim, nor could he identify any of them in any manner.

RELEASE SOUGHT

Caress was solicitous for the liberty of Bruneman, who is manager of the Cortez Club at 8428 Sunset Boulevard, and he offered any sum as bail, but the police desired to hold him further as a material witness to the shooting of Waggoner.

Waggoner is in a critical condition at Seaside Hospital. The bullet which struck him apparently entered high in his left arm, ranged across his back, struck the spine and came out on the right side. He is totally paralyzed from his chest down. Physicians are fearful for his recovery.

AUTO OWNER SOUGHT

The beach police announce that the automobile seized at the scene of the battle is registered to one W. M. Bailey. They are seeking the registrant to ascertain if the car was stolen or if he can give any information in the shooting.

Sherman has resolutely sealed his lips, and offers no comment as to himself or his activities when the police say they are about to hold him on charges of assault with intent to commit murder, kidnaping and extortion.

Caress's checks were found on Bruneman after the shooting, but the police are inclined to believe he was acting only upon orders and that he intended to cash them for the gang aboard one of the ships.

WIFE DIVORCES SALESMAN

While she languished in a hospital, Mrs. Leona Juckett testified yesterday, her husband, Elmer E. Juckett, a salesman, associated with other women. He failed to visit her at the hospital, asserted the wife, testifying in Superior Judge Neville's court. The judge granted her a divorce, with custody of her children, Nelita, 5 years of age, Bonda, 3, and Neva, 2.

JURY PICKED TO TRY ELLS IN SLAYING

Brown Confessed Slayer in Dime Murder, Given Delay to January 12

Selection of a jury to hear the trial of Emory Ells, charged with hiring Benjamin F. Brown to murder his estranged wife, Merle Ells, on September 2, last, was completed in Superior Judge Schauer's court yesterday. Subsequently two preliminary witnesses were called by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson as the first step in the prosecution.

Brown, who was indicted as a codefendant with Ells, obtained a continuance until January 12, next, to permit his attorneys to obtain evidence concerning his sanity.

Investigators assert Ells promised Brown $2.00 for the killing and actually paid Brown $2.20 in dimes after he had executed the woman. Through his attorney, William T. Kendrick, Jr., however, Ells stated he gave the money as a loan.

this money and the protection of those responsible for its disbursement, we must be sure of the legality of our proposed course before we embark upon it.

ADVISED SALE ILLEGAL

"I am advised that the sale of additional bonds of the district and the use of funds derived thereby, in compliance with your resolution, would be illegal. Some of the reasons for this conclusion are the following:

"The proposal to the electors of the flood-control district in 1924 and approved by them specified quite definitely the nature and the location of the work proposed to be done and the estimated cost thereof. It has been frequently held by the courts of this State that proposals made to the electors upon which bonds are voted constitute a contract between them and the public body doing the work which may not thereafter be changed without consent of the other party. If the change is warranted it should be submitted to the electors for their approval.

"It is true that the statute purports to authorize a change in the plans under certain circumstances. Whether those circumstances here exist is doubtful. There has been no considerable change in the natural conditions in San Gabriel Canyon since 1924. Certain conditions have been revealed which were not then known, but these conditions have existed for a great period of time and the failure to previously discover them can scarcely be said to constitute such a change of conditions as is contemplated by the statute.

DECISIONS ADVERSE

"I am advised that it has been judicially determined that where a project for which special assessments have been levied is abandoned the property owners who paid the assessments may recover them. If this is correct it does not seem that it would be legal to continue to levy additional assessments for new and different work. The Los Angeles County Flood Control Act has been held to provide for special assessments and clearly comes within the rule laid down by the courts.

"It is now more than six years since these bonds were authorized. In the interval a large proportion of the property in the Los Angeles County Flood Control District has changed hands and hundreds of thousands of new electors have settled in the district. Whether these electors would now approve the bonds is unknown. The authority of the district to issue bonds and expend the funds, constituting more than half of the total authorized at this time, seems a matter of grave doubt.

"Under the circumstances, despite my desire to further the accomplishment of the purposes designed by your resolution, I feel it my duty to decline and do hereby respectfully decline to execute additional bonds as your chairman until such time as these questions can be definitely settled."

Following the chairman's refusal to sign the bonds Attorney Morgan announced that a suit in mandamus will be brought at once to compel him to sign, so that the bonds can be sold to pay the cost of the new work. This will be resisted by County Counsel Mattoon for Chairman Wright, which will bring the issues squarely up to the Supreme Court for decision. The question will be "can bond money voted for a specific project be diverted for other projects, providing the original purpose or intent of the original project is carried out?"

Workers to Get Insurance Bonus

In recognition of service and loyalty in accepting new conditions and responsibilities, 464 employees of the Security Title Insurance and Guarantee Company will be presented tomorrow with a Christmas bonus represented by certificates of insurance. For the last five years the title company has provided group insurance for its employees, and this year the board of directors authorized the increase of $250 to each policy.

In announcing the bonus, Glenn A. Schaeffer, president, declared the loyalty of the individual worker constitutes the fundamental basis for the progress made by the company during the last year.

BOY PLAYING WITH RIFLE WOUNDS PAL

The accidental discharge of a .22-caliber rifle yesterday by Fred Reynolds, 13 years of age, of 3924 Sycamore street, sent a bullet into the left ankle of his chum, B. E. Jones, 13, of 3914 Sycamore avenue. The boys were playing in the yard behind the Jones boy's home when the accident occurred. The boy's wound was treated at the Pasadena Emergency Hospital.

nardino asked a number of questions, particularly as to how the Parker route compared with either the Bull's Head or Black Canyon routes.

It developed during Harbison's questioning that the Merriman board is convinced that a gravity route never can be adapted to the Parker route. In fact, there is no chance within reason of Southern California getting water from the Colorado by any gravity route, it was said.

COSTS CONFIRMED

The costs given out in the Weymouth report were substantially confirmed. The aqueduct for the first development—800 second feet of water delivered at the terminal storage reservoir—a little under $200,000,000, about $25,000,000 of which may be deferred by omitting the Parker Dam for about fifteen years. Further details on the route will be revealed at today's meeting.

At yesterday's meeting, D. W. Pontius was inducted as comptroller for the district. It was announced that Judge Hutton, director of Santa Monica, will retire because of poor health and will tour abroad with Mrs. Hutton for about a year. A resolution of appreciation for his work and regret at his leaving was adopted by the board.

ORCHARD SMOKE POTS FIRED UP of his district and general firing was under way.

Because of the smudges being in action the night before the sky east and southeast of Los Angeles was darkened yesterday by the smoke sent forth to combat the frost.

The California Fruit Growers' Association offices announced that ample warning given to the fruit growers offered them time enough to take preventive action, and no reports of any serious damage were received. County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan said that he believed no appreciable damage was done by the sharp cold Monday night.

The local Weather Bureau yesterday predicted a continuation of the nipping weather, however, generally fair today and tomorrow with frosts in the interior, and fresh east and northeast winds offshore.

NEW MINIMUMS REACHED IN BAY REGION

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—While practically all of Northern California woke to frost and seasonally cold weather, new minimums for the season were set here and at Oakland. The mercury went down to 43 deg. here and to 27 deg. at Oakland. The forecast calls for no change in conditions except a probability of rain on the north coast from a disturbance off the mouth of the Columbia River.

Most points registered thermometer readings of freezing or below early today, including: Red Bluff, San Jose, Chico, Colusa, Del Monte, Lindsay, Merced, Orlando, Oroville, Paso Robles, Porterville, Rocklin, Santa Rosa and Stockton.

County Hospital Plastering Bids Meet Rejection

All bids on plastering work for the new General Hospital, some of them running more than $100,000, were rejected yesterday by the Board of Supervisors.

Rejection of the bids was made after Edwin Bergstrom, head of the allied architects' committee checking all materials, asked for time to make tests on the various kinds of plaster. After these tests are made, he said, then bids will be asked for on the one particular kind of plaster the county desires to use in the new building.

"While it will take about ninety days to make these tests," Bergstrom declared, "there will be no delay in employment, for it will be all of that time before the building will be far enough along to be ready for plastering."

HOSPITAL SALARY CHANGES VOTED

An ordinance revising the salary list of the Receiving Hospital was adopted yesterday by the City Council on recommendation of its Health and Sanitation Committee, by a vote of 12 to 2. The revision adds one nurse but eliminates four nurses of varying classifications and one assistant surgeon.

These positions, however, are unfilled, and did not become effective until January 1. The change is expected to save $6000 annually.

Arsenal Stolen at Store in Bell

The Sheriff's office is investigating the theft early yesterday morning of three pumpguns, three revolvers, an automatic rifle and a quantity of ammunition from the hardware store of G. R. North at 4119 Baker avenue, Bell.

The thief or thieves also took a radio set, but it is the apparent collection of an arsenal for some criminal band that is considered significant by the investigators.

FEWER ENTRIES TAKE SCHOOL JOB TESTS

The regular December examination for elementary and high school teachers and for nurses, dentists and doctors was completed yesterday at the executive offices of the Board of Education. Only 517 applicants took the tests in comparison to the more than 700 who applied last year.

RADIO DEVICE GUIDES PLANES

AERIAL navigation is about to advance another step nearer perfection through an invention by two local research engineers and its adoption by the Department of Commerce. The device is a radio-direction finder which promises greatly to increase the safety factor of air travel. It was invented by Geoffrey G. Krussi and Gerhard Fisher of Western Air Express.

Picking up waves from any radio broadcasting station and using them to move a needle on a dial, the invention tells the pilot whether he is on his course. When the needle is centered it means the plane's nose is pointing toward the station from which the impulses are coming. When it inclines to right or left it means divergence from the course. The finder is effective over a distance of 200 miles.

With the use of the finder in mind, H. I. Rothrock, radio electrician of the Department of Commerce's airways division, is engaged in selecting sites on which broadcasting stations are to be erected. Sites already have been selected at Fontana and in Minneola Valley, near Dagget; Kingman and Winslow, Ariz.; Albuquerque, N. M.; Amarillo, Tex., and Waynoka, Okla.

FIRE DANCER SEEKS DAMAGES FOR BURNS

While performing a "fire dance" for guests in a Western-avenue cafe October 2, last, Bette La Roux, dancer, was painfully injured by the premature explosion of a pan of benzine, she asserts in a suit for $25,800 on file yesterday. According to the complaint, the benzine was prematurely ignited by a lighted cigarette stub thrown at the dancer by an unnamed guest.

BANDIT TOTALS STILL HOLD UP

All Previous Records for Robberies Shattered

Safe Crackers Get $800 From Dollar Store

Salesman Shot at When He Laughs at Gunman

With sixteen hold-ups, incuding a shooting, slugging of two victims and robbery of ten employees in a department store, reported between 7 p.m. Sunday and noon yesterday, bandits rounded up a week-end orgy of crime which swelled the total for the first twenty-one days of this month to 256, an increase of sixty-two when compared with 194 reported during the same period last month. In December last year this total was 115.

Safe crackers blew open a safe in the Merrill Dollar Store at 4615 South Broadway, in the same block in which the department store robbery occurred, and got away with $800 in cash, while burglars plundered homes and business establishments of nearly $10,000 in cash and valuables in more than thirty robberies Sunday night. At midnight burglaries had increased to 464, as compared with 402 last month and 396 in December last year.

STORE HELD UP

The department store held up was that of S. H. Kress at 4601 South Broadway. Three bandits, having gained entrance through a skylight, were waiting in the rear of the store when E. E. Peterson, manager, and nine employees arrived for work. The bandits, each armed with a revolver, stepped out and, threatening death, commanded all but the manager to lie on the floor face downward. While one watched the clerks the other two forced Peterson to open an office safe.

The bandits obtained $2500 in cash and escaped in an automobile.

SHOOT AT SALESMAN

At the Court Drug Company store at Eleventh street and Broadway an orange juice salesman, seated at the fountain, was shot at by one of two bandits when he laughed at a command to hold up his hands. The shot frightened the other bandit, who was about to force C. A. Tedder, manager, to a rear room and both fled without obtaining anything of value.

When a customer drove into a service station at 4300 West Pico Boulevard while two bandits were holding up Clyde Kitchen, attendant, one of the bandits donned Kitchen's white cap, waited on the customer, then completed robbing the attendant of $60.

DRUG CLERK ROBBED

Responding to a telephone call to the effect that a baby had been burned at 3735 North Griffin avenue and the parents needed salve and gauze, Elwood Ginn, a clerk from the Hart Drug Store at 4301 North Griffin avenue, arrived at the first address and found, instead of a burned baby, two banditss waiting for him in a parked automobile. They robbed him of the salve and $5.

The brunette bandit woman who has figured in half a dozen recent robberies led her two companions in a raid on the Packer Drug Company store at 1801 Glendale Boulevard which netted them $253 in cash and $150 worth of merchandise. Harry Packer and Charles Bilni were the victims. As the woman walked out with her arms full of packages of fountain pens, toilet sets and other articles, she bumped into a customer, Harry Buckler of 1759½ Glendale Boulevard. She stopped long enough to order Buckler into a rear room with the other victoms.

TWO VICTIMS SLUGGED

Victims who were slugged were David Odian in his tailor shop at 2609 West Seventh street, and William J. Henry in his grocery at 4531 South Vermont avenue. Within a few minutes following the first robbery attempt Officers Wilson and Young, responding to Odian's call for help, arrested Douglas Rogers, 28 years of age, of 810 South Coronado street, in the vicinity of the tailor shop. He was identified by Odian, they reported, when taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where the victim had been taken for treatment.

Late Sunday night a lone bandit, armed with an automatic pistol, held up Miss A. Bright in the Western Union telegraph office in the Ambassador and robbed her of $35, according to a Wilshire police report.

VISITOR LOSES $190

Fred Brown, recent arrival from Gallup, N. M., lost $190 to two armed bandits when they held him up at Wilshire Boulevard and Union avenue.

S. B. Bennett, night man in a garage at 4357 West Fifth street, added $30 in cash and a $90 watch to bandits

"One bum move and you're a dead man," warned a lone bandit who robbed J. H. Ray in Miller's grocery at 6231 South Hoover street of $30.

Okey Meadows, taxicab driver, reported he drove a lone passenger around town for half an hour and was then held up and robber of $3 by the man at No. 1 Berkeley Square.

BURGLARS BUSY

While sitting in his automobile parked near the corner of Twenty-second street and Cimarron avenue William G. Marsh, a visitor from Pomona, was held up by two auto bandits and robbed of $12, he reported.

Pedestrians held up and robbed were William E. Neely of 3122 Stanford avenue, who lost $40 to one bandit at Thirty-second street and Maple avenue, and Pete Zaferis of 823 East Twenty-fifth street, from whom two Negro bandits got $4.

Outstanding in the list of burglaries were those at the homes of J. Simon at 651 South Dunsmuir avenue and L. E. Edwards at 320 Laurel avenue. In the latter burglary $350 in cash and $5000 in jewelry were taken. Simon reported a loss of $1000 worth of jewelry.

FUNDS PLANNED TO FIGHT CRIME

Chamber Takes Next Step to Solve Local Problems

Unemployment Situation Also Gets Attention

Subcommittee Named for Outlining Financing

Public officials and civic and business leaders reconvened at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday to continue their study, at the chamber's invitation, of the crime and unemployment situations in Los Angeles. They concluded their discussion with the appointment of a subcommittee, which was requested to consider all possible means of raising funds with which to meet the two problems and to submit a report at an early date.

The subcommittee comprises Harold G. Ferguson, representing the Los Angeles Realty Board; C. C. Stanley, attorney, representing a number of the large oil companies; Russell H. Ballard, president of the Southern California Edison Company; E. J. Fleming, president of the Downtown Business Men's Association, and Francis Marchal, municipal finance expert, representing F. M. Donovan & Co.

Discussion yesterday, as at the first meeting of the general committee, held last week, concerned possible bond issues and tax increases as answers to the unemployment situation and the personnel and equipment requirements of the police department.

In addition to those named on the subcommittee, the roster attending the meeting included Mayor Porter, Chief of Police Steckel, Councilman Ingram, Police Commissioner Drake, A. Schleicher, first vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce; D. C. McWatters, secretary, Community Chest; A. C. Denman, president, Better America Federation; Clark E. Bell, New York Life Insurance Company; Dr. George Winfield Scott, attorney; John E. Coffin, president, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association; Councilman Sanborn, Byron C. Hanna, director Chamber of Commerce; Councilman Martin, Councilman Burns, Francis Marshall, director, Taxpayers' Association; Councilman Cooke, John R. Haynes, president, Board of Water and Power Commissioners; T. C. Palmer, president, Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association; Walter B. Allen, president, Board of Harbor Commissioners, and Walter K. Tuller, attorney. Byron C. Hanna presided.

ANOTHER OPTIMIST

Dr. Frederick Tilney says most people use only 25 per cent of their brain power. Another of those pestiferous optimists!

MISTLETOE

Mistletoe is another decoration that frequently enlivens the Christmas season. However, the modern maid seldom has to get under it to get kissed.

DISPROPORTIONED

It is claimed that more money is spent annually for rouge, face creams and powders than for bread. If the expenditures were reversed better results might be obtained.

THE PINCH

The reaction to the plan for excluding immigrants for two years will come when we run short of men and women to do the rough and unpleasant work of the nation.

SELFISH SUFFERING

What's a punch in the nose or a rap on the head to a Communist in comparison with the thrill he will get in telling a picked audience of his martyrdom for "the cause."

MIGHT BE DISASTROUS

The trouble with turning Gov. Dan Moody's Texas Rangers loose to chase the gansters out of Chicago would be the loss in population. Would the regular city boosting organizations stand for that?

"ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE"

Girl in Shepard case says she cannot understand "how people can sit in courtrooms and listen to the lives of others beings torn to pieces." Which leads us to suggest that an actress in drama must expect to have an audience.

BONES

The University of Arizona, Tucson, has just unearthed another section of a recently discovered mastodon. It seems easy to find the bones of prehistoric mastodons and men; but nobody appears able to find the bones stolen from our banks and homes.

SINGING IN THE TUB

Another thing to encourage the antinoise campaign is the fact that 34,617,419 persons in the United States have no bathtubs, according to the census. Sometimes the country gets a break: At least 34,000,000 more are not singing in the tub.

NOT AFRAID OF BANDITS

Feminists have been insisting for some time that the world had better revise its traditional views on the mental and physical capabilities of the softer sex, and it begins to look as though they were right.

After granting the average young woman a greater degree of mentality than her feminine forbears, few of whom had college training, it may be said on the physical side that the golf course and tennis court have built up her nerves and muscles so that she does not scream and faint on slight provocation, as did her mother and grandmother who sat in the house and acquired those "indoor complaints" referred to by Walt Whitman, of which maladies nervousness heads the list.

Not long ago an Illinois girl employed in a bank frustrated the designs of a bandit by taking him in hand while clerks and tellers stood by helpless. She knocked his revolver out of his hand, seized it and captured him.

Such instances of feminine prowess are not infrequently reported in the local news columns. The other day a Pasadena girl was threatened by a bandit who entered a cafe where she worked and demanded the cash drawer. The girl grasped the intruder by the neck and choked him so that he dropped his weapon and was easily captured and turned over to the police.

If the present trend is maintained it may not be many years before the coming of the time when no woman in the land will jump upon a chair at sight of a mouse and when ancient maidens will forget to look under the bed.

STALIN RIDES FOR A FALL

The "resignation" of Stalin's last opponent of prominence in the affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Alexis I. Rykoff, leaves the secretary of the Communist party (that is Stalin's title) supreme in the former land of the czars. Resignation is, of course, a euphemism; Rykoff was forced out, as was Trotzky, and as were other lesser lights of the dictatorship, but that of Rykoff was particularly important as he was Lenin's first assistant and succeeded him in the office of chairman of the Council of People's Commissars. With the dismissal Sunday of Michael Tomsky, vice-chairman of the Supreme Economic Council, all but one of the high offices of the government are now filled with Stalin's puppets. The only representative of the "right wing" remaining is Nickolas Bucharin, central committeeman and member of the Economic Council.

But while Stalin thus has consolidated his position, it is still a difficult position. The throne of the czars was never entirely comfortable and much adroit balancing will be required to maintain soviet equivalent of a crown upon Stalin's head. Just now his principal difficulty appears to be the lagging of progress in the so-called Five Year Plan, which was supposed to bring about a century of industrial development in Russia by 1933, but which admittedly has fallen far behind schedule.

Excuses for failure have not been lacking, or at least explanations which, however they have failed to satisfy the outside world, seem to be swallowed whole by the Russian people. The recent "trial" of eight Russian technical men and administrators on charges of sabotage and other high treason, and plots against the soviet state, was unquestionably such a stage-managed device to save Stalin's face. This was suspected when the death sentences originally imposed by the court were commuted to mild (for Russia) imprisonment, but overwhelming proof of it has since been furnished in the discovery that one of the plotters named in the "confessions" of the men on trial has been dead for six years! This man was supposed to have been the chief gobetween of the plotters in "negotiations" with the French government and was named no less than twenty-four times in the indictment. Evidently the secret police, who drew the charges, thought this man still alive and in Paris; but he passed from earth's scene in 1924.

Since this fact will not become known in Russia, the trifling error will do no harm there. Rather more important is the fall in the exchange value of the chervonetz, or soviet ruble, to about 3 cents, its nominal gold value being 51 cents. This it will be difficult to conceal from Stalin's subjects. The ruble is not officially dealt in in the world's money exchanges and curb transactions have taken place at widely varying prices, but 3 cents is a new low.

The breakdown of soviet finance implied by this collapse offers a plausible explanation of recent soviet trade transactions and the sales of Russian wheat, oil and manufactured goods in European markets at any price they would fetch. The sharp necessity of getting some sort of foreign credit balances to sustain the ruble may easily have prompted the sacrifices, which were attributed at the time to moves in a "war" of the soviet industrial system against all capitalism and a desire to enhance the industrial depression of the rest of the world in the hope of bringing on a general revolution.

Senator Borah, who is quoted as favoring credits by the United States government to the soviet union, may have had in mind the possibility that Stalin might order cessation of the dumping of Russian goods if such a credit were granted. The United States government is not likely to attempt to bribe Stalin not to disturb the markets, however; the trick would be too easily repeated.

Contrary to general impression, the soviet union has had a favorable trade balance as against most countries with which she has dealings, selling them far more than she buys. The United States is the conspicuous exception, as exports from this country to Russia aggregated $127,000,000 during the last fiscal year and imports from Russia amounted to only $23,500,000, manganese, furs and sausage casings being the principal items. Even Germany, which has the largest trade with the soviet union, purchases more than she sells, the difference in 1929 being approximately 75,000,000 rubles. But even these balances have not sufficiently financed soviet purchases here to sustain the exchange price of Russian money.

The general revolt against the soviet dumping policy is likely to accentuate Stalin's financial difficulties, suicidal as his policies have been, or would have been in any country which has to consider the cost of production. At the same time it furnishes another excuse for the failure of the Five Year Plan, and it would not be surprising to hear an announcement soon that the plan has been renamed the Ten Year Plan or even the Fifteen Year Plan. Stalin, of course, cannot repeal economic laws, and to state that he is under no necessity of worrying about production costs because he is the only employer and can fix prices and wages to suit himself, is to state an absurdity. He can ignore costs temporarily, but so can any other producer. In the long run he must pay the bill; his advantage comes in being able to defer the reckoning by juggling the accounts, by appealing to patriotism, by occasional war scares and by such farces as the recent treason trial.

Having ousted Rykoff, he can no longer blame Rykoff for anything that happens. The supply of scapegoats produced by Stalin's ingenuity in the past has been sufficiently large to equal the demand, but it is not inexhaustible. The fall of the chervonets is an ominous happening.

LITTLE NIPPON is celebrating Christmas, just as all the rest of Los Angeles is. The Japanese stores have a festive air, there are wreaths of holly in the window displays and Japanese mothers and fathers are busy buying presents for their children.

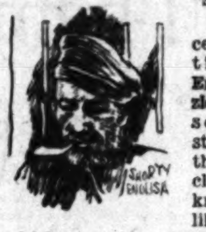
Though there is a Buddhist temple at First street and Central avenue and a Shinto temple on Jackson street, most of the members of the Japanese colony are native born and we were told recently that about 60 per cent of the Japanese weddings are performed in Christian churches. No matter what the religion of the Japanese, however, they make it a point to show respect to every American holiday and they are too fond of their children not to help them take part in the general rejoicing of the Christmas season.

Noblesse Oblige

Southern California has many notable clubs, but even among its most notable the Shakespeare Club of Pasadena is entitled to a few special medals. It has been going for forty-two years, and never has been torn by a "row." The Pasadena Community Play House Association was born there, and its plays were presented there before it had a permanent home. It has done a great deal to make Pasadena an intellectual center. And yet it is extremely democratic.

We were a guest of the club at its last meeting of the year and saw a bit of that democracy. Mrs. Bertha Turner, a Negress, has been the club's caterer since 1917 and at the last meeting each year she is brought in and given a public expression of the club's appreciation of her services. No "Lion" who ever appeared before the club received a warmer and more sincere outburst of applause than greeted Mrs. Turner, and Mrs. Spill, the club president, made her a charming little speech.

"Shorty"

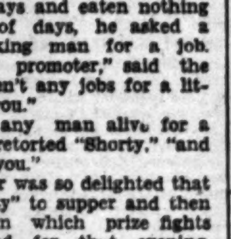


Many of us recently have noticed "Shorty" English, the grizzled little cockney sea dog who stands in front of the Carthay Circle Theater, tying knots which look like flowers and which appear so complicated most of us haven't the slightest idea of how to untie them, yet he merely gives a jerk and they're untied. Boy Scouts and Sea Scouts continually surround him and many a wealthy yachtsman who keeps a floating palace or at least a tidy yacht somewhere within sight of his Hollywood or Beverly Hills home eagerly questions "Shorty" and tries in vain to learn his tricks.

For "Shorty" is the real thing. Though he has been in the film colony seventeen years or so there is no hokum about him.

Extra! Actor Shuns Publicity!

"Shorty" is only 5 feet 3 and he is 60 years old, yet he still could whip his weight in wildcats. He is as hard as a chunk of ship cable. He continually smokes a short clay pipe which he bought in England thirty years ago for a single penny, with a glass of beer thrown in. He ran away from home at the age of 12 to go to sea, walking more than thirty miles from a town in which he was visiting to Southampton, but was sent home. A couple of years later he was more successful and his adventures in China, Australia, Africa and South America would fill several books. Though all his training was on the sea, he has never failed to land a job wherever he happened to be, and no matter how hard times were just because he has an honest face, a frank and friendly smile and an impressive willingness to work his best. Back in 1893, when many men in every community were out of work, "Shorty" was broke and shabby when he landed in Philadelphia, yet he landed a job as gardener on a big estate, though he never had done any gardening and had no references of any kind. He had to go to the gardener of the adjoining estate in order to find out what to do, but he succeeded so well that when he grew restless and wished to return to the sea his millionaire employer urged him to remain.

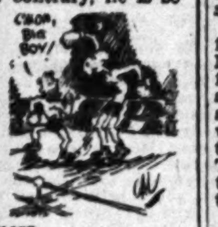


Another time, when he had tramped for days and eaten nothing for a couple of days, he asked a prosperous-looking man for a job. "I'm a fight promoter," said the other. "I haven't any jobs for a little runt like you."

"I'll fight any man alive for a square meal," retorted "Shorty," "and that includes you."

The promoter was so delighted that he took "Shorty" to supper and then to the place in which prize fights were scheduled for that evening. When one lightweight suddenly was taken ill, the promoter jokingly asked "Shorty" if he would take his place. "Shorty" did, and knocked his opponent out in three rounds.

D. W. Griffith picked "Shorty" up somewhere and brought him to Hollywood in 1913. He has been in a good many pictures since then, but is one picture actor who never sought any publicity. On the contrary, he is so retiring that even the people who have employed him never knew his name. He is always employed as "Shorty" English and introduced as Mr. English. But his real name is Frederick Francis Summers.



C'MON, BIG BOY!

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Christmas comes at the right time to rescue us from the dumps. We are never as bad off as we think we are, and we are seldom as well off as the world thinks we are.

Merry Christmas!

Look pleasant! Chin up! A gloomy face never gets a good picture. It lowers the temperature of an entire room. Have a shine! It may get you a job.

The great battles are fought by Caesars and their fortunes, Napoleons and their stars. Faith still does the impossible. Hurry to your work and gather a gang for the job.

Merry Christmas! Don't be Old Man Grump. Smile and the world smiles with you. Grunt and you grunt alone. Start with a hearse and acquire a funeral procession; jump into the band wagon and you have a parade.

Let your face fall and you may break your business. Efficiency falls with it. You can't sell goods with crepe on your door. Folks flee from funerals.

Put Christmas candles into your windows; even moths and flies come where bright lights shine. Hang holly wreaths on your door. The best Christmas wreath is a wreath of smiles. Hang one on your front entrance.

Sing! You may "sing terrible;" but if you really try, that is good enough. Folks may laugh and you become a distributor of joy. Merry Christmas!

Give gifts. Wise Men give gifts. Sacrifice kindles song. Not what you get, but what you give, increases happiness. The reason why Santa Claus is jolly is because he always gives. He never receives. Kings give. Help and be happy. Merry Christmas!

What America needs right now is Santa Claus.

Toot your horn as if you were going somewhere, and loafers will get out of your way. Some may even ask, "Where's the fire?" and follow. Poke along and even the dogs will think you a hobo. Make it a picnic; folks adore picnics. Go about with a grin; many may come to find out what it is all about. Step on the gas; you may burn up your enemies as well as the highway.

Put off your sad rags. Put on your glad rags. If the world is out of joint, make soup of it. Quicken your step; life is in crescendo. Catch the tempo of the times. Merry Christmas!

You may be down on your uppers; but that is better than being up on somebody else whom you have downed on his uppers. Maybe you did lose money a year ago; then you did not have as much to lose in the Guaranty debacle. Merry Christmas!

You do not have to go out and thaw out your pipes, or get your radiator soldered up, or melt your frosted feet; you live in California. You may have lost the last game; but there will be another one. You may not have tickets to the Rose Bowl on New Year's, but you have your radio. If you have no job, at least you do not have to sweat. You may have been jilted; but there may be better fish in the sea than ever were caught. Every man isn't a bandit, or there wouldn't be any bandits. Merry Christmas!

You have your health and family. You have your life before you; and if you are growing old, the greatest adventure of all is just around the corner. Earth may have little left in reserve; but heaven is ahead! Merry Christmas!

SCIENTIFIC CURIOSITY

By James J. Montague

If Billy were an eagle,
A great and winged eagle,
He says he'd fly
About the sky
And hold an upturned cup
To catch the rain that follows
The flight of summer swallows.
He says he'll bet
That no one yet
Has seen the rain go up!

He says that he is certain
That every foggy curtain
That veils the blue
Is rain or dew
That flows up to the skies,
But though for days together
In every sort of weather
He's taken care
To watch the air
He's never seen it rise.

Perhaps when he is older
And quite a little bolder
He'll sail a plane
And watch the rain
Ascend from farm and town.
It must fall up in showers,
He says, for hours and hours
And so must snow
When cold winds blow,
Or how could it fall down?

CHRIST AND CONFUCIUS

BY FRED HOGUE

I

Surprise has been expressed in occasional circles and some skepticism, over the announcement that Chiang Kai-shek, head of the Chinese Nationalist government and reputed Confucian scholar, should have joined a Christian church.

How, the many ask, can one walk at the same time in the steps of Christ and the steps of Confucius?

To compose this seeming inconsistency, one must begin by understanding that these two great teachers were not contemporaries. Confucius antedated Christ by more centuries than Columbus antedated Lindbergh.

Confucius was the great moral teacher of antiquity; but he did not profess divine origin, nor any direct revelations from Divinity.

His precepts teach men how to live an upright, moral life and how to meet death tranquilly and honorably; but he did not attempt to peer behind the veil of infinity, to penetrate the world of the spirits. He declined either to affirm or to deny the existence of a spiritual life beyond the tomb.

Confucius recognized the existence of spiritual forces, but found them beyond his conception. In one place he wrote:

"The power of spiritual forces of the universe—how active it is everywhere. Invisible to the eyes and impalpable to the senses, it is inherent in all things and nothing can escape its operation."

Confucius taught observance of the moral law, which, to him, was one with religion; for he wrote:

"The moral law, when reduced to a system, is what we call religion."

Morals, according to Confucius, are based on absolute truth; and it is through morals that absolute truth finds its expression. He wrote:

"It is only the man with the most perfect divine moral nature who is able to combine in himself quickness of impression, intelligence, insight and understanding: qualities necessary for the exercise of command; magnanimity, generosity, benignity and gentleness; qualities necessary for the exercise of patience; originality, energy, strength of character and determination; qualities necessary for the exercise of endurance; dignity, noble seriousness, order and regularity; qualities necessary for the exercise of self-respect; grace, method, delicacy and lucidity; qualities necessary for the exercise of critical judgment."

How much there is in that single sentence over which to ponder! How ancient are the moral virtues in all their shades and inter-relations! In moral impulses and concepts the world has made but scant progress since the epoch of Confucius.

The moral precepts of Confucius are those of the Old and New Testaments. Honor thy father and thy mother; thou shalt not kill; thou shalt not steal; thou shalt not bear false witness; thou shalt not covet; thou shalt not commit adultery. These precepts are common to the teachings of Confucius and to the Ten Commandments.

The first missionaries who went to China made the regrettable error of regarding the Confucian temples as places of idolatrous worship. They were ignorant of the East; else they would have comprehended that they were institutions of learning, not religious institutions, and not intended as such.

Confucius was a great philosopher, a great moralist, a great historian, a persistent searcher after truth; but he claimed for himself no superior intelligence, no knowledge of the future, no faculties which are not common to all men.

In the teachings of Confucius I find little that one would be called upon to renounce in order to become a convert associated with a Christian denomination.

Christ came to teach the life of the spirit, the future life. Confucius stopped on the border of the sea of the Infinite. Christ, on the wings of light, soared beyond. Christ was the propounder of the things of the spirit, Confucius of the things of the flesh.

Through the teachings of Confucius, the Chinese were prepared for an understanding of the teachings of Christ. But to the missionaries, in their abysmal ignorance of the East, Confucius was a heathen and the Confucian temples were places of idolatrous worship. They required of their converts that they should no longer attend classes in these temples, that they should renounce Confucius and all his teachings.

They were sincere and valorous, but it was the valor of ignorance. The Confucian code of morals and ethics has not been surpassed by any western philosophy. The fatal mistake of the missionaries was that they came to teach, where they should have come to learn. What they condemned as ignorance was in reality a higher learning.

This superiority complex of the missionaries, whose ignorance outside the tenets of their creed was appalling, defeated the very purpose for which they were sent to the Orient. In morals, for 2000 years the Chinese have compared favorably with any people in the Orient. In the light of what might have been accomplished, the missionary movement in China has registered for a century only failure.

But the missionaries persisted in their folly, and the result has been the almost total expulsion of missionaries from China, outside the foreign concessions. The first effort has failed, and the failure is due in a large part to the ignorance, the lack of understanding of the missionaries.

It was but natural that the Chinese intellectuals should have resented the anathema heaped by the missionaries on Confucius and his philosophy. The symbolism of the so-called ancestral rites was lost upon them. They failed to comprehend that it was but an exemplification of the commandment, "Honor thy father and thy mother." To them, it was only a part of a heathenish ritual.

Granting that these rights were excessive, from the occidental point of view, the missionaries should have sought to modify, where they condemned without recourse; and, by this condemnation, they were themselves condemned. They have paid the price, Christianity has paid the price, of their ignorance, their arrogance and their folly.

Dr. Legge, in his day perhaps the greatest of the Sinologists, wrote of Confucius:

"Confucius is, in the Empire of China, the one man by whom all personal excellence is exemplified, and by whom all possible lessons of social virtue and political wisdom are taught."

And this is the man whom the missionaries condemned.

Confucius has been accredited with the authorship of the Chinese version of the Golden Rule, "Do not unto others what you would not have others do unto you." But this is not to be found in his writings, but of those of a contemporary Chinese philosopher. The nearest approach is his interpretation of reciprocity: "What you do not like when done to yourself, do to no other."

Confucius has sometimes been quoted as the author of the Chinese maxim, "Those who know do not speak, and those who speak do not know." But this maxim appears in the Tao of Lao-tse, a contemporary of Confucius; for he is but one in a galaxy of sages in the centuries before the Christian era.

But the maxims of Confucius are those of a sage of whom any people might be proud. When asked by his disciple, Tsu Kung, what constitutes the superior or perfected man, the sage replied, "He acts before he speaks, and, afterwards, speaks according to this action."

Chiang Kai-shek was not required to renounce Confucianism in order to become a convert to Christianity. I doubt if there is one paragraph in the Sermon on the Mount to which Confucius would have objected; and I am of the opinion that, had he been born a few centuries later, he would have been among the first of the Chinese converts to Christianity. It is hardly equitable to condemn for not being a Christian one who was born five centuries before Christ.

Many and varying are the estimates that have been made of Confucius; but few who have given a careful study to his life, his precepts and his example will fail to agree with the summary of Von der Gabelentz:

"If we are to measure the greatness of a historic personage, I can see only one standard applicable for the purpose: the effectiveness of that person's influence according to its dimensions, duration and intensity. If that standard is to be applied, Confucius was one of the greatest of men. For, even at the present day, after the lapse of more than 2000 years, the moral, social and political life of about one-third of mankind continues to be under the influence of his mind."

CHRISTMAS CHILDREN

I think of Christmas in terms of baby eyes
That have never learned to doubt or fear.
I think of Christmas in terms of childish prayers
That know God and Santa
Claus will hear.

I see Christmas in rosy, flaxen dolls,
That arms of tiny mother girls will know,
I see Christmas in drums and
fifes and horns,
That eager sturdy little boys will blow.

I see Christmas in all the childish faces,
That glow along a crowded downtown street,
I see the Christ Child shining through the eyes
Of every little tot I meet.

Rome of the North

The country which today seems to stand at the cross-roads of Europe is Czecho-Slovakia. To many this name is a "terra incognito," but when the eye picks out Prague, Carlsbad, Marienbad, Franzenbad and Pilzen, it is immediately recognized as an old haunt of tourists. Prague was a favorite city with Goethe, Chateaubriand, George Sand, Prevost and Brandes, who praised it as "the Rome of the North." Here is the famous Hradcany, ancient seat of the Kings of Bohemia and now the residence of the President. Here also is the majestic Gothic Cathedral of St. Vitus and the beautiful Charles Bridge over the Vlatava. The most striking natural beauties of the land are the resorts in the Tatia Mountains.

Coal Mined in Quick Time

For the purpose of making a test of mining and delivery efficiency, an order for 600 tons of coal was given by the Edison company of New York to the Pocahontas Fuel Company and in three days the coal was mined, shipped, and being used at the Hell Gate station of the electric company. The order consisted of seventy-five cars. Mined on Tuesday the coal was immediately loaded onto cars and transported 400 miles to Norfolk, Va. In three hours after arrival it had started on its 300-mile journey by collier to New York.

On Friday afternoon at 3:10 o'clock the boat docked at the water front, and five minutes later the coal was being conveyed to the bunkers on its way to boilers.

Push From Car Wins Divorce

Her husband pushed her off the running board of her car while it was moving, Mrs. Bertha P. Dawson yesterday testified in Superior Judge Hazlett's court, where she divorced Lyle T. Dawson.

The wife accused Dawson of cruelty and failure to provide and asserted that when she had a major operation last February he refused to pay the bills. They married in Burns, Or., December 6, 1915, and separated November 11, last. Judge Hazlett granted her a decree.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DISRESPECT FOR TOYS PATTERNED FROM PARENTS' ATTITUDE

As they embark on shopping trips many mothers have a habit of saying, "Be good, children, and mother will bring you something." On the face of it this is a generous gesture, but it is actually one which destroys the value of any gift the mother may bring. None of these gifts is expensive or valuable, and none ever offers a more than momentary excitement. Five minutes later nothing is said if the cheap doll has lost her head or the cheap dog, his eyes. The mother's own feeling that it isn't worth while to make a fuss about a 10-cent toy is transferred to the child, the result is a disregard for the preservation of all toys, regardless of value.

DEPLORES TOO MANY TOYS

Mrs. T. G. is doubtful of the value of such a habit. She writes, "Do you think it wise for parents to give their children great numbers of toys? I know many children who have boxes filled with toys in all stages of destruction. It always seems wiser to me to supply children with a few well-made toys and give them time to exhaust their possibilities. A profusion of toys promotes the bad habits of carelessness, greed and disorderliness. The children are always expecting mother to bring home a toy and they are seldom disappointed.

"Don't you think it quite impossible for children to develop a proper appreciation or a sense of values under such circumstances? Also, are not children robbed of a stimulus to create when toys are ready-made? I may be entirely wrong and I should like to know your attitude in the matter. I have read your column for so long, but must have missed a discussion of this subject."

Everything you say is true. It isn't quantity that is important; it isn't even the money value; it is the TYPE of toy. Children have to be developed as a whole and there are various types of toys which cater to various needs. Children can go from one kind to another, each giving them a particular kind of satisfaction and entertainment.

VARIOUS TYPES OF TOYS

Children need building toys to inspire their creative abilities. They also need toys with which to play house, thus imitating activities they see around them. They need toys which encourage physical activity, and this list is a long one. They need toys with which their senses can be stimulated, such as crayons, paints and scissors to develop their finer muscles. They need books. Thus a child might have five toys, one from each class, and be kept happy and busy while some other child might have five toys all from the same class and be bored to tears trying to play with them all day long.

As for destruction, we cover this in a leaflet called "Holiday Problems," which also mentions some other puzzles that are typical of the Christmas season, thanking for gifts and disposal of duplicate gifts. Any mother may secure this leaflet for a self-addressed, stamped envelope sent with her request for "Holiday Problems" to the "Your Baby and Mine" department of The Times. In any household the parent's attitude toward toys, her feeling for them, and her wise choice of them set a pattern for the child's attitude.

HEARING ON GAS WASTE POSTPONED

January 12 Set for Move to Declare Injunction of Court Permanent

Superior Judge Hazlett yesterday continued until January 12 the hearing on motion to make permanent the temporary injunction against gas wastage in the Santa Fe Springs field. The original injunction was granted early this year under the California Oil and Gas Conservation Act, the constitutionality of which was upheld by the Supreme Court the 3rd inst., following affirmative opinions by the District Court of Appeal.

Pending the action of the high court, Judge Hazlett has granted temporary injunctions from time to time. When he granted a continuance yesterday he expressed regret that he would no longer be on the bench to conclude the action. He added that the temporary injunctions granted during this year had reduced the gas wastage from 500,000,000 cubic feet a day to approximately 285,000,000 cubic feet.

R. W. Stephens, Local Attorney, Divorced in Reno

Mrs. Lucille Stephens, wife of Raymond W. Stephens, local attorney, was granted a divorce yesterday at Reno, a dispatch from that city stated. Mrs. Stephens charged desertion. She married Stephens in Los Angeles twenty-two years ago.

Custody of a 16-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, was arranged out of court, as was the question of maintenance. Details were not given out. The Stephens also have a son, Jefferson, a student at Stanford University.

The divorce suit was brought to trial half an hour after the papers were filed.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORTON W. BURGESS

STUMPY DOES A LITTLE BOAOSTING

Who never boasts is wise indeed,
For to retract he has no need.
—Old Mother Nature.

The Smiling Pool was frozen over. It had a roof. That is what Stumpy, the young Muskrat spending his first winter there, said. To those who lived beneath it it was a roof. When Stumpy had first discovered it he had thought that it was nothing less than a disaster. His father, Jerry Muskrat, had seemed pleased and had explained why he was pleased to have the Smiling Pool with a roof of ice. However, Stumpy didn't think much of it at first. It wasn't until he had become used to living that way that he began to understand why his father liked to have the roof of ice over the Smiling Pool. In the end he was led to do a little boasting.

He had climbed out on his favorite tussock beside the open water of the Laughing Brook just above the Smiling Pool, where the Laughing Brook came out from the Green Forest. He had been sitting there but a short time when Jumper the Hare in his beautiful white coat came along and stopped for a bit of gossip.

"That water looks black and cold," said Jumper, and shivered.

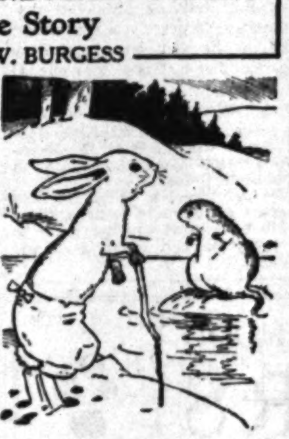
"It isn't as cold as this air," replied Stumpy.

"It must be awful down there under the ice of the Smiling Pool," continued Jumper, and shivered again.

"That shows how little you know about it," retorted Stumpy. "It isn't awful at all. It is very nice. Yes, sir, it is very nice. I wouldn't change places with you for the world."

"What do you mean you wouldn't change places with me?" demanded Jumper.

"Just what I said," retorted Stumpy. "I wouldn't live on land all the time the way you do for anything. Down there under the ice it is always the same. Rough Brother North Wind may blow his hardest, but we don't care. We don't even know it. He may drive up storm clouds of snow or sleet or rain, it is all the same to us. Jack Frost may pinch his hardest up here, but down there he cannot reach us. Our food cannot be buried in snow nor covered with ice, for it is at the bottom of the Smiling Pool and we can get in in winter just as in summer. We can go and come as we like and nothing can harm us. We do not even have to watch out for enemies. No, sir, I wouldn't change places with you for anything in all the Great World."



"That water looks black and cold," said Jumper, and shivered

"You say there is no danger from enemies," said Jumper. "What about Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter?"

"I haven't seen either of them since last summer," replied Stumpy. "They didn't bother us then, so why should they now? Besides, they live on fish."

"Very true. Very true," replied Jumper. "They are great fish eaters, though Billy Mink likes a bit of meat now and then any season of the year. As for Little Joe Otter, he is a hunter in winter when fish are scarce. I don't want him for a neighbor of mine in hard times."

"Time enough to worry about them when they are about," retorted Stumpy with a careless air. "They probably wouldn't come under the ice."

"And why not, pray?" cried Jumper. "Both are better swimmers than you, and I guess either can go anywhere you can under the ice. I wouldn't boast too much if I were you, Stumpy. I wouldn't boast too much. As for me, I want to be out where I can see all around and where I have plenty of room to run and dodge. You can live under the ice if you want to, but I would no more trade places with you than you would with me. Each for his own and his own for each. I think I'll get back to the Green Forest. It is very nice down here in this swamp, but there is no place like the Green Forest."

With this Jumper took to his long heels and soon disappeared.

Health and Diet Advice

RICE A GOOD ECONOMICAL STARCH

Is your family tired of potatoes? Then try rice for a change. In many eastern countries rice is served with vegetables just as we serve potatoes or bread. Rice may be considered one of the good starches. It is 79 per cent starch in a form that digests easily. Rice is never an expensive food, for it swells up so greatly while being cooked. Did you ever hear of the man who made up his mind that for once he would cook up enough rice? He chose a large pan and filled it full of rice. When the rice began to swell he filled the frying pan, the dishpan and half the sink. He did not know that five cupfuls of water and one cupful of rice make more than four cupfuls of cooked rice.

White rice is the kind most commonly used here, and it is often coated with talc to keep out bugs and dampness. This thin coating does not injure the rice, as it is easily removed by washing. Whenever possible I would advise you to obtain the brown or natural rice rather than the polished rice. Brown rice has the advantage of having a more delicious flavor besides containing more organic salts of lime, magnesium, iron, potassium and phosphorous, which are largely removed during the polishing in the case of white rice.

In China and Japan it was found that when human beings lived on polished rice as the exclusive cereal for a long enough time they developed a disease called beriberi. This disease seemed to be almost miraculously cured by feeding either the natural rice or the bran taken from the polished rice. It was found that the substance lost was vitamin B which clings closely to the skin of the rice. This vitamin is present in the brown or unpolished rice, and it was found that if this type of rice was used the disease beriberi did not develop.

Rice should not be served with sugar or fruits. It is all right to serve butter or cream with it, but leave off the sugar, as sugar and starch do not digest well together and the result is excessive fermentation.

When using rice, use it as the principal part of the meal, and combine it with cooked and raw vegetables. Tomatoes, being acid, do not combine very well with rice.

Rice may be used as a cereal for breakfast and may also be used in soups, muffins and croquettes. Many breakfast foods feature rice. A good wholesome breakfast food is made of rice exploded from guns so that it is puffy and crisp; another offers rice in toasted flakes, ready to eat.

The most desirable method of cooking rice is to use a fireless cooker or steam pressure cooker. It also cooks well in an ordinary double boiler. A good way to serve rice is to form it in a ring on a dish and place cooked vegetables in the center.

LICENSE ORDINANCE HELD TO BE ILLEGAL

It will be illegal to attempt to enforce an ordinance granting licenses and permits only to those social-service agencies which have the indorsement of the Social Service Commissioners, thus exempting them from the provisions of Ordinance 31,623, City Attorney Werner yesterday notified the City Council. The Council referred his opinion to the Public Welfare Committee.

THREATS TO CANNON FOR FUNDS AIRED

Head Master at School Run by Son of Bishop Admits Wiring Messages

Investigation into charges that faculty members of a military school maintained by Richard M. Cannon, son of Bishop James Cannon, militant leader of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, have been sending threatening telegrams to the Bishop attempting to obtain $2600 from him for the use of the school, was started yesterday by William McKay, chief of the District Attorney's complaint department.

After questioning E. R. Case, head master of the school, which is located near El Monte, McKay announced that no further action will be taken in the case until four check charges pending against young Cannon are disposed of in an El Monte court Friday.

According to McKay, Case admitted sending the telegrams stating that he was merely trying to save young Cannon embarassment, believing that he could obtain sufficient money from the Bishop to meet the school's expenses and to aid his employer in solving other financial difficulties.

Investigators assert that three telegrams were sent to Bishop Cannon, one on November 7, last, another on November 8, and the last on November 10. They were received by Bishop Cannon in the Sibley Hospital, Washington, D. C., where he was receiving treatment for a serious illness.

Woman Accused of Shooting Son Gets Jury Trial

Denying the charge that she shot down her own son after an argument on November 15, last, Mrs. Rosa Tarlazzi yesterday asked for a jury trial at her arraignment in Superior Judge Wood's court. Judge Wood set the trial for February 17, 1931, in his own court.

Mrs. Tarlazzi faces trial on the murder charge because she was the only woman wearing long sleeves who attended a party at her home at 1145 Los Palos street on the night of the shooting. Witnesses assert that they saw a woman's arm, draped in a long sleeve fire a revolver from the darkened doorway of a bedroom, killing Frank Tarlazzi, the defendant's son.

Suit Filed Over Film Showing

Because the film, "Reaching for the Moon," produced by United Artists, was shown in a theater in the same district, H. W. and F. M. Chotiner, proprietors of the Ravenna Theater at 239 North Vermont avenue, have sued the United Artists for $25,000.

The plaintiffs declare the Fox Film Distributing Corporation obtained control of the film in question and displayed it at the Belmont Theater in the same distribution zone after it had been advertised for the Ravenna.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PUREE OF EGG PLANT

Peel four medium-sized egg plant and cut in thin slices, place in a saucepan, cover with seven cupfuls of cold water and cook slowly until tender, rub through a fine sieve and reheat the mixture, cream three tablespoonfuls of butter with one tablespoonful of flour and stir into the mixture, stir and cook for five minutes, add two-thirds of a cupful of boiling water, or rich milk, add a seasoning of salt and white pepper, serve with croutons.

CABBAGE AND MEAT PUDDING

One small head of cabbage, one-half a pound of lean veal, finely chopped; three well-beaten eggs, one-half a teaspoonful of mustard, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, a seasoning of salt, paprika and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of nutmeg. Shred the cabbage fine, add the salt and paprika, butter a pudding mold, place in it a layer of cabbage, mix the meat with the eggs and seasoning, place a layer of the meat on the cabbage and continue until the mold is two-thirds full. Cover tightly and steam for three hours. Remove the cover, drain off any liquid, heat the butter in a saute pan, add the flour and let brown slightly. Add one cupful of the strained liquor, if there is not that much, fill the cup with water, allow this to thicken and boil. Unmold the cabbage and pour the gravy over it.

LEMON CHEESE PIE

Two-thirds of a cupful of milk, two-thirds of a cupful of honey, one-third of a cupful of flour, three well-beaten egg yolks, one cupful of cottage cheese, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of grated lemon rind, scald the milk in a double boiler, mix the flour with the honey and gradually stir it into the hot milk and stir until the mixture thickens, cover and let simmer slowly, stirring occasionally for fifteen minutes. Then add the beaten egg yolks, let cook slowly for a few minutes longer, add the other ingredients and reheat. Turn into a well-baked pie crust, cover with a meringue made with the egg whites and browned in a moderate oven.

COD FISH SOUFFLE

One cupful of freshened cod fish, two cupfuls of raw potatoes, two tablespoonfuls of milk, two eggs, one tablespoonful of butter, a seasoning of paprika. Place the flaked fish and sliced potatoes in a saucepan and add enough boiling water to just cover. Let simmer until the potatoes are cooked, drain thoroughly and mash well and beat until light. Add the butter and milk and beat in the well-beaten yolks of two eggs and lastly fold in the well-beaten whites. Place in an oiled baking dish, sprinkle with paprika, place in a pan of water and bake about twenty-five minutes.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Antipicketing Injunction Suit Decision Waits

After hearing concluding arguments in the injunction suit seeking to prevent Chief Steckel and members of the police Red squad from enforcing the antipicketing ordinance, Superior Judge Gates took the matter under submission.

H. E. Garman, publisher of the Los Angeles Citizen, a unionist newspaper, asked that the police be held in contempt for arresting two of his newsboys.

Chief Steckel, on advice of the City Prosecutor, ordered the arrest of the circulators on the ground that the edition of the sheet they sold had headlines on the front page proclaiming a certain downtown theater "unfair to organized labor" as a subterfuge to evade antipicketing legislation.

HARBOR FIRE ON OIL SHIP CONQUERED

Disastrous Blast Averted When Crew at San Pedro Wins Half-Hour Fight

Fire threatening a disastrous explosion aboard the tanker Frank H. Buck at the Associated Oil Company's loading station at Los Angeles Harbor, San Pedro, was extinguished at dark yesterday after half an hour's fight by forces under Assistant Fire Chief Baly, and with nominal damage.

The blaze is declared to have started in the bilges under the fireroom shortly after the ship arrived from Ventura to discharge 62,000 barrels of light crude oil, regarded as highly volatile and explosive.

Suspect Held in Forgeries Will Get Sanity Test

Believed by police to have impersonated at least six residents of Los Angeles and to have obtained $580 from their relatives and friends in the East by forging their names to telegrams, Jean de Mosoreau yesterday was ordered to the prison ward of the General Hospital by Superior Judge Wood for mental observation.

Judge Wood made the order at the request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Harold Jones, who asserted De Mosoreau formerly had been confined in a public institution.

The defendant is to be returned to court on January 5, next, when it will be decided whether he is to be prosecuted or given a sanity hearing.

MARIAN MARSH PLAYS TRILBY

Players in "Blind Husbands" Must Speak German; Mary and Doug to Travel—Will Meet in Germany; Radio Pictures Buys "Traveling Husbands"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Naturally everybody in the film world has been wondering who would play the role of Trilby in the Warner version of the Du Maurier play of the same name. Now it is all settled. Marian Marsh is to have the role, playing opposite John Barrymore, as the sinister Svengali, which is to be the star part.

MARIAN MARSH

Miss Marsh lately changed her name. She was formerly Marilyn Morgan, but this name was constantly being confused with those of Marilyn Miller and Marion Morgan, so Warners helped her to choose a new monicker.

Preparations are going forward rapidly at Warner Brothers' studios for the filming of the picture, which is to be elaborately produced.

Another important role necessary to be filled soon is that of Little Billee.

ACTORS MUST KNOW TWO LANGUAGES

The casting of "Blind Husbands," which Erich Von Stroheim wrote and which he will direct for Universal, is going to be perhaps the most difficult assignment ever handed to a casting department, aided and abetted by the production company and by the director.

ERICH VON STROHEIM

The reason is that nearly every member of the cast must be able to speak German.

This is because many of the characters are supposed to be German, while some of even the American characters are supposed to be able to speak German. The German characters will speak German to each other in the picture, and broken German to the Americans.

The script of the story, supposed to be ready by the 11th inst., really was in the hands of Carl Laemmle, Jr., on the appointed day.

"And not with a courier dashing up just as the gates of Universal City were closing, either," said Mr. Von Stroheim yesterday, with justifiable pride, "but by noontime. That's accomplishing something I never did before."

MARY AND DOUG TO MEET IN GERMANY

The travels of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks have at last been settled to the mutual satisfaction of both parties. Doug will leave on January 4, along with Victor Fleming, who is to direct his next picture, and Charles Lewis, noted athlete and Doug's trainer, for the Orient, sailing from San Francisco on the Belgian. They plan not only to take scenes for Fairbanks's next picture in India, Indo-China, China and Japan, but also to hunt tigers in India.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS

Douglas Fairbanks and Fleming will sketch a story, but its complete making into a screen play for filming will be handed over to a well-known writer when they return.

Mary Pickford will leave Hollywood in time to meet Fairbanks in Baden-Baden, Germany, late in February, following which the two will visit Berlin, Paris and London, and come home to Hollywood some time in March.

Jackie Searle Renews

Paramount has given a long-term contract to little Jackie Searle, the small actor who gave such a wonderful impersonation of the snitching Sid in "Tom Sawyer."

The youngster will doubtless play the role of Sid again when "Huckleberry Finn" is filmed with Junior Durkin starred. In the meantime he is busy playing a part in "The Haddocks."

Radio Buys Pearson Yarn

Even though Humphrey Pearson is free-lancing since he left First National, he seems to be having no difficulty in selling his stories.

Radio Pictures has, we learn, bought the rights to Pearson's newest story, which bears the fascinating title of "Traveling Husbands." Who will direct it isn't certain, although we hear it may fall to the lot of Paul Sloane, who has a gift for directing light comedy.

All members of the cast have yet to be selected, but we do hear that there is a large probability that Rita Leroy may be featured in the feminine role.

M.-G.-M. Signs Them Again

Two featured players at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios have signed new contracts. They are Johnny Mack Brown and Dorothy Jordan.

Miss Jordan has been borrowed by Fox to play the leading role in that concern's talking version of Elmer Harris's "Young Sinners."

Stanford Students' Marriage Annulled by Court in Time for Christmas

That Christmas holiday annulment of marriage which was promised Wilbur R. Wilkinson, Stanford University student, yesterday was delivered by Superior Judge Tappaan. Early in the month when the case was called in regular order, the youth's mother, Mrs. Mary E. Wilkinson, appeared. She requested a continuance until this holiday vacation week, saying her son was busy at his classes.

Wilkinson and his mother appeared yesterday to testify that he was a minor when he married Gwendolyn Eleanor Wilkinson at Tia Juana last January 25, and that he did not have parental consent to the union. The annulment was granted.

Dr. Doud Dies in Laboratory of Heart Ill

Dr. Frank N. Doud, author of "Evolution of the Individual" and other books, died early yesterday morning at his laboratory in the old Lyceum Theater Building on Main street. Death was due to hemorrhage of the heart, according to physicians. The body was taken to the County Morgue pending instructions from relatives.

Dr. Doud, who was about 70 years of age, was a native of Winona, Minn., and had lived in Los Angeles for the last twenty-seven years. He had been married three times. Many years ago he abandoned the practice of medicine to take up the study of naturopathy and of metaphysical topics. Besides a son Dr. Doud leaves a half brother at Winona, and a cousin, Matt Brush, a financier of New York City.

Riches Willed Poor in Santa's Home Country

In Friedland, Germany, the land of Santa Claus's birth, they will have a special reason to welcome the bewhiskered saint this year.

Because St. Nicholas will bring down the chimneys with him the information that Robert Stadie of Burbank, who died December 16 at the age of 69 years, left $200,000 to relatives in Germany, and $25,000 to the poor of Friedland, in the province of Ost Preussen, Stadie's former home.

One cousin, Franz Schiemann, in Ost Preussen, will get $60,000; three others $10,000 each, and ten more and a step-sister, $5000. The widow will get $55,000 and a home at 715 Canyon Drive.

William Paul of Hermosa Beach and Henry Davances of San Fernando are bequeathed $2000 each.

Breakfast Club to Feed Hungry

With five trucks of the Los Angeles Fire Department drawn up as a Santa Claus caravan, ready to leave for the distribution of baskets of food and toys to 600 needy families, the Breakfast Club tomorrow morning will entertain the children of its own members with a special Christmas program.

The distribution of baskets this year is replacing the circus and dinner of the previous five Christmases at the club's grounds on Riverside Drive.

The hosts will be Dr. Earl M. Tarr and Samuel A. Guiberson, Jr. Judge Leonard Wilson will preside, and two junior hosts, Louis Webb and Gorton DeMond, will distribute toys to the children present.

PROCEDURE CHANGE ASKED

A resolution aimed to restrict the introduction of resolutions to the Friday session was introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman Lewis. His resolution was referred to the Efficiency and Personnel Committee. Lewis points out that the submission of resolutions on other days frequently interferes with scheduled business.

FINE MUSIC HEARD AT "PETER PAN"

Travels of Characters in Barrie Play Described by Tuneful "Atmosphere"

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The music of "Peter Pan" now being heard at the Civic Repertory Theater is unusually interesting theater music. It is so like the English to have worked out the fine details of just the right suggestions of sound to accompany Wendy, Michael, Peter Pan and all the rest on their stupendous travels through the Never, Never Land. An American producer would have interpolated "Alexander's Rag Time Band" and its variations and let it go at that.

This "Peter Pan" music was especially written over twenty years ago for the London presentation by John Crook. Judging his talent by this descriptive, tuneful and rhythmic "atmosphere," John Crook should have become better known before his death in London in poverty three years ago. Delightful bits of rollicking musical humor occur at appropriate moments and the dances are provided with tunes so gay and natural that the younger and therefore less inhibited members of the audience are inclined to join the frolic on the stage.

The overture as played by Albert Kaufman and his eight-piece orchestra is positively sprightly and whets the appetite for more, so that no one is surprised when the delightful little actress, I think it was June Bennet, comes out and stamps her foot at the director when he stops for a bit.

I don't think I have ever seen children more interested in the music of the intermissions than they were the day I attended this play, and there wasn't a note of jazz in it. There was a sweetness to it that reminded one of "The Beggar's Opera" and the Gilbert and Sullivan masterpieces.

A remarkable thing about this Hollywood production is that Director Kaufman did not have all the musical score to work with, and some of the tunes had to be hummed by George Kirby, who worked long with Sir James Barrie's play in England. These remembrances were then orchestrated cleverly by Mr. Kaufman, who came to California after years of study with Philip Scharwenka in Berlin. Donald Stuart is musical codirector.

COLUMBIA FILM NEXT AT R.-K.-O.

Evelyn Brent and Robert Ames Play Chief Roles in "Madonna of Streets"

EVELYN BRENT

Starting Thursday at the R.-K.-O. Theater is "Madonna of the Streets," a story laid in a section of the old Barbary Coast.

Taken from "The Ragged Messenger," a story by W. B. Maxwell, the incoming Columbia picture costars Evelyn Brent as a woman of the world and Robert Ames as a missionary worker in the waterfront district.

"Madonna of the Streets" was directed by John Robertson. The cast in support of Miss Brent and Ames includes Ivan Linow, Josephine Dunn and Ed Brady.

Latin Picture Stars Mexican Film Actress

Lupe Velez makes her Spanish film debut in "Oriente y Occidente," at a gala premiere at the International California Theater Friday evening.

George Melford directed the Universal production with Paul Kohner supervising. The gala event will be attended with all the gayety, lights and ceremony that usually marks occasions of this kind. Many prominent foreign language stars as well as English-speaking notables will be in the audience. Miss Velez and her company will also be present and appear on the stage.

Hollywood Club Plans Frolic at Million Dollar

The Million Dollar Theater will present on New Year's Eve, under the auspices of the 33 Club of Hollywood, what is said to be the most spectacular footlight entertainment of the season, with an ensemble of film artists taking part.

The 33 Club of Hollywood boasts of over 300 film celebrities as members, headed by Jack Holt as president. The club is co-operating with the management of the Million Dollar to make this event an outstanding one. Will Rogers is being sought for the master of ceremonies job.

New Year's Eve Show Arranged

Loew's State Theater announces a reserved seat sale at both box offices for the New Year's Eve midnight show. Special attractions on stage and screen, featuring a preview attraction together with an augmented Fanchon and Marco stage show, are expected to make the late revel a gala event.

Current at Loew's State is Charles Farrell's vehicle, "The Princess and the Plumber," with Maureen O'Sullivan and H. B. Warner.

BERYL MERCER BUSY

Beryl Mercer, who recently completed a role in "Inspiration" for M.-G.-M., also plays a leading part in "East Lynne" in support of Ann Harding.

Comedienne Plays Lively Role

Dorothy Lee

Again appears with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey on the screen in "Hook, Line and Sinker," which starts a run tomorrow at the Orpheum Theater.

Player Slights Hollywood; Then Signed in East

EVELYN KNAPP

Evalyn Knapp, blond heroine of "River's End," now showing at both Warner Brothers' Downtown and Hollywood Theaters, played in Los Angeles for several weeks in the Jed Harris production of "Broadway" without ever going near Hollywood.

Despite this unusual occurrence, Miss Knapp was destined to screen note, for soon after her return to New York she was signed by Warner Brothers. "Sinner's Holiday" provided her first leading role. "River's End" is said to definitely establish her as one of the coming favorites of the screen.

In "River's End" Miss Knapp plays the leading feminine role opposite Charles Bickford, with ZaSu Pitts, J. Farrell Macdonald, Junior Coghlan and Walter McGrail in the supporting cast. Michael Curtiz directed.

French Picture Will Have One Showing Here

For the benefit of the Los Angeles French colony, which will see the film during its only American showing, Radio Pictures announces it will stage a gala midnight premiere of "Le Roi S'ennu'e" at the Filmarte Theater Saturday.

The proceeds of the picture's one performance will be turned over to local French charities and to the local French veterans of the World War.

This will be the only time "Le Roi S'ennuie" ("The King Is Bored") will be presented in an American theater. Immediately after its showing at the Filmarte it will be shipped to France. Several notables of the screen colony, including government representatives and the Marquis De La Falaise, who, with Leon D'Usseau, co-directed the film, will attend the performance.

"Le Roi S'ennu'e" is the French talking version of "The Royal Bed." The cast includes Emile Chautard, Francois Rosay, Pauline Garon, Frank O'Neill, Jules Raucourt and Ivan Tebedeff.

SCREEN COMEDIAN FEATURED IN PLAY

Raymond Hatton

An official homecoming for the stage and screen personalities of Hollywood who received their earliest theatrical training under Oliver Morosco at the old Burbank Theater will be staged coincident with the premiere of the producer's newest venture, "Between the Sheets."

From the pen of William A. Jeffries and featuring Raymond Hatton, well-known screen actor, the footlight attraction will open for a two weeks' engagement at the Biltmore Theater Monday night. Others in the cast are Monaei Lindley, Ann Rork, Barry Thomson, Vera Meseerau, Sven Hugo-Borg, Henry Hall, Louis Dunn and Adam Fangman.

Eddie Lambert to Perform on Pantages Stage

Eddie Lambert will appear as an added attraction with "Topical Tunes," the Fanchon and Marco stage presentation which starts at Pantages Hollywood Theater Thursday, in conjunction with the showing of "Tom Sawyer," the picturization of the Mark Twain classic featuring Jackie Coogan and Mitzi Green. "Topical Tunes" was staged by Sammy Lee.

John Cromwell directed "Tom Sawyer" for Paramount. The cast includes Junior Durkin in the role of Huckleberry Finn, Jackie Searl, Dick Winslow, Lucien Littlefield and several other youthful film players.

Slim Martin and the orchestra in a new musical offering, a comedy of news events are other items on the new program.

Orphans Attend Christmas Bill at Criterion

True Christmas spirit is being reflected these days by the Criterion Theater, where Joan Crawford is playing on the screen in "Paid."

Yesterday more than 1000 orphans were entertained by the management and the Catholic Welfare Bureau. A special program was shown on the screen. Santa Claus gave the children presents of toys and candies, while two large Christmas trees were especially decorated and lighted for them.

The theater is also the home of what is said to be the world's largest Christmas wreath. Donated by Miss Crawford in honor of the season, this wreath measures seventy-five feet in length and forty-eight feet in width, and weighs two tons and a half.

German Actress Spends Holiday Season at Home

Marlene Dietrich has several things to rejoice over in this yuletide season.

The blond German beauty, now in Berlin, Germany, is happy because Paramount has cabled her a new long-term contract, which calls for her next film to start some time in the spring.

Likewise, her birthday falls on Saturday, at which time she will be with her husband and family. She plans to bring them to Hollywood when she returns.

Another contributing factor toward her happiness should be the entrance of "Morocco" into its second month at the Chinese Theater, according to the management.

Title of New Drama Changed

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (Exclusive) "Gone Hollywood," instead of "Made in Hollywood," is now the title of the Donald Davis play which Brock Pemberton is producing. The play will open in Philadelphia tonight and will succeed "Strictly Dishonorable" here Tuesday, January 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Bessmore Kendall will arrive tomorrow from Europe on the Olympic. While aboard Mr. Kendall conferred with Somerset Maugham about Bartlett Cormack's dramatization of "The Painted Veil" which Mr. Kendall expects to produce.

In addition to Edna Hibbard, the cast of "Aces Wild" will include Herold Elliott, Herbert Haywood, John Boyd and Ruth Russell.

"Meet My Sister" the musical show scheduled for the Shubert Theater New Year's Eve will open tonight at the Majestic Theater, Brooklyn.

The new Edgar Wallace play, "Smoky Cell," which is now running in London, is announced for production here by the Shuberts in association with Lee Ephriam and the author.

PLAYER HAS NEW ROLE

Carmen Mathews, who has appeared as guest artist at the Play Shop in "Waltz of the Dogs" and "Wings of Magdalene," will be seen as Joan in "Bird in Hand," to be presented at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

VARCONI PLAYS BANDIT

FILM WILL INTRODUCE NEW STAR

Evelyn Laye, Comedienne of Stage, Has Lead Role in Goldwyn Picture

"One Heavenly Night," Samuel Goldwyn's latest screen production which starts at the United Artists' Theater Thursday, serves to introduce Evelyn Laye, stage comedienne. The local showing is also the world premiere of the picture.

Miss Laye is seen as a beautiful flower-girl in a European cabaret. Lilyan Tashman, John Boles and Leon Errol play important supporting roles.

"Lincoln," the D. W. Griffith production which is the current attraction, ends its run tomorrow night.

Ten Villains Lose to Comics in Radio Film

Combined efforts of ten villains fail to upset Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in their latest Radio film vehicle, "Hook, Line and Sinker," opening Wednesday at the Orpheum Theater.

However, one villainess makes the boys turn handsprings. This part is played by Natalie Moorhead, currently seen in "Capt. Thunder" at the R.-K.-O. Theater.

Ralf Harolde, the menace in "Check and Double Check" and "Dixiana," and Stanley Fields, veteran screen villain, head the group of bad men in the comedy. Other film scoundrels are William Davidson, Eddie Sturgis, Bert Morehouse, Frank Mills, Ethan Laidlaw, Ben Hendricks, Jr., Larry McGrath and Lynton Brent.

The girl in the case is played by Dorothy Lee. Jobyna Howland plays opposite Woolsey.

Currently showing at the Orpheum is "Ex-Flame," with Marion Nixon, Neil Hamilton and Judith Barrie.

DOROTHY JORDAN

Dorothy Jordan plays a new type role in "Min and Bill," the current film feature at the Carthay Circle Theater. She appears as a gum-chewing gamin of the waterfront and is said to give an unusual characterization. Heretofore Miss Jordan has performed on the screen as a dainty ingenue, pursued by villains and finally winding up in the hero's arms. George Hill, director of "Min and Bill," received a surprise when the petite actress asked for the hoydenish role.

Miss Jordan's acting has been widely praised and is said to rank with the portrayals of Wallace Beery, Marie Dressler and Marjorie Rambeau, other principals of the picture.

Stage Farce at Playhouse Will Include Music

While "Stepping Sisters," the farce comedy Henry Duffy is presenting at the Hollywood Playhouse starting Thursday is not a musical play, there are several tuneful numbers interpolated in the action.

One is "When You Walk Through My Door," sung by Irving Fisher, the leading man in the farce and also composer of the song.

May Boley, Kathryn Givney and Frances Woodbury play the trio of ex-burlesque queens whose adventures in society form the basis for this comedy, which is now in its eighth month at the Jolson Theater in New York City. Others in the cast are Barbara Luddy, Myra Marsh, Robert Adams, William Lloyd, Muriel Rothermel and Frank Perry.

Noted Aviator and Party Will Attend Belasco

Lieutenant-Commander Noville, who was with Commander Byrd on his North Pole expedition and also on his trans-Atlantic flight, will attend the opening performance of "Up Pops the Devil" at the Belasco Theater Christmas night. Roscoe Turner will also be in the party.

A fashionable assemblage is expected to witness the first Pacific Coast presentation of this comedy which is currently playing in New York.

A. Leslie Pearce, who directed "The Royal Family" and "Caprice" for Belasco and Curran, is staging "Up Pops the Devil," with Raymond Hackett, Ann Teaman, Esther Howard, John Arledge, Leyland Hodgson and Lex Lindsay in the cast.

ROLE REQUIRES TRIP

Carole Lombarde, blond motion-picture actress, saw Broadway for the first time in her life when she was sent from Hollywood to New York by Paramount for a role in "Fast and Loose," a comedy romance which is playing currently at the Boulevard Theater.

ACTRESS COSTARRED

Joan Bennett, who is costarred with Edmund Lowe in "Scotland Yard," now showing locally, will next be costarred with Warner Baxter in "Doctors' Wives," soon to go into production at Fox.

"FEET FIRST" BOOKED

"Feet First," Harold Lloyd's new comedy, will be the next attraction on the screen at the Wilshire Theater, starting Christmas Day. "Tom Sawyer" is the current attraction.

SUSPECT NAMED IN MURDER CASE

Tony Martinez, ex-Employee of Horton, Accused

Witness Says He Knew of Hidden Money

Robbery Plot Resulting in Killing Laid to Him

Tony Martinez, former ranch employee of Wade Albert Horton, murdered Mint Canyon rancher, yesterday was disclosed as the mysterious "John Doe" named in the indictment charging Lloyd Dye and Gordon Gauss with Horton's death. This fact was made known by Gene Blalock, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case in Superior Judge Fricke's court where Dye and Gauss are on trial for murder.

Early in the trial it became evident that the prosecution intended to link Martinez's name with that of the known defendants when Blalock questioned Walter Hewett, nephew of the slain rancher, on the witness stand.

Under direct examination Hewitt stated that Martinez, before being discharged by the Hortons, had known that a large sum of money was usually kept in the house. The prosecution expects to prove, according to Blalock, that Martinez planned the attempted robbery of Wade Horton and his brother, George, and attempted to execute it with the aid of Dye and Gauss.

The attempt was made on May 18, last, according to Deputy Sheriffs Gray and Penprase, who investigated the case, but Wade Horton was killed when he resisted the bandits. Evidence will be introduced during the trial, the prosecutors assert, intended to prove that Horton first had fired two shots which struck Dye in the storach and that Dye then returned the fire, shooting Horton through the heart. Hewitt will resume the witness stand today for cross-examination.

Murder Trial Jury Selected in Record Time

Completing selection of a jury in record time, prosecution and defense attorneys yesterday opened the trial of Jose Campos in Superior Judge Schmidt's court, for the murder of Jose Puebla last September.

Although Puebla was shot on September 2, he did not die until September 14, and then his death was caused by an infection in the bullet wound.

According to Tom O'Brien, deputy district attorney prosecuting the case, the shooting occurred on the highway just outside the city of Los Nietos as a result of a quarrel between the two men over the affections of a woman.

HABEAS CORPUS DENIED

Division Two, District Court of Appeal, yesterday denied the petition of Lester E. Norquist for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent his return to Colorado to answer to charges of failure to support a minor child under a divorce decree ordering him to do so.

DR. GRIFFIS CHOSEN BY MINISTERS

Besides Naming Officers, Pastors Present Opinion on KGEF Question

DR. HAROLD H. GRIFFIS.

Dr. Harold H. Griffis, pastor of First Christian Church, was elected president of the Los Angeles Ministerial Association to serve for 1931, at the annual business meeting yesterday at First Methodist Church. Other officers elected are: Dr. James H. Lash, vice-president; Dr. John Snape, chairman of program committee; Rev. R. M. Donaldson, secretary-treasurer.

The association adopted a resolution, recommended by the resolutions committee, in which the Federal Radio Commission was requested "to not withdraw the licenses of radio stations which may be used improperly, but to lend your influence to the establishment and enforcing of such laws as would adequately penalize those who use speech or press in such manner as to endanger public welfare or unjustly destroy the good name or fortunes of individuals."

The report, adopted as a resolution, states that "the question is broader than the individual license at issue and is nothing less than the constitutional question of freedom of speech and press," and that "to deprive a man of his constitutional right would, in our opinion, be taking a step fraught with a danger greater than the evil you might strive to eliminate."

The resolution states, further: "There is divergence of opinion among members of our association as to the use that is, from time to time, made of the radio station, KGEF, operated by Rev. R. P. Shuler, under consideration by your honorable body, but there is no divergence of opinion as to the basic principles involved—the right of liberty of speech and of the press as guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States."

Penalties for Police Favored

For taking too long for lunch while on a stake-out at Slauson and Vermont avenues on the 20th inst. Officer S. C. Pursley has been deprived of his two days lay-off for December by Chief of Police Steckel, with the approval of the Police Commission yesterday.

The commission also approved of a penalty of suspension for fifteen days without pay for Officer Herman W. Holman, accused of insubordination. Holman is charged with having taken a trip to Big Bear Lake against the orders of his division commander at San Pedro.

A penalty of twenty days without pay, fixed by the police trial board in the case of Officer E. S. Rose, recently suspended for leaving his shotgun exposed in a car and being absent from a stake-out, was approved by the commission.

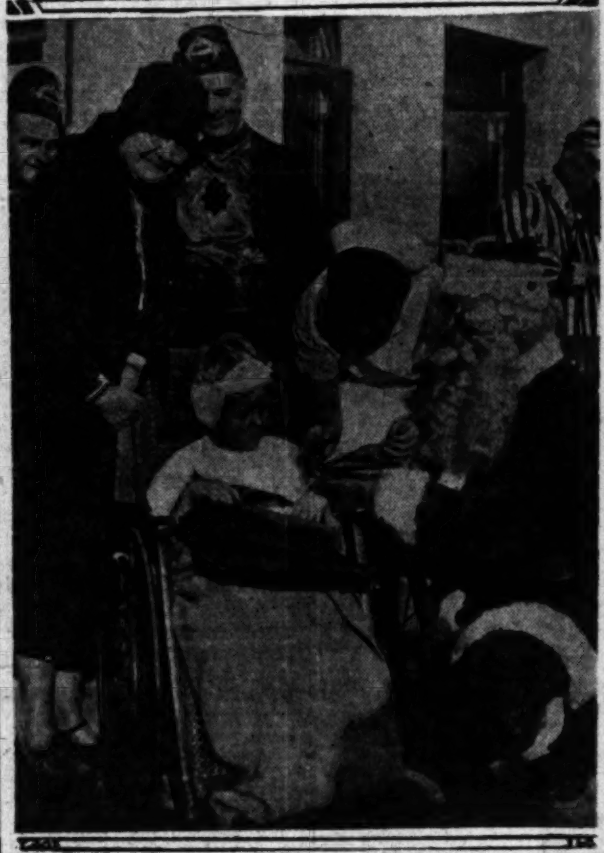
Tiny Cripples Have Share of Cheer



Buddy Olson Receives His Gift

SHRINERS PLAY SANTA ROLE

Youngsters at Children's Hospital Receive Gifts, Candy and Ice Cream at Al Malaikah Party

No doubts concerning the reality of Santa Claus existed in the minds of some 184 crippled youngsters in the Children's Hospital yesterday afternoon, when they met that genial gentleman face to face and from his hands received the answers to their hearts' desires.

As a part of the yearly Christmas activities of Al Malaikah Temple, Shriners were responsible for the happiness that radiated on the faces of the girls and boys in wheel chairs and tiny beds as they took part in the festive proceedings. They were assembled on a sunny porch around a big Christmas tree when Santa Claus, in the person of Past Potentate Le Roy M. Edwards, and his helpers from the Al Malaikah Patrol arrived to distribute gifts, candy and ice cream to the little patients.

In advance of the party an investigation had been made by the members of the Shrine hospital committee to determine just what each child most desired for Christmas, and that article, whether it was a subscription to a magazine, a train of cars, a doll or a fountain pen, was the thing that each one found on opening his or her gift. The Al Malaikah Troubadours serenaded the children during the afternoon.

Members of the hospital committee are Nobles Mark W. Lillard, Charles A. Hawley, Fred S. Bieger and Glen Marks. This afternoon the same celebration will be repeated for the children of the General Hospital and tomorrow the children at the Orthopedic Hospital will have their share of Christmas cheer.

The largest of the Shrine Christmas activities will come tonight at 7 p.m., when more than 4000 small children of every race and creed, from the city schools, will be guests at the Shrine Auditorium to witness a play, meet Santa Claus and receive gifts. This will be the twenty-fourth annual appearance of Santa Claus sponsored by the Shriners for the poor children in the city schools during which time more than 75,000 children have received gifts from this organization. Nobles James W. Jump and Gen. Robert A. Wankowski have been in charge of the work since its inception.

Following several weeks of investigation to discover the most worthy cases among distressed families of the community, the uniformed patrol of Al Malaikah Temple, under direction of Noble Jesse F. Brown, tomorrow morning will deliver supplies for Christmas dinner to many of these families, as well as large packages containing blankets, undergarments, shoes, dresses, stockings, and other useful articles. All of the supplies used in this work were purchased locally with funds raised at the recent annual charity ball.

The Midnight Mission was host to 1500 children yesterday at a Christmas party at the Philharmonic Auditorium. Assembled from all parts of the city by members of the Parent-Teacher associations, the youngsters first were entertained with an hour's program of singing, dancing and reciting by child entertainers, under the direction of the 233 Club. At the close of the program each child marched to the stage to meet Santa Claus, impersonated by W. T. Osterholt, secretary of the Westlake Masonic Lodge, and to receive from him a bag of foodstuffs sufficient for a holiday dinner for a family of five.

In addition to the children's party, the Midnight Mission will feed 4000 men on Christmas Day.

Claire Fahy Given Legion Funeral Rites

Military funeral rites of the American Legion were conducted yesterday over the body of Claire Fahy, Los Angeles airplane pilot, at the Fillbach funeral parlors, Burbank, and at Valhalla Cemetery.

The aviatrix died last week from injuries received in an air crash at Tonopah, Nev.

She was the only woman member of Aviators' Post, No. 350, American Legion, having served during the World War as a yeoman in the United States Navy. Her husband, Lieut. Herbert J. Fahy, was killed in a crash last spring.

She leaves a 10-year-old son, Jimmy; two sisters here and two in the East. She was born in Washington, D. C., and was 28 years of age.

Funeral Plans for Flo Irwin Still Undecided

Pending receipt of further word from the East, funeral plans for Flo Irwin, prominent actress of former years, were held in abeyance yesterday. The body still is at the County Morgue, but probably will be removed to the Cresse undertaking parlors today, the Coroner said.

Miss Irwin, 70 years of age, died Sunday at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital following a heart attack at her apartment, 1499 Echo Park avenue. Her sister, May Irwin, also a well-known actress, is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow from New York. May was en route to spend the Christmas holidays with her sister.

The meeting would have been the first between the sisters in many years, according to their friends in New York, dispatches said.

SEVEN ACCUSED IN GEM THEFT

Police Declare Robbery of O. L. Wuerker Solved

Six Men and Woman Taken and Plunder Traced

Confession to Ten Other Hold-ups Reported

With the arrest of six men and a woman yesterday, identification of the three bandits who robbed O. L. Wuerker of $21,800 worth of diamond jewelry in his store at 419 West Seventh street, October 30, last, and apprehension of the suspected fence who aided in disposal of some of the plunder, were announced by Captain of Detective McCaleb of the central police robbery squad.

The suspects gave the following identifications: Pete Moralli, 30 years of age, and Albert O. Williamson, 30, of 1159 East Fifty-third street, Fred Haynes, 45; Lawrence J. Ricca, 22, and his father, Natal Ricca, 45, Wolk Fegelman, and Miss Gay Sarles, 30.

The arrests were made by Detective Lieutenants Malina and Gibson on underworld information. Fegelman, who the detectives say runs a tailor shop at 811 South Olive street, and Miss Sarles are charged with receiving stolen property. About $2000 worth of Wuerker's jewelry has been recovered, according to the detectives. The others are held on robbery charges.

Moralli, Williamson and Haynes have been identified by Wuerker as the bandits who held him up, the detectives declare. Haynes and Miss Sarles were taken into custody in San Francisco and will be brought here today. Ricca and his father are suspected of being implicated in the theft. Williamson, according to the detectives, has confessed ten other robberies.

All but Haynes and Miss Sarles will be included with a score of bandit suspects in a public show up to be held at Central Police Station at 7 p.m. today.

BOOK-KEEPER ACCUSED OF FUND THEFT

Mrs. Dale Anderson Under Bonds in Insolvency of California Auto Salon

Asserted to have taken several hundred dollars while employed as book-keeper and cashier of the California Automobile Salon, Ltd., Mrs. Dale Anderson, 43 years of age, yesterday was held under bond of $5000 following her arrest by deputy sheriffs.

Mrs. Anderson, who, according to records, was convicted of a similar offense in 1924 under the name of Mona Harris and given five years' probation, was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Fletcher and Zahn at Costa Mesa.

The woman was named in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Oliver, who stated that her peculations threw the company for which she was working into insolvency. She is charged specifically with five counts of grand theft involving approximately $1500. Her preliminary hearing is set for Monday.

Public Defense Bureau Sought to Help Police

A bureau of public defense, somewhat in the nature of a vigilance committee of honest and reliable citizens, to aid the police department in combatting crime in Los Angeles, was suggected to the Police Commission yesterday in a communication from Nathan N. Lewis, druggist, 2901 East First street. It was referred to Chief Steckel for an opinion.

Lewis's suggestion is that selected police officers be chosen to give a large group of volunteers from among business men, bank clerks, professional men and others a short period of training so that they may aid the police in curbing robbers, gunmen, gangsters and hoodlums.

He suggests that each member be permitted to purchase and possess a gun and be taught in the use of firearms.

Body Found in Unused Mine Shaft Identified

The body of a man found Sunday in an abandoned shaft of a borax mine fourteen miles east of Saugus was tentatively identified yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Davidson as that of Burr Tucker, 48 years of age of 417 Canobie avenue, Whittier, who disappeared from a sanatorium in Wilmar last October.

Three boys on a hiking trip discovered the body and one of them notified his father, W. P. Voyles of 1836 Creston avenue, who made the report to the Sheriff's office. Deputies found no external evidence of the cause of death except an empty bottle nearby. This had contained a medical preparation for external use which might have been used as a poison.

GUARDSMEN'S BAND NOT AT INAUGURAL

A request from Col. Seth Howard, newly appointed adjutant-general of California, for an appropriation of $2675 to pay the expense of sending the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry Band to Sacramento next month to the Rolph inaugural festivities was denied yesterday by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. Supervisor Quinn moved that the money be appropriated from the county's general fund but withdrew it when Supervisor Shaw declared that the law only allowed the county to advance money to the National Guard for use within the county.

EAST ORANGE (N. J.) Dec. 22. (AP)—Paul (Bucky) O'Connor, Notre Dame fullback who scored two touchdowns against Southern California, will never play pro football, he said today as he arrived home for the holidays and a civic reception. Football is his favorite sport, he loves to play it and doesn't want to "commercialize" it, he explained. O'Connor will be graduated from Notre Dame in June. He expects to enter Harvard medical school.

Predictions Run True to Form in Opening Round of Junior Tennis Tourney

All favorites came through as expected in the first day of play in the junior events of the first annual Southern California midwinter tennis championships, which got under way on the courts of the Palomar Tennis Club yesterday with the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsoring the event.

Only twelve matches have been scheduled for this afternoon, but many excellent battles are sure to be played. Most of the seeded stars will see action in their fourth-round battles.

His views were expressed incidentally in his annual report. At the same time, he said, "If anything comes of it, so much the better."

In the East, Chancellor Elmer Ellsworth Brown of New York University considered the suggestion "extremely desirable" and President Ernest M. Hopkins at Dartmouth University, thought it "certainly worth considering," but there was no general movement that presaged any change in present athletic arrangements.

While in principle Dr. Butler's comment met with approval it appeared obstacles in the way of endowing sports to the point where gate receipts would be unnecessary,

IN THE HOLIDAY FOOTBALL LIMELIGHT

COLISEUM SCENE OF WORKOUTS

Two All-Star Elevens, North Dakota Use Bowl for Grid Drill

BY RALPH HUSTON

The Coliseum looked like a movie lot on a busy day yesterday. Notre Dame's All-Stars, the West-South All-Stars, and the North Dakota U. gridders were galloping all over the place, working out in preparation for their games here. Notre Dame and North Dakota both arrived here yesterday.

FRANK CARIDEO

The two All-Star elevens tangle Saturday in a charity contest; North Dakota engages the Los Angeles Firemen Christmas Day. Both contests will be played in the Coliseum.

All three outfits started working at 2 o'clock, but after a short interval, Jimmy Phelan took his West-South organization to Loyola Field for a hard drill.

"Hunk" Anderson, Notre Dame line coach, was in charge of the Irish athletes, in the absence of K. K. Rockne, who plans to fly here for the game. Joe Savoldi and "Moon" Mullins, fullbacks, were absent, but local promoters of the contest received a wire from Rockne stating that Savoldi was to leave Chicago last night, and would arrive here tomorrow.

FIRST STRING

Anderson used a first-string team that included eight players of this season's team, and three old-timers. Johnny O'Brien and Vik were at ends; McManmon and Twomey at tackles; Metzger and Kassis, guards; Moynihan, center; Carideo, quarter; Brill and Elder, halfbacks, and Howard, fullback. All except Twomey, Moynihan and Elder played on the unbeaten 1930 team. The others played last year.

Oakland Club Favors Draft

OAKLAND, Dec. 22. (AP)—Directors of the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast Baseball League today voted in favor of the draft as proposed by the major leagues. The club instructed its representative at the league meeting in Los Angeles January 9 to cast a formal vote for the draft. The directors also voted to stand by J. Cal Ewing in his candidacy for the league presidency. The Oakland club is the first in the Coast League to vote for the draft.

DE GLANE VICTOR IN LUTZE GO

French Star Wins Right to Battle Sonnenberg by Triumph at Olympic

Henri De Glane, brawny Frenchman, won the right to meet Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, former heavyweight mat champion, by beating Nick Lutze in two-out-of-three falls at the Olympic last night.

NICK LUTZE.

De Glane lost the first fall to the beach favorite, but captured the last two falls in twenty minutes of rapid-fire wrestling.

The prize for victory was announced by Promoter Lou Daro as a match with Sonnenberg, who lost his crown to Don George two weeks ago, and the date was set for January 7, next.

The first fall went to Lutze with a crotch and half-nelson in 21m. 53s. De Glane took the second fall with a drop-body lock, and salted the last one away with a head scissors and wristlock. The times for the falls were 7m. 22s., and 13m. 55s., respectively.

Before the main event started Sonnenberg was introduced, and received a big hand.

Interested ringsiders were Babe Hollingbery, head coach of Washington State, which plays Alabama at Pasadena on New Year's Day, and J. Fred Bohler, athletic director of the institution.

The old warrior, Ed (Strangler) Lewis, disposed of Joe Stocca in a rough-and-tumble match in straight falls.

Lewis won the first fall with his crushing headlock in 10m 55s. and the second in the rapid time of 22s., also with the headlock.

In the opener Myron Cox, a beach boy making his debut at the Olympic, got the best of Don De Laun with a body whirl in 10m. 22s.

WESTERN LEAGUE TO ACCEPT DRAFT PLAN

TOPEKA (Kan.) Dec. 22. (AP)—Dale Gear, president of the Western League, today announced the league would accept the draft proposal of the major leagues.

A telegraphic poll of members, President Gear said, showed six clubs voting in favor of acceptance, one not voting and one unheard from. The club not heard from was St. Joseph, a Cardinal farm, which undoubtedly, Gear said, would favor acceptance.

TROJAN CAGERS TRIUMPH

Coach Sam Barry's Basketeers Outplay Farmers to Capture Game by Score of 25 to 17

When poorer basketball shots are made, they'll be turned out at the Utah Agricultural School. The Farmers, badly outplaying the Southern California quintet, lost the game to Sam Barry's Trojans, 25 to 17, because the only shots they could sink were from directly under the basket.

The game was played in the Trojan gymnasium to a capacity crowd, and was marked by many fouls. At one stage of the game, Southern California fans booed Referee Lee Dempsey lustily for giving the Trojans what they considered too many foul shots, so the Aggies were give a couple of free shots at the basket immediately after.

The Trojans were in the lead from the start, leading midway through the first half by a 9-to-3 count, and at the half by a 13-to-9 score. At the start of the second period, the Thundering Herd quintet ran the score up to 16 to 10, and then the Farmers rallied to make the score 16 to 15. Both teams scored a free throw apiece, and then the Trojans stepped away from their rivals with baskets by Hopkins and Anderson, and free throws by Caldwell, Franks and Anderson.

Jack Gardner, Southern California forward, committed four fouls as usual, and left the game in the middle of the last half, being followed soon after by Cliff Capps, Troy running guard, and Seth Parkinson and Capt. Carl Belliston of the Utah Aggies. Capt. Belliston captured high-point honors with 8 points, Hopkins of S. C. scoring 6 points. Utah had a hard time sinking even foul shots, scoring on seven out of eighteen attempts, while the Troy quintet sank twelve out of nineteen free throws.

The two teams will play the sec-

BOBBY JONES TO GIVE ADVICE VIA AIR

ATLANTA, Dec. 22. (AP)—Bobby Jones will go on the air once each week for fifteen minutes of advice to the nation's aspiring golfers. The winner of all four of the world's outstanding golf titles in 1930 today confirmed the signing of a contract with a pharmacal company for weekly broadcasts over a nation-wide hook-up. He will speak from 8 to 8:15 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, each Wednesday night for twenty-six weeks.

Bobby will make his debut on the air January 14, working from station WSB in Atlanta until he leaves for Hollywood, where he is to make a series of educational golf pictures. Part of Bobby's weekly talks will be devoted to interesting phases of the various tournaments in which he has participated. It is Bobby's idea to make this radio series a combination of entertainment and instruction, in which the entertainment will predominate.

STATERS TAKE WORKOUT; 'BAMA STARS IN SHAPE

Pair of Subs Slightly Hurt in Scrimmage

BY PAUL LOWRY

"Butch Meeker" and his Washington State football pals are ready for Alabama on New Year's Day.

They arrived at Pasadena yesterday, and said so in person.

BABE HOLLINGBERY

"Butch," being a 200-pound cougar named for a former Washington State quarterback star of other years, snarled his version, but Mr. Orrin "Babe" Hollingbery, coach of the northwesterners, spoke up thusly:

"I see they're making Alabama the favorite.

"Well, I don't know why they get that way, but it's great stuff for us.

"We'd rather be the underdogs any time."

Hollingbery and his football boys, forty-two strong, and "Butch," the mascot, reached Pasadena early yesterday morning.

They took up headquarters at Steve Royce's hostelry, the Hotel Huntington, and staged their first workout at old Tournament Park in the afternoon.

It was on Tournament Park field that the first Washington State

GRAND CANYON (Ariz.) Dec. 22. Having gazed into the gully which is the Grand Canyon, Alabama's football contingent pulled out of here this evening and will arrive in Pasadena around 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, bent on making a nice prayer rug out of the man-eating Cougar of Washington State College.

They claim up here, you know, that the Grand Canyon had its origin several hundred years ago when a Scotchman dropped a nickel in a gopher hole and then tried to find the darn thing. The Crimson Tide has no intention of starting anything that extensive on New Year's Day, but members of the party feel that Wallace Wade's boys will fire a gridiron shot that will be heard around the world.

Alabama's ambassadors of football assault and battery will be mighty glad to reach Los Angeles. Yes, suh. It was close to zero weather here this morning and not even the famous canyon sunrise could soothe the frozen feeling of the southern contingent. California climate is

NAVAL ACADEMY COACH MAY BE BEAR MENTOR

BALTIMORE, Dec. 22. (AP)—The Evening Sun said today "Navy Bill" Ingram, who has completed a five-year contract as head football coach at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, may succeed "Nibs" Price as coach at the University of California.

Ingram was said to be on the west coast now conferring with university officials in regard to the position, reported offered him several years ago when he was coaching at the University of Indiana.

Officials at the Naval Academy said they did not know Ingram's whereabouts.

"Navy Bill," a former football star at the academy, resigned from the service when he went to coach at Indiana, and left the latter institution to return to coach the Middies in 1926, turning out a national championship team. His brother, Commander Jonas Ingram, at that time was head of the academy athletic department.

The paper said "Navy Bill" had been offered a two-year renewal of his contract which expired this season, but that he had not signed.

sponsor the local tournament, have made several efforts to get the New York Italian to come west, but he invariably has been too busy in Florida to get here.

His success last year at Agua Caliente evidently induced Sarazen to make a try for both tournaments this season. It was rumored several weeks ago that he would be here for the Los Angeles open, but the telegram, received yesterday, is the first definite announcement that Sarazen would be here. He is the professional at Fresh Meadows, L. I.

Sarazen has won six open tournaments this year. In addition to his Agua Caliente victory, he took first honors in the western, Florida west coast, Miami, Miami Beach and Mid-Atlantic open events.

The local tournament is to be staged over the Wilshire Country Club course, January 9, 10 and 11, next. Mac Smith, the only two-time winner of the event, scored his first victory over that course in 1927. He won again at Riviera in 1929. Harry Cooper took first money when the Junior Chamber staged its initial tournament in 1926. Bobby Cruickshank won in 1928, and Denny Shute, an unknown, splashed his way home over a soggy Riviera course to top a great field, the first week of this year.

MANY ON HAND

All of the previous winners are expected to compete again for the prize. Cooper already is here, having played in the recent $4000 Pasadena open. Tommy Armour, Leo Diegel, Walter Hagen, Horton Smith, Tony Manero, Frank Walsh, George Von Elm, Joe Kirkwood, Al Espinosa, Craig Wood and a host of other well-known stars are also here, preparing to compete in the annual classic.

Charity Match on Tap Sunday for Golf Fans

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Eager to do their part in assisting the unfortunate, Walter Hagen, Harry Cooper, Johnny Dawson and Craig Wood have offered their services for an eighteen-hole exhibition match, which will be played over the Annandale Country Club course on Sunday at 1:30. The entire proceeds will go to charity.

WALTER HAGEN

Jack Malley, Annandale professional, arranged for the match and reported yesterday that members of the club responded enthusiastically by purchasing more than $500 worth of tickets the first half hour they were on sale.

The tickets can be obtained at Annandale, Flintridge, San Gabriel and Midwick.

Irrespective of the charity angle, the match should be well worth the price of admission. The three professionals all finished in the money at Pasadena, while Johnny led the amateurs.

Wood, who hails from Bloomfield, N. J., is one of the longest drivers in America, and the new big ball has cut but few yards off his drives. Cooper is playing the best golf of his career, and "The Haig" is banging 'em out as of yore. With Bobby Jones out of the picture, Dawson rates with the first four amateurs in the United States.

That is a line-up worth while seeing.

MANERO, JELLIFFE PLAY IN SANTA MONICA EVENT

Tony Manero of Elmsford, N. Y., winner of the Pasadena $4000 open, will play with W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe, well-known Fox Hills Country Club amateur, in the $1500 amateur-pro open tournament at Santa Monica, January 3 and 4.

Jelliffe, Santa Monica Bay district and Los Angeles city champion, should be of considerable assistance to Manero in his efforts to pry off another chunk of midwinter gold.

Another outstanding combination is that of Harry Cooper and Johnny Dawson. Babe Herman of Glendale, well-known star of the Brooklyn Dodgers, will play with W. H. (Wiffy) Cox of Brooklyn, who played a bit of baseball, himself, before becoming a golf star.

Practically all of the leading professionals are planning to play at Santa Monica, including Horton Smith, Tommy Armour, Frank Walsh, Walter Hagen, Olin Dutra, Fred Morrison, Willie Hunter and Mortie Dutra.

CALIFORNIA CELEBRATES OPENING OF NEW LOUNGE

Male members of the California Country Club celebrated the opening of a new men's lounge and card room with a stag dinner Saturday evening. The new addition is said to be one of the finest of any club in the Southland and is in line with numerous improvements made on the Culver City club's property during the past two years.

LOS ANGELES OPEN ENTRANTS MAY PRACTICE AT WILSHIRE

The Wilshire Country Club course, scene of the sixth annual $10,000 Los Angeles open golf championship on January 9, 10 and 11, will be available to all entrants for practice each Monday and Friday, it was announced today by J. A. Crawford, president of the club, and Willie Welsh, pro.

Golfers may have use of the course all day on Monday but only up until noon on Friday. This schedule will be in order every week until the qualifying round or until it is changed by the course officials.

Clifford Rawson, secretary-manager of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the meet, today announced ten new entries, bringing the early total to eighty. Leading the new entries is the lovable John Black of the California Country Club of San Francisco. Black is one of the oldest pros still taking an active part in tournament play. He is known wherever golf is played. John is a fine old character of the links and is also one of its best shot makers.

The six courses over which the qualifying round is to be played on January 7 are now lined up, the Rancho club accepting the bid of the Junior Chamber today. Other courses for the trial test are Hillcrest, Hollywood, Fox Hills, Potrero and Sunset Fields.

The ten new entries received follow:

*Kenneth Reid, Fox Hills Country Club, Los Angeles; *Gene Ruggiero, Santa Monica G. C., Santa Monica; John E. Rogers, Denver Country Club, Denver; *George M. Holstein, Jr., Bel-Air Country Club, Los Angeles; *Paul McNutt, Potrero Country Club, Los Angeles; John Black, California Country Club, San Francisco; *Arthur F. Lynch, Winged Foot Golf Club, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Roy M. Tufts, San Diego Country Club, Chula Vista, Cal.; Ed Stokes, Denver; Cecil Smith, Green Gables Country Club, Denver.

AMATEUR BOXERS TO MIX AT CROWN CITY

"Big shots" in the amateur boxing ranks of Southern California will put their muscular shoulders to the wheel Friday night in a "gigantic" boxing show at the Pasadena Arena which will be staged for the benefit of the unemployed. A double main event will bring a ten-bout program to a thrilling climax with Delbert Smith, runner-up for the 160-pound Olympic tournament title, meeting Gerald Shaw, San Diego naval training school middleweight title-holder. The bouts have been arranged by Morrie Cohan, "boy promoter" of Pasadena, and Ad Garlock, Boxing instructor of the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club.

RABBIT PUNCHES

NOTHING ELSE BUT

IF ANYBODY knows a loose football team that needs a mooring this is the spot. Before the week is out there will be five foreign outfits roaming the Southland, and we might just as well have another one or two.

Here's the roster:

(1.) Washington State; arrived yesterday for New Year's Day game with Alabama.

(2.) Alabama; due in Pasadena this afternoon.

(3.) Notre Dame All-Stars; arrived yesterday for charity game next Saturday with Coast All-Stars.

(4.) Coast All-Stars; browsing here for several days.

(5.) North Dakota; arrived yesterday for Christmas Day game with Los Angeles Firemen eleven.

ALABAMA WINS

HARRY CARR has settled the issue of the New Year's Day game. Alabama will win, 12 to 11.

Mr. Carr says he missed the score of the Notre Dame-Southern California game because he was not in proper communion with the spirits.

He guessed that one after several false starts as 0 to 0.

But he's positive this time.

Playing Howard Jones's parlor football game, Mr. Carr represented Alabama and defeated Washington State by a single point.

He admits the score would have been fatter, but he had his fist in Cougar faces at times, and suffered severe penalties.

Washington State scored a touchdown and two safeties, if you are curious about the 11.

Mr. Carr says the gamboleers can start paying off any time they see fit.

ALL-AMERICAN CHATTER

GRANTLAND RICE has no false illusions about picking all-American football teams.

"You make eleven friends and 2,000,000 enemies," he said over the radio the other night.

But he made one very interesting comment on this year's selection.

"There were five Notre Dame men who did not make the all-American that were just about as good as those that did," he observed.

These players were Metzger, guard; Culver, tackle; Conley, end; Brill, halfback, and Schwartz, halfback.

With Carideo, quarterback, a unanimous all-American choice, and these five other Notre Dame men so close to the golden line it is small wonder that Southern California's Trojans bit the dust, 27 to 0.

what they want, and they want it bad. I mean badly.

BULKY PLAYERS

After another day with members of the team the thing that stands out about Wade's squad is the preponderance of bulky behemoths. There are more big men on the present team than was the case in 1925 and 1926, and nobody ever accused Wade of having pigmies in those palmy days.

Southern newspaper men with the party make no bones about the fact that Wade's reserve strength is one of his strongest points, claiming that there is little or no difference between the first and second teams.

Alabama could have defeated any team she played without using her first team, said one, and he meant it.

The second interesting feature of the squad has to do with the backs. These chaps, particularly Suther, Campbell and McRight, are barrel-chested, piano-legged lads with chassis built for business and in this case its nobody's business but their own.

If it weren't for the fear of insulting the young gentlemen, and no westerner wants to make it that much tougher for Washington State to win, I would say that the 'Bama backs are positively anthropoid in their physical characteristics. They are the underslung type of touchdown getters so dear to a coach's heart. Their appearance bodes ill for the Cougars. In a way they resemble Stumpy Thomason, the Georgia Tech thunderbolt. Again they are not unlike Henry Lefebvre, the old Trojan battering ram. However, they are more meaty than Frenchy.

Wade admits that although Suther was named on most of the all-southern teams and even received some all-American mention Campbell is the better back of the two, which is quite a boast in view of the notoriety Suther has received. Campbell plays safety most of the time.

SINGTON SPEEDY

The Alabama mentor also agrees with George Dye, former Tide and Trojan player, that Freddie Sington has weighed 240 pounds during his career, but his best playing weight is 215, declared Wade. My first size-up of Clement and Sington wasn't entirely accurate. For although I thought Clement the larger man of the two, Wade says Clement has never approached Sington's heaviest weight. Sington has more fire and dash than his team-mate and is so fast despite his bulk that he plays running guard on offense and tackle on defense. In fact, those close to Wade say that Sington may start at guard, with Godfrey, a powerful sub tackle, filling in for Freddie. This may be done to offset the strength of Mel Hein at center for the Cougars.

Wade says his team has no outstanding star, but it is also no secret that the mentor feels his present eleven is the best from the standpoint of teamwork and blocking that he has ever had.

However, Wade says he is not satisfied that his boys have played their best offensive football this year. It is said that Cain, sophomore quarterback, has been too conservative in his calling of plays and that Wade, with nothing to hold back for, will shoot the works against Washington State. It is a well-known fact that Wade wants to make the best showing he ever made out here and then move over to Duke University with his great record to build on there.

Alabama's ends are powerful, rangy chaps, with Smith, 198, and Dothrow, 190, acting as relief men for Moore, 178, and Elmore, 185. Moore, playing left end, comes into the backfield and does a lot of passing for the Tide.

The tallest man on the squad is Lindy Hood, sub center, who stands 6 feet 5 inches tall. He looks so much like Lindbergh that on one occasion when the flyer was to be welcomed to New Orleans and Hood happened to be in that town, citizens mobbed him in their mistaken enthusiasm.

Wade's attitude is much different than it was when he came west with his team in 1925. Then he knew virtually nothing of Washington, had not had them scouted and knew few friends who had seen the Huskies in action. He had heard plenty about George Wilson, however, and was a very worried gentleman.

WADE UNWORRIED

This time Wade has personally scouted the Cougars and his manner is considerably changed. He does not appear to be worried, although recognizing that Washington State has a powerful team. His is probably the confidence of a man who knows when he is well fixed himself. There is nothing cocky about any member of the party, but they all carry the knowledge that Alabama has a football team capable of taking care of itself in all types of going.

Only twelve first downs have been registered against Alabama all year and unless Washington State figures that Schwartz and Lainhart can punch their way through these meaty 'Bama forwards, the Cougars are a cinch to turn to the air for their touchdowns.

Although the Alabama players have been dubbed the Red Elephants this year because of their enormous size, Wade's team will wear white jerseys in the game. Crimson happens to be Washington State's colors. Alabama rooters are fervently praying that the players do not turn out to be white elephants.

The team has had no workout since leaving San Antonio on Saturday, so a final critical analysis of the athletes in their monkey suits will have to wait until Wednesday.

Frank Thomas, Georgia backfield coach, who is to succeed Wade at Alabama next year, is in the party. He played in Notre Dame's backfield in 1922 and will install Knute Rockne's system with the Tide.

Dr. George T. Denny, Alabama president, who has made the two trips west with the Tide, is much improved in health since he was out in 1926 and he lays it all to California. Says he had been ill for years and that some California doctor diagnosed his ailments and fixed him to such an extent that he not only hasn't visited a physician since, but, in addition, has gained thirty pounds. The prexy is one of the party, a pal with the boys and a regular fellow.

Ten sports writers are in the party. They are Morgan Blake of the Atlanta Journal, Edd Danforth of the Atlanta Constitution, Jimmy Burns of the Atlanta Georgian, Blinkey Horn of the Nashville Tennessean, Fred Digby of the New Orleans Item, Grady Pannell of the Montgomery Journal, Stuart Stevenson of the Montgomery Advertiser, Bob Phillips of the Birmingham Age-Herald, Zipp Newman of the Birmingham News and John Putman of the Birmingham Post.

SOCCER TEAMS TO MEET ON CHRISTMAS

The cream of the City League soccer players will appear Thursday afternoon in a Christmas Day program at Loyola Field. Four teams will be seen in action. On the teams will be the outstanding players of the loop. The best eleven of the forty-four who perform will be picked for an all-star team to represent Los Angeles in the north next month.

Playing under the colors of the Vikings and the Magyars two teams of all-stars will clash at 1 p.m. At 3 p.m. another fine collection of soccerites will clash under the colors of the Sons of St. George and the Scots. Many international players will be seen on the field during the program.

GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA WILL NOT ATTEND GAME AT BOWL

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) Dec. 22. (AP)—Gov. Bibb Graves announced today he would be unable to head Alabama's delegation at the Rose Bowl football classic in Pasadena, Cal., New Year's Day.

He said he would be represented at the game between the University of Alabama and Washington State by Pitt Tyson Maner, a secretary.

Maner plans to leave here Friday in an airplane bearing greetings from Gov. Graves to the Governor of California and Rose Bowl officials.

COUGAR ELEVEN TAKES FIRST LOCAL WORKOUT

team to appear in a New Year's Day classic won from Brown University, 14 to 0.

That was back in 1916, and the tramp of Cougar feet on the old field brought back pleasant memories to former Cougar greats like Ray Loomis, Ralph Boone, etc., who were football heroes fifteen years ago.

Hollingbery's opening-day drill was light, but the boys will get down to brass tacks today.

It is understood the Rose Bowl will not be used until the day of the New Year's game because of reseeding of the grass after Thanksgiving Day.

Washington State and Alabama, which arrives today, will, therefore, take their choice of the Occidental field and Tournament Park, probably alternating.

The Cougars employed most of their time yesterday in setting-up exercises, charging, blocking, punting, passing, etc.

Simple as it was, however, the Cougars' opening practice session on Southland soil developed two casualties.

Oscar Jones, an alternate halfback, and Arnold Soley, sub fullback, collided during a charging drill with the result that both suffered cuts above the eyes.

A stitch was taken in Jones's wound, but both he and Soley will be back on the job today.

Reported injuries among other players did not materialize, and Glenn Edwards, the big all-American tackle who was banged up in the Villanova game, is among the physically fit. And that takes in the whole squad.

One of the big features of yesterday's practice was the tall and lofty punting of Ellingsen, the halfback who does the toe work for the Cougars.

ALSO THE PASSING

He unloaded punts of fifty, fifty-five and sixty yards.

He gets uncanny direction with his boots, and he is bound to be a big help to the Cougars if the Alabama boys get them into a hole.

Mel Hein, the center, was the cynosure of all eyes yesterday. He made some of the all-American teams, and received mention on all.

Another gent who got a big going over by the railbirds was Schwartz, the fullback. He has appeared in the Coliseum games with the Trojans for the past two years, so the natives are well acquainted with his feats. He is a well-built, meaty young man, and he packs his 200 pounds well.

Hollingbery and his line coach, Buck Bailey, will give the boys a harder session today, but there will be only one practice period until later in the week.

The Cougars have been working inside with the snow falling outside, and Hollingbery doesn't care to step on the gas until the boys get a bit more accustomed to the change.

NATIONAL COMMENT ON NEW ATHLETIC GOSPEL

and such branches as baseball, rowing and track would not feast on the profits of football, were too great to overcome.

Athletic authorities at Yale refused to comment on the suggestion, but Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, issued a statement expressing sympathy with Dr. Butler's ideas.

"Anything Dr. Butler has to say concerning intercollegiate relationship calls for our sympathetic consideration," he said. "Three months ago at the beginning of the football season, we began a thorough study of physical education, student health and competitive athletics at Pennsylvania, and this study is still in progress.

"There is no more important phase of intercollegiate athletics than the relations of the individual student athletic competition, and we are strongly in accord with any proposal which tends to clarify such relationships.

"We believe those intercollegiate athletic relationships are a desirable and helpful feature of American life. Any proposal which looks toward their maintenance on a proper basis has our heartiest sympathy and support."

The impression the suggestion was commendable in principle but not workable came from schools in the Southwest, while Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics of the Western Conference, was definitely opposed to any new rules and regulations.

Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas, said there were more important things connected with collegiate life in need of endowment than sports. Dr. R. N. Blackwell, business manager of athletics at Southern Methodist University brought out facts and figures to prove the endowment suggestion was not feasible.

Other prominent university officials in the South failed to see where Dr. Butler's plan would solve all the troubles of the present system. Prof. C. L. Hare of Alabama Poly pointed out the schools with the largest endowments now would replace the schools where the most money was available.

The suggestion was regarded with favor, but considered impracticable among educators and athletic directors of schools in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

IMPRACTICAL, CLAIM MIDWEST OFFICIALS

DENVER, Dec. 22. (AP)—Educators and athletic officials of the Rocky Mountain Conference view Nicholas Murray Butler's proposal for an "Academic League of Nations" with considerable favor; most of them believe his suggestion of alumni endowment for athletics is impractical.

"Dr. Butler's aim for athletics is one for which our colleges and universities should strive," said Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter of Denver University. "All should insist upon the primacy of intellectual ideals and intellectual accomplishments. I see no hope for Dr. Butler's plan, as a practical thing, at this date. There is a long road to travel and realization lies in the distant future."

A regional consensus on the play for alumni endowment is typified in the reaction of Walter B. Franklin, graduate manager of athletics at the University of Colorado, who said: "It would be eminently unfair to ask the alumni to finance athletics. Some of the younger schools with few graduates soundly intrenched, financially, would have to give up athletics altogether."

PENN, SWARTMORE BACK BUTLER

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22. (AP)—The suggestion of an "academic league of nations" to provide a free gate at college athletic contests, offered by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, has been favorably received by Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Frank Aydelotte, head of Swarthmore College.

Mr. Gates said "the suggestion is entitled to sympathetic consideration."

Dr. Aydelotte pledged his support to the idea.

IMPRACTICAL IDEA SAY JONES, HOLLINGBERY

If football gate receipts were abolished, as suggested yesterday by President Butler of Columbia University, there wouldn't be any school athletics left, at least in many western institutions. This is the off-hand reaction of two outstanding west coast mentors, Howard Jones of the University of Southern California and Babe Hollingbery of Washington State College, who arrived here yesterday with his Cougar squad for the New Year's game with Alabama.

Jones said:

"I read Mr. Butler's statement this morning and have not thought much more about it. I should say that it is an excellent idea but highly impractical.

"Receipts from football in many schools support the entire athletic and physical education program, and sometimes academic work. At Chicago University, I am sure football funds have been utilized for academic needs. At Southern California, unless I am mistaken, football funds made possible the new gymnasium for physical education.

"If the people did not feel that they were getting their money's worth in football, I'm certain they would not continue to pay at the gates, and I never heard any complaint of flagrant misuse of such funds.

"The suggestion that the alumni support football raises the point that they now buy most of the tickets, so I can't see much difference between buying tickets and donating outright. This is particularly true in the East, where they have large alumni bodies. Yale graduates can't even get tickets to the Yale-Harvard game for their wives. In the West, however, the younger schools do not have such large graduate bodies and we have to look to outside spectators. I really think this is desirable, as it spreads the interest in athletics generally.

"As to a national league to supervise football, again it is a noble idea, but hardly necessary, I think. One of the greatest things in university athletics is good sportsmanship, and I am certain that we are more and more coming to place trust and faith in our athletic opponents."

Hollingbery exclaimed:

"That's a crazy idea! At Washington State, at least, football makes possible not only other major sports, but the school program of physical education for all. Perhaps it might be all right in old eastern schools where they have large and wealthy alumni bodies, but it would be folly out here. Perhaps Washington State has a few old grads who can offer a student a job of some kind, but the idea of them supporting our athletic program is foolish.

"The plan for a national league to supervise football and its players is all right, but I think such matters are pretty well handled now by conference leaders. At the recent Pacific Coast Conference meeting here a move was started to create a council for that very purpose, and eliminate wrangling between schools. Abuses in football really are few.

"That's why the newspapers play them up and make such a hullabaloo when any such charges are hurled."

Efforts to get a statement from President Von KleinSmid of Southern California were unsuccessful because of the funeral today of Warren Bovard, vice-president of the school, who killed himself last week. Dr. Von KleinSmid sent word that he had not read Dr. Butler's statement and could not consider the matter today.

COAST HEADS COMMENT ON IDEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22. (Exclusive)—The suggestion from Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, proposing elimination of gate charges at collegiate athletic events and the substitution of an endowment fund by alumni wins both applause and applesauce, so far as the Pacific Coast is concerned.

Prof. William B. Owens of Stanford, who is president of the Pacific Coast Conference, thinks the Butler proposal merits consideration, but thinks some of the relief offered would not prove an effective solution. He said:

"As I understand it, Dr. Butler wants to get away from the dependency of other sports on football receipts. Anything that would assure a development of our athletics so that all students might participate would be splendid. I would not limit such endowment to the alumni, but accept it from all available sources. The suggestion of an 'academic league of nations' does not, to me, appear to be the solution. It is a question if such an organization would be as effective as our various conferences."

Dr. Thomas Putnam, dean of men at California, does not believe Dr. Butler's proposals will solve the problem. He said:

"I doubt if the endowment plan would meet with the approval of the alumni and cannot see where it would solve the problem. It would be only one step removed from our present situation. An academic league of nations would be too unwieldy."

The president of St. Mary's College, Brother Leo, agrees that too much emphasis is being placed on football. He said:

"The trouble with football is the inability of those connected with it to distinguish between work and play. The game seems rapidly to be leaving the realm of play and becoming work. Anything that departs from its natural field is sowing the seeds of its own decay. I am in favor of football and all college sports, but they should be handled in their proper sphere, which is play."

"Pop" Warner, Stanford coach, refused to become unduly excited.

"Well," he said, "You hear a lot of funny things suggested. I don't think Dr. Butler's suggestion merits any comment."

Dr. Robert Swain, acting president of Stanford University, refused comment until such time as he has had an opportunity of going over the full text of the statement.

Al Masters, graduate manager of Stanford, said:

"It seems to be a good idea, but appears impractical to me. It would be difficult to secure sufficient contributions from the alumni to conduct athletics. For athletics at Stanford, for instance, this would require an endowment of $8,000,000 as it would take $400,000 a year to conduct athletics on our present scale. I do not believe the striving after gate receipts is so much responsible for the subsidizing of athletes as the desire in each university for victory."

MERCURIES DRILL FOR UTAH CONTEST

"Rags" Wilcox, player-coach of the Los Angeles A.C. basketball team, sent his Mercuries through a fast workout last night in preparation for Friday night's game against Utah Aggies scheduled for the gym of the downtown club.

The Mercuries will work again tonight and will then rest until Friday. Charley Hyatt, brilliant forward, continues to shine in workouts and will lead the club attack against the Utah outfit.

POMONA TRACK CARD FOR SPRING ANNOUNC

CLAREMONT, Dec. 22.—Nine intercollegiate meets, besides several local tournaments, are on the schedule of the 1931 Pomona College track and field team, according to the official list announced today by Graduate Manager Glen Turner. The tennis schedule, which calls for the varsity net team to meet six opponents, also was given.

The Sagehen tracksters, who will be captained this season by Curt Inman, broad jumper, officially open the season February 21 in the Southern California college relays, to be held here. With the exception of the all-conference event, which is scheduled for either the Coliseum or the Occidental track, all of Pomona's meets will be staged at Claremont. Five conference opponents, the L.A.A.C., and U.C.L.A., will travel here.

Capt. Stan Hahn will lead the Pomona tennis team against La Verne, Redlands, San Diego, Whittier, Caltech and Occidental—the heaviest schedule Pomona has arranged for many seasons. The final meet brings Occidental to Claremont.

The schedule follows:

The SPORT LIGHT by Grantland Rice

THE FAST MOVER

I remember — I remember — (to grab another's lore),
That Christmas seems to come each year much faster than before;
For I can hardly turn around, or drive my sluggish pen,
Before I'm trampled in the mob and shoved around again.

I remember—I remember—It seems like yesterday—
I put my Christmas shopping off and then cursed my delay;
And now I've done the same old trick, with little time to spare—
I never know what people want, or use or read or wear.

Football Changes

THERE is no longer any question concerning the upheaval in football. It is only a matter of time now before there will be at least two general divisions and possibly more. One division will go along just about as things are now. The other will bring together only those universities with the same scholarship standards, with somewhat shorter schedules and with the captains given greater authority. One set will still go in for spring practice on a somewhat extended scale, the other will either have a limited spring practice or none at all.

In a way, it will mean about this—one division will still concentrate on football as the main intercollegiate sport, and the other will rate football in its stride, as one competition among many others, without any added pressure on the football side.

In time it will probably work out after this fashion—those universities which consider football important will play together and those that reduce the importance of football will play together. The two divisions can never meet on equal terms. One has to face too great a handicap to have much of a chance. And it might be added that a big part of the new movement has come from the inside, from the undergraduates more than from faculties or alumni.

All in the Viewpoint

This football situation is something for each university to work out. Take, for example, the matter of spring practice. There is no denying the fact that extended spring practice with a big squad out is a tremendous help in building up a winning squad for next fall, and there is no particular harm if most of the athletes want this practice in place of baseball, track, crew, golf or tennis.

It will limit any athlete's all-around skill. It has almost wrecked baseball in many colleges. But if that is what the majority want there is no reason they shouldn't have it—provided they meet only those rivals who go in for the same thing. Those universities that want to build up other sports and that either limit or abolish spring practice can then meet together on even ground—but they are not in a position to compete with others who go in for football as an all-the-year-around game. It all depends on the viewpoint.

Max Baer's Future

With the right handling and the right matching, Max Baer can become easily the most popular heavyweight in the country, even if he never reaches the top. He has now what most of the others lack—the willingness to step out and fight. The game to him is not almost entirely "the art of self-defense." It is largely the excitement of the attack. He needs more schooling, more experience, but he has a great chance to be the most popular entry in the game.

He was thrown against a boxer who had beaten Tommy Loughran twice and who can beat most of the heavyweights now around—possibly all of them except Sharkey and Stribling. Schaaf is nobody's push-over, and yet he had to take more than he has ever taken before to keep on his feet.

The New Golf Ball

To judge from scores upon the Pacific Coast, the new golf ball hasn't wrecked any one's game yet. There may not be as many 68's and 69's as there were before, but, after all, there shouldn't be against a par 71 or 72.

For that matter the working of the new golf ball concerns mainly the average golfer. He is 99 per cent of the game; he furnishes 99 7-8 per cent of all the money put up, and he is in the game more for pleasure and exercise and recreation than anything else. The new golf ball should help his game, except on windy days, when he will have his share of trouble. So a lot depends upon whether 1931 is a windy or a windless year, as far as the cheer and happiness of the average golfer is concerned.

But in the main the average golfer is willing to admit that he is rarely at his best with a brisk wind or a boisterous gale blowing, no matter what ball he uses.

There is one important detail to be considered about the suggestion of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia that all gate receipts be abolished in the universities and the alumni pay the bills. It is a fine idea—if the alumni will pay the bills. Which they probably won't if anything like the modern cost of college athletics is maintained.

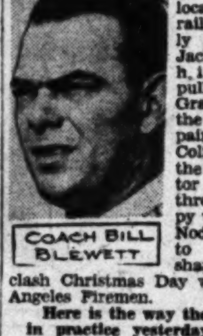
NODAKS IN DRILL FOR FIREMEN

North Dakota Arrives for Tilt With Smoke-eaters on Christmas Day

North Dakota University's football warriors went on parade in a practice drill yesterday afternoon at the Coliseum for some of the local gridiron railbirds. Shortly after Coach Jack West and his charges pulled in from Grand Forks the team repaired to the Coliseum and the Nodak mentor sent them through a snappy workout. The Nodaks seem to be in fine shape for their clash Christmas Day with the Los Angeles Firemen.



COACH BILL BLEWETT

The North Dakota team showed a lot of snap and pepper in their plays in practice. Fresh from a cold climate the boys seemed to be just full of zipper romping around in our sunshine.

Bill Blewett, Fire Department coach, will send his team through a light drill this afternoon at the Coliseum. The Smoke-eaters are on edge now for the game and Blewett does not intend to give them too much work.

It is evident the fans will see a lot of this lad Red Jarrett. He is a shifty-looking fellow with a pigskin. He has scored on every team the Flickertails have played this season. It was Jarrett who ran through the Army for a touchdown.

Coach West and his attaches claim they made more first downs against the Army than Yale, Harvard, Swarthmore and Furman did combined. Jarrett averaged 125 yards from scrimmage during the game. The Army beat the Nodaks with a passing attack.

E. O. Barnett, athletic director for the Firemen, is sure the game will attract a nice turnout. He claims 23,000 tickets have already been sold.

Los Angeles in Hockey Victory

San Francisco's Black Hawk ice hockey team went down to defeat before the assault and battery attack of the Los Angeles Millionaires last night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. The local skaters, after getting away to a slow start in the first period came on like demons in the second session to smash across four goals while the Bay City team was held scoreless until the final period.

Dale Wells, San Francisco star, was put in the cooler in the second period for being a little bit too rough and then the local boys went on a rampage and when the period was over they had the game wrapped up and ready to take home.

Dan Carrigon scored the first goal on a pass from Peltier. He shot it between Smoky Harris and Lloyd Cook and it bounded by Goalie Broadfoot. Roy scored the next goal unassisted. Peltier then bounced one in the net on a pass from Carrigan. Brown scored the fourth goal of the game on a pass from Singer.

In the last period Dale Well scored for the San Francisco team on a pass from Scott. The final score was 4 to 1.

Peppy McDonald played a crack game at goalie for the winners. His performance was outstanding in the Los Angeles victory.

SENIOR LEAGUE STARS TRIM BRUIN SKATERS

Bruin hockey players took a real trimming last night at the hands, or rather the sticks, of the Senior League All-Stars. The Bruins were beaten by a 16-to-4 score. The Palais De Glace game was nothing more than a romp for the Senior Stars. Frenchy Hebert starred for the winners.

First Experience Gained on Topsail Schooner

BY WALDO DRAKE

The port greeted a real sailor yesterday in the person of Capt. Albert Fontaine, who brought in the new San Antonio from Le Havre as the first of six fast passenger-carrying freighters the French Line is building for Pacific-Europe service. Capt. Fontaine is a Breton from St. Malo, and boasts that his ancestors have been sailors for four centuries.

CAPT. ALBERT FONTAINE.

The first Albert Fontaine, he says, plied the Caribbean with a Malouin frigate during the heyday of Thomas l'Agnelet, in the fag end of the seventeenth century; while from his great-grandfathers' time the Fontaines have fished the Grand Banks of Newfoundland in husky little windjammers. The present Capt. Fontaine learned his seamanship in one of these, a topsail schooner, and for the past fifteen years he has sailed under the house flag of Compagnie Generale Transatlantique.

He gained fame during the World War for twice bringing to port his torpedoed naval transport Mississippi. On one of these occasions, with a torpedo having exploded in her engine-roof aft, his ship was so far down by the stern that she drew thirty-six feet more water than aft than she did at the bow. On this occasion the submarine destroyed all of the Mississippi's boats by gunfire and killed most of her crew, yet she made port.

Capt. Fontaine announced upon arrival yesterday that the San Antonio, though fresh from her builders, averaged more than fifteen knots en route from Le Havre. Her five sister-ships, he said, will come out to the Coast at monthly intervals, the next being the San Diego, due January 16.

NEW REFRIGERATED BAIT BOAT ON WAYS

Construction of another 125-foot refrigerated bait boat, equalling the largest ever built for the offshore tuna trade, was started yesterday at the yards of the Harbor Boat Building Company, Terminal Island. It is for John Zuanich and Tony Zankich, who will fish for the Southern California Fish Corporation, and upon completion by April, will represent an investment of more than $100,000.

The craft will be propelled by a main 500-horsepower Western Enterprise Diesel engine, manufactured at Los Angeles, and will carry two eighty-horsepower auxiliaries of the same make.

A feature will be the installation of two fifteen-ton refrigerating units, or almost 50 per cent more cooling facilities than have gone into most of the big modern tuna boats.

Another banana-carrying ship to augment the Camina's service in transporting the fruit to Los Angeles from Boca de las Tomates, 1200 miles south, is reported contemplated by the United Fruit Company for service soon after the first of the year. It is declared to be of Norwegian registry, and capable of carrying 15,000 to 20,000 stems per trip. Leon Elison's little motorship Camina, which brings about 6000 stems fortnightly from the southern port, was to go on drydock at the Bethlehem yards yesterday to determine damage done when she grounded at Point Mita the 10th inst. Potential output of the United Fruit Company's new plantations at Boca de las Tomates is declared estimated at 1,000,000 stems for 1931.

Another sortie to the Southland's tuna industry's most distant outpost for yellowfin, is under way with several of the big refrigerated clippers down near Panama. The 135-foot converted bait boat Hermosa is believed already on the grounds down near Galapagos Islands, a possession of Ecuador, 2400 miles south of here. The Panama and the Chicken of the Sea are believed on equally distant exploration trips.

Additional funds and increase in personnel for the local branch United States Hydrographic Office, with other offices at principal ports, have been requested by the hydrographer, Rear-Admiral Walter R. Gherardi, according to advices received from Washington yesterday by Lieutenant-Commander James A. Crutchfield, in charge of the local office.

Since its establishment four years ago, the Hydrographic Office at Los Angeles Harbor has become one of the most important units in the national chain, distributing 60,000 separate pieces of marine and aviation intelligence during the past fiscal year. It has 285 vessels on its mailing list.

In stressing need for additional funds, Admiral Gherardi declared that the Hydrographic Office's production of charts of the world's navigable waters and aviation charts, and the prompt dissemination of varied information to navigators of the Navy, the mercantile marines of all nations and to aviators "combine to make the Hydrographic Office a military and naval necessity to the national defense and a vital national asset to the United States."

Steadily improving traffic conditions in the California-South American east coast trade have prompted Westfal, Larsen & Co. to add a fifth motorship, the Heranger, to their fleet in that service, it was announced yesterday by Capt. Harry H. Birkholm, district manager of General Steamship Corporation, Coast agent for the line.

The Heranger will sail from here on January 22. Her 80,000 cubic feet of refrigerated cargo space will grant a material amount of relief to shippers of fruit and other perishables to Brazil and Argentine markets, said Capt. Birkholm. With her induction into the run, Westfal-Larsen's South American fleet will have a sailing every twenty-eight days; the other four ships being the Brimanger, Taranger, Villanger and Hindanger. All have refrigerated cargo space.

MARINE NOTES

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Under command of Capt. James E. Roberts, the liner Virginia came into port here today with eighty-eight passengers and 4000 tons of cargo.

Included in the cargo holds were 190 automobiles, 8600 stems of bananas, thirty-one tons of peanuts and two fire engines for the San Francisco fire department.

Most of the passengers who came from the east coast on the liner debarked in Southern California. Thirty-six left the ship at San Diego, and 252 at Los Angeles.

C. C. Mallery, general manager of the Panama Mail Line, returned to his office here today after a trip to Los Angeles, where he conferred with Clay Hutchinson, manager for the company in that district.

Mallory announced his conference with steamship travel agents in Southern California indicated the volume of traffic in the Central America and New York services this winter and spring will eclipse that of former years.

SEATTLE, Dec. 22.—The contract for construction of a steel log-carrying barge with a capacity of 500,000 feet was awarded today to the Marine Construction Company of Seattle on a low bid of approximately $85,000. The barge will be placed in operation between Nehalem Bay, Or., and Grays Harbor.

The barge, an innovation in log handling on the Pacific Coast, will be 160 feet long, 55 feet beam, 15 feet in depth and be equipped with a forty-ton locomotive crane. It is the design of W. C. Nickum, Seattle naval architect, and has been approved by the San Francisco Board of Marine Underwriters and the American Bureau of Shipping.

Completion of the barge is set for May. A towing contract has been signed by the Hubble Towing Company and a speed of six to six and one-half knots, compared with two to two and one-half knots under the raft system, is predicted.

PORTLAND, Dec. 22.—About 60,000 boxes of apples are to be lifted by the British steamer Nagara, which is in the Portland Harbor for the first time.

The Oregon-Pacific Company, agents for the vessel, said her refrigerator cargo from Pacific Coast ports would be close to 100,000 boxes of fresh fruit.

The McCormick steamer Ernest H. Meyer was in dry dock here today while some rivets in her double bottoms were renewed. She is to be floated tomorrow and the Isthmian Line steamer Chattanooga City will go on dry dock Wednesday for hull repairs. The vessel grounded in the Lower Columbia River last week.

TACOMA, Dec. 22.—Imports through this port during November totaled 219,645 tons. Exports were 138,181 tons and showed a gain of about 4000 tons over the previous month. Imports were about normal, C. E. Janes, harbormaster said.

The Nyhorn of the Balfour-Guthrie Line, arrived today from the west coast of South America with 1000 tons of ore. She will load 500 tons of box shooks for Antofagasta Tuesday.

The Royal Mail liner Nichtheroy is in port loading 1500 tons of copper for the United Kingdom. She will sail Tuesday.

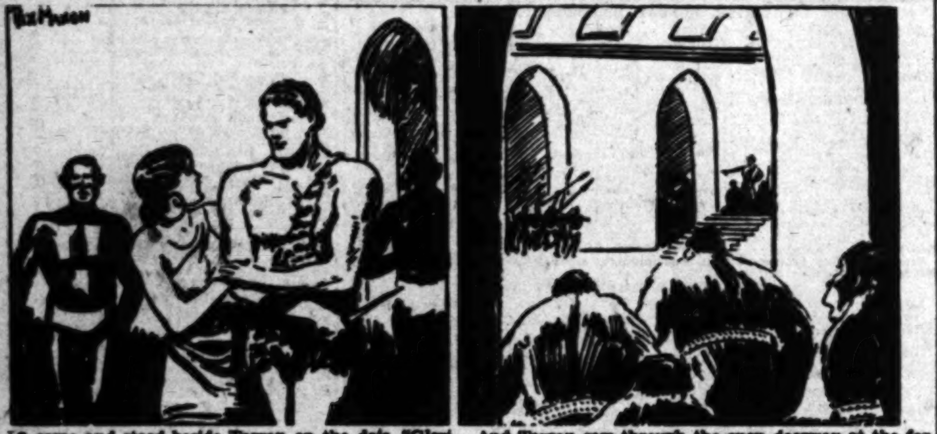
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

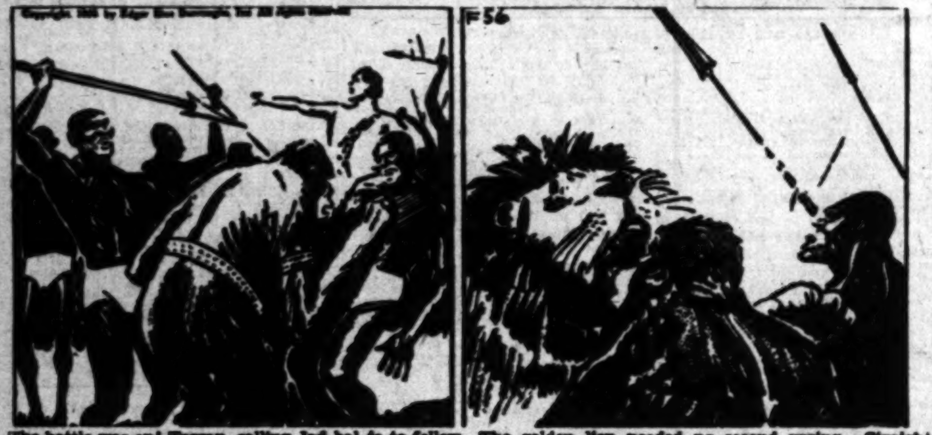
TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



La came and stood beside Tarzan on the dais. "Glorious is the deed that you have done," she said with admiration and love in her voice, "but we are doomed. In the legends of my people are recounted the exploits of these Bolgani. Never yet has a victim escaped their horrible clutches." "There is a chance, La," replied the ape-man. "It seems to me that—" His words were cut short by a startled cry from the High Priestess. "See," cried La pointing toward the east, "even now it is too late—they are returning!"

And Tarzan saw through the open doorway at the far end of the room a large band of approaching gorilla-men. Simultaneously they saw through the windows on the opposite wall a crowd of several hundred blacks running toward the windows. The other blacks upon the dais cried out excitedly: "They come. Our deliverers come! Now shall we be free. No longer shall the Bolgani torture us at our work or feed us to Numa." As the first of the Bolgani reached the throne-room the Gomangani poured in from the opposite windows.



The battle was on! Tarzan, calling Jad-bal-ja to follow him, descended the dais and took command of the Gomangani. During a lull, he smuggled through the combatants three trusty warriors. He ordered them to speed through the jungle and carry word to distant villages, telling what was happening in the palace and urging them to send armed help at once. Shortly after they left the Bolgani charged again. Tarzan leaped forward to assist in checking the rush. Pointing to the nearest Bolgani he shouted to the golden lion once more his terrible command: "Kill, Jad-bal-ja, Kill!"

The golden lion needed no second urging. Straight for the throats of the nearest, he sprang. His great jaws closed but once upon the neck of each gorilla-man. Before this terrible beast the Bolgani faltered, hesitated and then one among them threw his weapons upon the floor. Immediately the others did likewise. Tarzan called off the golden lion, ordering him back upon the throne. "One of you go," he said, turning to the Bolgani, "and tell your fellows I demand their immediate surrender!" As the creature obeyed, La whispered: "Beware of treachery!"

YULETIDE SPIRIT RULES IN RADIO

National Chains Swing Into Christmas Parade

Two of Chorus Presentations Sure to Hold Dial

Plays Also Among Features on Day's Programs

The Times Forum, KHJ at 1:30 p.m. Jennie Durkee, instrumentalist; Dr. Frank McCoy, editor Diet and Health in The Times. World-wide News at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The national broadcasting chains have swung into the Christmas parade, each day bringing an army of stars sweeping across the nation with programs in keeping with the spirit of yuletide. Two of the Christmas chorus periods unquestionably will hold your attention.

Over KECA at 6:30 o'clock tonight from New York, comes the Mendelssohn Glee Club. This oldest American singing society is for the second time to depart from its rule against public concerts. "The Frost King," "Love Me or Not" by Secchi and "Adeste Fideles" will be sung. The club was founded in 1866.

Over KHJ at 9 tonight the Edison Chorus of seventy-five voices will be heard in thirty minutes of Christmas music.

The play is the thing, too, on radio tonight. "Out of the Air" is to be presented by KHJ at 9:30. They tell us "Prof. Lindsley has been preparing this program with great enthusiasm, believing it to be the outstanding radio presentation."

On the same station at 8 tonight Dickens's immortal "Christmas Carol" will be given.

They tell us that—

Sir Walter Raleigh sails into the port of San Francisco—way back in the Sixteenth Century—KECA at 7 tonight—Westinghouse salute dedicated to San Francisco.. Massenet's "Neapolitan Scenes"—Losey's "Golden West March"—and "My Heart at thy Sweet Voice" from Saint-Saens's "Samson et Dalila."

Always a feature with some highlights to attract you—KNX and KHJ at 7:30 tonight. Paramount Publix Theater—organ solos by Jesse Crawford—intimate bits of screen and stage gossip—a Columbia record.

Typical of letters addressed to Santa Claus flooding the chain systems is the following: "All I want is a pen and pencil set. If I haven't been very good, and can't have both, I'll take the pen now, and the pencil for my birthday." A tiny girl wrote that.

"The Goshen Center folk will gather in the church for a Christmas-tree party and this year there is to be a surprise"—KECA at 9:30 p.m.—Memory Lane from New York. Remember the old church sociables and Santa's boxes of candy? Let's visit the parson.

It reads like an hour of hectic what have you—KNX at 9 p.m.—Ensemble—The Trojan Trio (all girls)—ballads and light classics "as they should be sung," so we are informed.

The story of an estranged father and mother brought together through the love of their children—that is the plot of "Out of the Air" KHJ's Christmas play at 9:30 tonight. The Don Lee Symphony will be skillfully woven into the entertainment.

"Matrapilho" and "Hasta Manana"—two of a group of Southern American numbers—Berna Frechette — soprano soloist — marimba band. An NBC offering over KECA at 5 p.m. Dial and go native.

Duci de Kerekjarto, violinist—Arthur Lang, baritone—an hour—KFI at 7 p.m. A duo that may please you—just after the table's cleared away.

"Land of Dreams"—KFWB at 9:30 tonight—This is a united chain feature taking the place of the usual prizefight from the Olympic. Debussy's "Reverie" and a Grieg Sonata.

One day more—until that Christmas radio set is unveiled.

PRISONER TO GO EAST

United States District Judge James yesterday ordered Seth Bush, accused of stealing five revolvers and 700 rounds of ammunition from an armory at Dixon, Ill., removed to that city for trial.

Edwin M. Searle Dies Suddenly of Heart Attack

Edwin M. Searle, who, as a general land agent of the Union Pacific Railway, played an important pioneering part in the settlement and development of Western Nebraska, was stricken with a heart attack and died yesterday at his home, 1924 Gramercy Place. He would have been 82 years of age on January 1, and had been a resident of this city since his retirement from active business life twelve years ago.

Born in Rushford, N. Y., he left home when he was 14 to be a drummer boy with the Union Army during the Civil War. After the war he learned telegraphy and went into the employ of the Union Pacific in 1867, going first to Omaha. Later he became the railroad's land agent in Western Nebraska and sold more than 1,250,000 acres.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Ada Searle, and two sons, E. M. Searle, Jr., of Omaha, who is president of the Omaha Life Insurance Company, and A. L. Searle of Ogallala.

Funeral services will be conducted at the chapel of W. A. Brown tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. under the auspices of Stanton Post, G.A.R., and then his body will be taken to Ogallala, where after Masonic rites he will be buried in the cemetery which he presented to the town.

Paul Whiteman Fails to Appear in Crash Case

Paul Whiteman, jazz king, yesterday was scheduled to make a personal appearance in Superior Judge Henderson's court, where two suits for damages totaling $32,112, naming him as one defendant, were called. The player was not in court, and neither was his codefendant, Joe Venuti, his violin player.

They are sued by Edith A. Sutton and Marie Freund, schoolteachers from Illinois, for personal injuries received in an automobile collision. As none of the persons is in the State, Judge Henderson continued the hearing until July 15, 1931.

Attorney Elbert Hensley represents the teachers, while Loeb, Walker & Loeb represent Whiteman and Venuti.

In making the announcement last night, officials of the mission expressed the hope that neither the unemployed women nor the children will hesitate to take advantage of the invitations.

MAN'S DEATH IN FIRE LABELED AS ACCIDENT

A Coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Steve Matich, 48 years of age, who lost his life in a fire which late Sunday night destroyed his home at 3657 East Fourth street. The Sheriff's office accordingly closed its investigation. In the house with Matich at the time of the fire were his wife, Mrs. Anna Matich, and stepson, Joseph. The latter, awakened by smoke, broke into his mother's bedroom and dragged her to safety, but was overcome as he started back to rescue Matich.

Tale of Woes at Home Wins Actor Divorce

TYLER BROOKE

Tyler Brooke, film actor, told such a moving story of conditions at his home when he returned from a hard day's work on the set that Superior Judge Gates gave him a divorce from La Runa W. Brooke, yesterday.

"The home wasn't cleaned up," said Brooke, "there was no supper ready, and when I wondered why, my wife abused me. I became a nervous wreck."

Brooke said his wife wouldn't let him rest at home after work, but insisted on "stepping out."

Park Hearing Again Delayed

Another continuance upon the final hearing on appeals against the acquisition of Victory Park, No. 2, a problem which has annoyed the City Council for years, was taken yesterday until January 5, the matter still being the subject of litigation.

JURY IN BERNARD CASE LOCKED UP FOR NIGHT

A jury of six men and six women trying Macy O. Bernard, former Police Chief of Culver City, on bribery charges, was locked up last night in a downtown hotel when they failed to reach a verdict after nearly twelve hours of deliberation.

Bernard was tried in Superior Judge Craig's court on five counts charging the asking and receiving of bribes in exchange for police protection to liquor law violators. The chief accuser was Harry A. Howard, a self-confessed liquor-law violator, who testified that he paid four $100 bribes and one of $250 for immunity in conducting a liquor still and selling liquor at his restaurant in Culver City.

The accused officer denied the accusations and asserted that Howard had been motivated by a desire to set up in business again in Culver City. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kearney prosecuted the case and Attorney Clare Woolwine and James T. Hogan defended Bernard.

CULVER CITY NAMES NEW EXECUTIVE

Telleson Chosen Mayor in Unanimous Vote at Meeting of City Council

Michael Telleson, attorney, was unanimously elected Mayor of Culver City by its City Council last night to succeed Harvey W. Kinkead, recalled in the special election of the 17th inst. Telleson was sworn in as Mayor immediately.

Elected a Councilman last April by the largest majority won by a candidate for office in Culver City's history, the new Mayor has for years been a leading figure in the politics of that city. He lives at 4022 Lincoln avenue, Culver City, and was a State's Attorney in North Dakota before coming to California.

When Kinkead was recalled on the 17th inst., Frank H. Dobson was elected a Councilman, which made him a potential candidate for Mayor. He did not run, however, Telleson being the only candidate.

Kinkead's recall followed a bitter campaign in which he was charged with incompetence and neglect of his official duties.
